A CHILD'S GAME, A PARENT'S WOE

Approximately $2,000 worth of personnal possessions by county fire department estimate were reduced to this pile of charred rubbish today when a 5-year-old boy started playing with matches in a bedroom closet of his Santa Venetia home. The fire, reported at 8:08 a.m. in the apartment of Laura Prater at 10 La Brea Way, also did approximately $8,000 damage to the apartment building, according to the county fire department. Flames spread to the bedroom and there was smoke damage throughout the apartment. These San Rafael firemen were two units that turned out to assist the county's two units.

Kosygin Attacked In Canadian Crowd

Hungarian Assailant In Custody

OTTAWA (UPI) — A man shouting "long live Hungary!" broke through police lines and attacked Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin today. He fixed an armlock around the Soviet leader's neck before being dragged off by guards, Kosygin was not hurt, but appeared shaken.

Kosygin, 67, was accompanied by Canadian Prime Mincster Pierre Elliott Trudeau when the attack occurred. Trudeau was not harmed.

UPI photographer Jean Alarie, who was so close his lip was cut in the scuffling, said the assailant "actually got his forearm around Kosygin's neck" before being dragged away by security guards.

Another man also was taken into custody in connection with the attack.

Alarie said the assailant jumped from a group of demonstrators into the crowd of newsmen around Kosygin and then leaped at Kosygin's back as he passed.

Kosygin's coat was pulled off his shoulders.

Kosygin, was surrounded by Royal Canadian Mounted Policemen and rushed into the Parliament building.

The attack on Kosygin was made despite extremely tight security measures that were taken following the discovery by police during the night of two bombs and a number of incendiary devices near the Soviet embassy.

As the assailant was taken away by police he shouted his name was Giza Matrai, the name of a Toronto man who has been active in the extreme right wing Edmund Burke Society —Canada's equivalent of the John Birch Society in the United States.

Matrai is also active in a group known as the "Hungarian Freedom Fighters," a prominent anti-Communist organization.

The assailant had long hair and appeared to be in his late 20s. He was wearing a black leather jacket. The other man picked up in connection with the attack was not identified.

As the assailant was hustled off to an office in Parliament's East Block, he kept shouting "Long live Hungary!" "Freedom for Hungary!" "Down with the Russians!"

Kosygin originally had been scheduled to leave the Parliament buildings in a limousine, but at the last moment Trudeau decided to walk with Kosygin to the East Block where the attack occurred.

The security forces protecting Kosygin had been beefed up following the discovery of the bombs by police as the Soviet leader and Trudeau began two days of wide-ranging discussions.

Top Soviet Aide In Disclosures

BRUSSELS (UPI)—A Soviet official who disappeared two weeks ago has made disclosures about the activities of Soviet citizens in Belgium and requested political asylum in the United States, a foreign ministry spokesman said today.

Anatole Chebotarev, 38, an official of the Soviet trade mission in Brussels, had been missing since Oct. 3 when the Soviet Embassy in Brussels asked Belgian police to look for him.

The blue Russian-made Scaldia automobile in which Chebotarev disappeared was found four days later near the yacht harbor of the North Sea port town of Zeebrugge, raising speculation that Chebotarev crossed the channel to Britain.

Police sources said Chebotarev was picked up at Nieuwport on the North Sea coast and taken to Britain aboard a small boat. Once in Britain, Chebotarev applied to the U.S. Embassy for political asylum, which was granted, the sources said.

"The government confirms that Chebotarev has requested political asylum in the United States," the ministry spokesman said.

"Chebotarev has made statements about the activities of Soviet citizens in Belgium. The government was informed of them.

"As in the past, the government does not admit any activity which might endanger its security and that of international organizations established on its territory," the statement said.

The reference to international organizations implied the activities might be connected with North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and Supreme Allied Command Europe (SHAPE) headquarters, established in Belgium.

The foreign office statement did not say how many alleged agents were involved. Newspaper reports have said Chebotarev gave the names of between 30 and 40 Soviet agents.

Ohta Death Suspect Trial Under Way

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI)—John Linley Frazier went on trial today for the murders of Dr. Victor Ohta and four others, just one day less than a year after the crimes.

Santa Cruz County District Attorney Peter Chang and the public defender, James A. Jackson, undertook the lengthy process of selecting jurors from a panel of 240 prospective candidates.

Guard On Rap Brown Is Doubled

NEW YORK (UPI)—The police guard was doubled Sunday at Roosevelt Hospital where black militant H. Rap Brown was recovering from gunshot wounds received in a shootout with police. A patrolman, also injured in the battle, was moved into a separate room.

Brown, who disappeared 19 months ago and was on the FBI's "most wanted" list, was wounded after a holdup in a bar early Saturday.

At least 20 detectives and patrolmen were outside Brown's recovery room Sunday compared with half that many Saturday. Other patrolmen were stationed at the hospital entrances and police with walkie-talkies patrolled the corridors.

The security precautions were taken to prevent someone from freeing Brown and to protect the injured patrolman, Gary Hunt, a policeman said.

Brown's condition was listed as "fair" today and Hunt's as "satisfactory." Another patrolman injured in the shootout, Salvatore Rosato, did not require hospitalization.

Hunt Initially was hospitalized in the same room as Brown, but was moved at the police department's request. "He's entitled to his own room," a police spokesman said.

Mayor John V. Lindsay visited Hunt Sunday and reported he "looked well and is recuperating."

Historic Two-China Talks Open In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United States today urged U.N. membership for Communist China but on the United Nations' own terms and with a seat in the General Assembly preserved for Nationalist China.

U. S. Ambassador George Bush followed Albania and Algeria as third speaker in the historic debate which is expected to change the course of U.N. history. The vote is expected in about 10 days.

Albanian Foreign Minister Nesti Nase, acting as Peking's spokesman, said the mainland government would not enter the U.N. as long as the Nationalists retain membership. He attacked the American two-China policy as an imperialist plot based on obsolete arguments.

Bush told the General Assembly he did not agree with predictions that Peking would refuse a U.N. seat if the Taiwan government were permitted to remain in the United Nations.

"Let us welcome a large and dynamic reality to our midst," Bush said. "But let us do it not on its own terms but on the U.N.'s terms.

"Let us affirm representation for the People's Republic of China but let us vigorously protect the principle that some smaller reality — in this case the Republic of China —which has abided by the charter never fear that it will be expelled to accommodate a larger reality."

No nation has ever been expelled from the U.N. Bush said to do so would set a dangerous precedent.

Bush countered the Albanian demand for expulsion of "the Chiang Kai-shek clique" with two measures. One would give Peking a seat in both the General Assembly and the Security Council, where there is a veto power.

A second measure would require a two-thirds majority vote of the assembly to expel the Taiwan government. Diplomats said the issue was in doubt that Bush has expressed optimism Albania could not muster a two-thirds majority.

Bush said the U. S. proposal would insure continued representation for Taiwan's 14 million people, bring Peking into the U.N. and give representation to all Chinese without interfering with their internal problems.

Bush said once Nationalist China was expelled its readmission under any name would be difficult because Peking could veto it. And he said if Taiwan were expelled it could mean others could fear expulsion solely because their right to govern was disliked by others.

"The United States has continued to commit grave crimes against China," Nase

Germ Warfare Lab Will Be Converted

FT. DETRICK, Md. (UPI) — President Nixon announced plans today to convert the Army's germ warfare laboratories here into a cancer research center, converting the facilities to "saving lives rather than destroying lives."

Nixon said the sprawling Army post, once one of the government's most secret bases, will be thrown open to scientists from throughout the world.

"Scientists from all over the world can share the information and help work to the end of conquering cancer," Nixon said in brief remarks to a crowd of about 1,000 persons including many of the post's employes who were excused from work for the occasion.

Audubon To Acquire Tomales Bay Land

The Audubon Canyon Ranch reported today it plans to purchase 42 acres of Tomales Bay tidelands and will acquire another nine acres as a gift sometime in the future.

According to Dr. Martin L. Griffin Jr. of Kentfield, the group plans to use the property as a center for nature and conservation education.

The gift, he said, is the nine-acre Cypress Grove property about one mile north of Marshall.

The property consists of tidelands, salt and fresh water ponds and an ancient grove of Monterey cypress trees which harbor a nesting colony of black-crowned night herons.

A cluster of Victorian cottages at the former hunting club will be used to house students and the main building will be used for classrooms, dining facilities and administrative offices.

The ranch, however, declined to give further details of the gift and purchase deals.

William S. Picher of Belvedere, treasurer for the ranch, said the gift will be left to the ranch upon the death of its owner whom he would not identify.

As part of the education center, the ranch has agreed to purchase six parcels of tideland property now owned by Edward and Oscar Johansson of Point Reyes Station.

Picher, who would not disclose the purchase price for the parcels, said the money must be raised through private donations to the ranch.

Two of the Johansson parcels adjoin the Cypress Grove property while the others are scattered along the eastern shore of the bay between Bivale and Blakes landings.

When complete, the Cypress Grove refuge and study center will extend some three miles along the water, Dr. Griffin said.

The Johansson property was formerly used for oyster growing but is being sold because the owners wish the lands to be kept as open space and as a wildlife refuge.

Adlai Seeks Law For Gun Owners

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., called Monday for legislation to require all handgun owners to obtain a federal license. He also advocated registration of all handguns.

Stevenson said his proposal was "a compromise between the extremes of those who unrealistically propose to outlaw all handguns and those on the other hand who resist any effort to control the possession and ownership of any guns."

Army Rests In Henderson Case

Ft. MEDE, Md. (UPI) —The Army completed presentation of its case today against Col. Oran K. Henderson, accused of covering up the mass slaying of unarmed South Vietnamese civilians in the village of My Lai in 1968.

The 62nd and final witness called by the prosecution was a former major, Clyde Wilson, who at the time of the massacre of more than 100 persons was an officer in a helicopter unit involved in the My Lai sweep by U. S. troops. Wilson shed little new l ght on the case.

The defense will start presenting its direct evidence next month.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Belfast Deaths

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — More British troops arrived in Northern Ireland today, part of 1,850 reinforcements ordered by Prime Minister Edward Heath's government to combat increasing violence.

Security forces in the province suffered their worst weekend in two years, an army spokesman said. Snipers' bullets killed three soldiers and wounded three policemen. Two other policemen were killed Friday.

In incidents Sunday night and today, a soldier saw a man about to throw a nail bomb at his patrol in the Roman Catholic Andersontown area of Belfast and shot him. The spokesman said. It exploded beside him. The patrol came under fire, and when it returned to the area the body was gone.

Soviet Naval Force

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Soviet naval task force, including at least one missile-firing nuclear submarine, appears to be headed toward Cuba, the Washington Post reported today.

The Post quoted informed sources that the sub — there might be two — was of the older "Echo" class capable of firing eight missiles, rather than the newer, 16-missile "Yankee" class that is similar to the American Polaris sub.

A rift in U.S.-Soviet relations was brought about last November when U.S. officials said it appeared the Russians were building a sub refueling facility at Cienfuegos Bay in Cuba.

Theater Brawl

MIAMI (UPI) — A brawl broke out Sunday in a theater showing a movie about public school desegreation and spread into the streets. Police said they were uncertain whether there was any connection between the film and the disturbance.

The movie playing at the Florida Theater on Flagler Street was "The Bus Is Coming," dealing with school desegregation and containing scenes of racial violence.

A largely young, black audience became restless when the refreshment stand in the lobby became overcrowded shortly before intermission.

Sexton Gets The Purple Heart

DENVER (UPI) — A young soldier who spent 26 months as a prisoner of the Viet Cong before walking out of the Vietnam jungles to safety was awarded the purple heart Sunday in ceremonies in his hospital room.

Sexton

Maj. Gen. James Wier, commanding general of Fitzsimons General Hospital, presented the citation to Army S. Sgt. John Sexton Jr., 23 of Warren, Mich.

Among those watching the ceremonies were Sexton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sexton Sr. of Warren.

Sexton, the 24th American to be released by the Viet Cong, suffered shrapnel wounds and a concussion Aug. 12, 1969, when his armored troop carrier was hit by a Communist rocket. He was taken prisoner at that time. Spokesmen at the Army hospital said Sexton was awarded a purple heart with a second oak leaf cluster —the equivalent of two purple hearts.

Synod Nears End

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — After more than 200 speeches on the Roman Catholic priesthood, delegates to the Third International Synod of Bishops were left with piles of background and position papers.

The task of reducing all the material to manageable-sized reports on various problems of the crisis-wracked priesthood continued today at the committee level.

Delegates are expected to complete their work by tomorrow, after coping with hundreds of studies, including one prepared by the U.S. hierarchy at a cost of $500,000 for graphs, charts, documents and texts.

When delegates are finished, Vatican sources said, it was highly unlikely they will present any recommendations to Pope Paul VI to change the existing 12th century celibacy law which took up so much debate time.

"It seems perfectly clear that there will be no change in the celibacy law," said one high ranking prelate.

Young Want Teddy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Newly enfranchised voters between the ages of 18 and 21 prefer Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. over all other potential presidential candidates, according to a Gallop Poll.

The Poll, conducted for Newsweek Magazine, showed Kennedy with a 59 per cent to 28 per cent choice of young voters over President Nixon in the 1972 election. Among all voters, however, Kennedy trailed Nixon 42 per cent to 40 per cent.

The young voters polled also preferred Sens. Hubert Humphry, D-Minn., 42 per cent to 38 per cent and Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, 48 per cent to 35 per cent over Nixon. But New York Mayor John V. Lindsay polled the same as Nixon, 40 per cent.

Trip Speculation

WAIMEA, Hawaii (UPI) — White House officials deny the route of President Nixon's trip to Communist China has been decided but speculation has arisen he may take the same one as national security adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

Kissinger is spending his 48-hour stopover on his way to Peking at a ranch house near here owned by Laurence Rockefeller.

The speculation came mainly because the number of phones and security involved were more than what could be used for what has been called a "leisurely" trip to get Kissinger and his aides accustomed to time changes.

Nixon Orders Clarification On School Lunches

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has ordered the Agriculture Department to clarify its regulations regarding school lunches, after a group of 59 senators expressed fear that new rules would deprive 1 million poor children of free lunches.

William E. Tommons, Nixon's assistant for congressional relations, revealed the President's action Sunday in a letter of response to the lawmakers.

"The President has long been committed to the achievement of a program which provides a school lunch to every needy child," Timmons said. "He has been aware of questions raised concerning the Department of Agriculture's implementation of his policy and has directed the department to immediately clarify its regulations."

The senators claimed that the department had interpreted the eligibility standards for free or reduced-price lunches as a ceiling rather than a floor and this interpretation "will serve to eliminate at least 1 million children who would otherwise be eligible under the standards established by the states."

Inmate Dies At San Quentin

A 47-year-old San Quentin inmate died today in the prison's hospital from an advanced case of pneumonia, officials reported.

Harold Rand, a native of Dallas, Tex., died at about 1:55 a.m. after a brief illness, they said.

He was serving two to 10 years for narcotics violations. He was arrested in Los Angeles County and had been at San Quentin since 1966.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at the prison.

THE CHASE IS ON — Dollar bills floating down from a nearby building were chased by some of the 100,000 baseball fans who jammed downtown Pittsburgh following the final game of the World Series. The Pirates won the game, 2-1, and the series. (UPI Telephoto)

100,000 Pack The Streets In World Series-Mad Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—About 100,000 "overenthusiastic" fans swarmed into downtown streets Sunday night, jamming traffic, causing numerous incidents of vandalism and almost ruining their own victory celebration of the Pittsburgh Pirates' World Series victory. (For more on World Series, see Sports.)

Police said windows of "between 20 and 25 stores" were broken and the displays looted, two taxicabs were overturned, one of them set afire, and bottles were smashed on the streets.

Police said 24 persons were arrested by midnight, most of them for intoxication or disorderly conduct. Only one person, a 14-year-old boy who was allegedly caught with a pair of tennis shoes, was charged with looting.

"It was hectic," said patrolman Richard Campbell, who was in charge of the police headquarters dispatchers desk through the night. "Some characters took advantage of the situation and spoiled it."

Asked if the situation was riotous, Campbell said: "No, No, I wouldn't say that. There were just some bad eggs out there. It was an overenthusiastic crowd."

At least 65 persons were reported injured but only one was hospitalized. The others were treated and released for cuts, which, police said, were mostly a result of stepping on broken glass. Others were treated for head injuries and abrasions.

At one point part of the crowd began to surge out of control, police with arms locked pushed the mob back with billy clubs weilded, but a UPI correspondent there reported he saw no evidence of officers using the clubs.

Police also said they could not confirm reports that women in the downtown area were sexually molested.

Police inspector Horace McDaniel was also asked if conditions constituted a riot. He said: "in the sense that the incidents that occurred, they had no connection with the World Series. I would say the vandalism was done for the sake of vandalism.

Campbell and other police officers in the streets said youngsters, most of them in their teens, were responsible for the vandalism

"Some of them broke windows and started taking stuff out of the windows," Campbell said. "They cleaned out the windows at a shoe store and a jewel store. There were also a lot of wallets lifted."

Water On Mars? Spacecraft To Search For It

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—America's Mariner 9 spacecraft, scheduled to go into orbit around Mars next month, should be able to determine if there is liquid water on the planet.

Only traces of water vapor have been detected on Mars by earthbound telescopes, and earlier Mariner spacecraft disclosed that the south polar cap is frozen carbon dioxide —dry ice.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) here said Mariner 9 has a spectrometer aboard that is sensitive to water vapor.

Sato Gets A Letter From Nixon

TOKYO (UPI) — California Gov. Ronald Reagan met with Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato today and gave him a personal letter from President Nixon.

The Republican governor, here on the last leg of his tour of six Asian countries, called on Sato at the prime minister's official residence this afternoon and had a "general discussion" during his one hour and 15 minute meeting with the Japanese conservative leader.

Japanese government officials said Sato and Reagan talked about U.S.-Japanese relations and the China issue, but they declined to reveal contents of their discussion.

Reagan appeared to be well on his way to recovery from a bout of fever and a stomach ailment suffered in South Korea and smiled at photographers as he posed with Premier Sato before adjourning to Sato's office.

Terra Linda Merger, Tax On Ballot

(One of a series of articles to be published this week and next outlining the issues and presenting the candidates in the local elections Nov. 2)

Terra Linda residents will go to the polls Nov. 2 to decide whether to merge the community services district and the recreation-park district and to levy a maximum combined tax rate of $1.50 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for the community's 1,525 registered voters.

Four items will be on the ballot. Besides the merger and tax questions — Measures F and G, respectively — voters will be asked to elect five persons to a reorganized services district board which would take over the park and recreation functions. Lastly, in the event either Measure F or G failed, voters will choose three persons from a four-man slate running for seats on the present services district board.

Measures F and G will require only majority votes to pass.

Running for the reorganized district board are Robert N. Bennett, Hubert F. Cooper, Vernon H. Nicholson and Richard L. Less, all incumbent services district directors, and Henry Chazankin and Harold J. Reese, a member of the recreation-park district board.

Bennett and Less also are on the ballot to return to seats on the present services district board if the proposed merger fails. They are joined by challengers Chazankin and Reese.

Except for Nicholson, who didn't respond to an Independent-Journal questionnaire and who could not be reached by telephone, all the candidates said they favor the merger.

No formal opposition to the plan appeared on voter information sheets.

The proposed merger has deep overtones. Although originally opposed to the change, first proposed by the recreation-park board, the services district board changed its mind after San Rafael officials appeared before the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission earlier this year to request postponement of LAFC endorsement of a merger vote. The city officials said they wished to renew discussions with Terra Linda officials toward annexation of the 1,000-home unincorporated community.

During a subsequent meeting on annexation, Terra Linda officials made it clear they resented the interference of San Rafael in community matters. A merger vote ultimately was endorsed by the LAFC in May, and talk of annexation has died out.

Under a merger, the reorganized district would be empowered to levy a tax rate ($1.50) that is 16.5 cents higher than now imposed in the separate community services and recreation-park districts. A levy of 84.5 cents now is imposed in the community services district; 49 cents in the recreation-park district. Added to whatever the new agency imposed would be a 14.5-cent levy for bond redemption incurred by the recreation-park district.

Candidates reached by the I-J endorsed the merger for reasons of efficiency and economy.

Bennett, 33, of 648 Woodbine Drive, an employee benefit consultant for Bankers Life Nebraska, also believed the merged district "would be easier to understand for people in the community and easier for board members to get support from community members."

Bennett, like Nicholson, serves on the recreation-park district board as well as the community services agency.

While given increased taxing powers, there is no reason to believe the reorganized district would levy the full $1.50, Bennett added.

Chazankin, 31, of 623 Wakerobin Lane, pharmaceutical representative for Merck, Sharp and Dohme, said, "It's something that's been needed for a long time, primarily from a financial standpoint." Through combining functions, he hoped for considerable savings in operating costs.

Reese, 43, of 736 Penny Royal Lane, credit manager for Cokkledick-Kibbe, Oakland glazing contractors and glass distributors, said, "Everyone I've talked to is in favor of it. It would cut down on the number of agencies and whenever you do that, you get a little more efficiency in operations."

Less, 43, of 683 Las Colindas Road, owner of Northgate Drugs, said he didn't think the current recreation-park district agency had been "horribly responsive" to community needs. "An awful lot of (of time) has to be spent on maintenance of the area," he added. "I'd like to see some attention paid to that."

Cooper 54, of 606 Las Colindas Road, an engineer with the state Division of Highways, saw a merger solving the problem of "two boards pulling against each other."

Nicholson, the candidate who could not be reached, is a retired laboratory technician with Standard Oil. He lives at 563 Las Colindas Road.

A candidates' night tentatively has been set for Oct. 27 at the community center.

Muir Beach Fire Protection Due Vote

(One of a series of articles to be published this week and next by the Independent-Journal, outlining the issues and presenting the candidates in the local elections Nov. 2.)

The seven-member Bello Beach Volunteer Fire Department, which provides "holding action" fire protection in Muir Beach, will be replaced by the Muir Beach Community Services District if district voters approve Measure E on the Nov. 2 ballot.

Trucks from the Marin County Fire Department's Throckmorton Ridge Station would continue to supply most protection if the measure passes, but the services district would take over the responsibility of fighting fires during the first critical minutes until the county department's arrival.

According to Bruce E. Harlow, chairman of the services district, approval of Measure E will not raise the district's tax rate, which now stands at $1.02 per $100 assessed valuation.

It takes county trucks about 20 minutes to reach the small coastal community after a fire is reported, and Harlow said the first five to 10 minutes of a fire are the most crucial.

All personnel of the Bello Beach department, including Chief Ernest E. Emig, are volunteers. The department's only piece of equipment is a 1952 100-gallon pumper donated earlier this year by the county fire department.

Occasionally, Harlow said, volunteers have no one to man the telephone and a report of a fire could be missed at such a time. Takeover by the services district would guarantee 24-hour manning, he said.

If Measure E is approved, Harlow said he hopes the Bello Beach department will agree to turn the truck over to the services district.

Another reason for the proposed changeover was advanced by volunteer Joseph F. Rodriques. "We (volunteers) are all old men," said the 72-year-old rancher. "We need some young faces."

Chief Emig was on vacation and could not be reached to comment on whether the volunteers would turn over the truck to the services district.

County Fire Chief Richard D. Pedroli has promised to train two men who could then train other Muir Beach residents to fight fires if the measure is approved.

Harlow envisions a system under which a services district employee takes charge of the truck during the day and a resident who works days takes over at night and on weekends. Other trained volunteers would be on call and occasional drills would be held.

The only expenditure to the district would be in maintaining the truck and in a telephone alert system that would be connected to a siren to notify volunteers of a fire, according to Harlow.

No argument for or against the measure will appear on the ballot because, as services district director Mary O. Mosteller said, "Everyone in Muir Beach is aware of the fire danger."

Harlow said he is unaware of any opposition to the ballot proposal. There are 81 registered voters in the community, and the polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

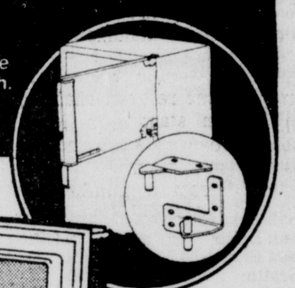
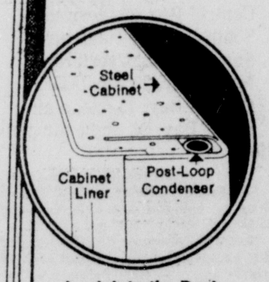
F GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Look once. You'll see good looks and styling and convenience. Look closer. You'll see extras like the ones below. They mean quality. All the way through. Take a closer look. See the differences that make Frigidaire Appliances worth the difference.



5-Year Nationwide Protection Plan

Look into the Reversa-door hinge. It lets you open both doors from the left or right. And you can make the switch yourself, easily, in about 30 minutes.



Look into the Post Loop Condenser. It's a little channel where refrigerant from the "warm" side of the compressor cycle circulates to keep the cabinet dry and condensation-free.

Look into the Frigidaire 5-Year Nationwide Protection Plan. Backed by General Motors. 1-year warranty for repair of any defect in the entire product plus a 4-year Protection Plan for repair of any defect in the refrigerating system (compressor body assembly, receiver-condenser, refrigerating or cooling coils and interconnecting tubing) and ABS liner on models so equipped.

This Frigidaire Refrigerator Has All the Other Features You'd Expect, too

• More room. 17.0 cu. ft. overall with a 4.75 cu. ft. freezer rated to store up to 166 lbs. • Door Storage. Two removable egg servers, separate compartments for Spreads and Cheese 'n Snacks. • Rollers. Easy to move, easy to clean behind or beneath. • Frost-Proof. You'll never defrost.

Sausalito Dishwasher Is Stabbed

A 24-year-old Sausalito dishwasher, walking on Bridgeway last night, was stabbed by a man who came up to him, struck and then walked on, Sausalito police reported.

Ronald J. Sykes, of 1050 Bridgeway, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with an abdominal wound.

Police today were seeking his assailant, described as a white male, about 5 feet, 3 inches tall and 115 pounds, with sandy brown hair and a white mustache.

Officers said Sykes told them he was walking south on Bridgeway near Princess Street about 6:40 p.m. when he saw the man walking toward him in the opposite direction, in the company of a woman and a dog.

Sykes told police the man approached him, said he did not like him (Sykes), then pulled a black-handled pocket knife from his pants pocket and thrust it into his abdomen. The victim said the man then extracted the knife and continued walking north. Police could not say whether Sykes was acquainted with his assailant.

According to Sykes, he exchanged no words with the man, except to tell him he "must be crazy" following the stabbing. Sykes is employed as a dishwasher for J.P.'s Restaurant, 621 Bridgeway.

said. For years, he said, the United States has tried to encircle the People's Republic of China by a string of military bases and to strangle it economically.

In spite of this policy, Nase said, Communist China has developed into a "powerful, prosperous socialist state."

The issue of Nationalist China's ouster was considered a tossup as the great debate began.

The issue is expected to be decided by 10 or 12 nations which have not yet decided which way to vote. U.S. Ambassador George C. Bush was using both persuasion and parliamentary maneuvering to foster the U.S. Two China policy keeping both Chinas in the U.N.

Reading Test Report Is Due

A report on reading tests will be given the Novato Unified School District board when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the lecture hall at Novato High School.

The report will give results of tests given kindergarten through 12th grade children.

Other items on the agenda include discussion of endorsing the Marin Community College District $16.7 million bond issue and the north Marin County water district's $1.5 million bond issue, both on the Nov. 2 ballot.

Career Education Plan To Be Studied

The Marin County Board of Education, meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the district office in Corte Madera, will review the status of the Marin Career Education Program.

The year-old program offers vocational training in a wide range of fields from auto mechanics to food service and is open to anyone who meets qualifications based on need.

Teacher Bargaining Unit To Be Studied

Recognition of the Sausalito District Teachers Association as the bargaining and negotiating representative of credentialed employees in the district will be considered by the Sausalito School District board at 7:30 p.m. today in the district office.

The board also will consider hiring an educational aide.

One-Way Street Date On Agenda

The San Rafael City Council tonight will consider whether to put the one-way traffic into effect on four downtown streets before the Christmas shopping season or after.

The council will meet at 8 p.m. in city hall.

City Manager James H. McCown said plans to make A, B, C and D streets one-way may have to be held up because of traffic problems resulting if the San Rafael Sanitation District's sewer project blocks off one of the roads.

He explained that the sewer project running along Second and Third streets might block off one of the four streets and that would mean a motorist would have to detour two streets over instead of one street.

McCown said the council will also consider setting up a committee to work out a price agreement to buy the Courthouse property from Marin County.

The council is expected to hear a complaint by Russell Amos, 1415 Nye Street, that the recent grading for Boyd Hillside park has been detrimental to the privacy of his property, McCown said.

Two Contracts Before Board

The superintendent and assistant superintendent of the Tamalpais High School District apparently will receive no salary increase this year.

The district board, meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Redwood High School faculty lounge in Larkspur, will consider renewing their contracts for another three years and one year respectively. The contracts show no increase over their present salaries.

Supt. Wilber D. Hawkins earns $30,000 annually and his assistant, Robert D. Torrey earns $26,000.

On other matters, the board will continue discussion of student representation on the board, the $346,848 student center construction project at Tamalpais High School and a book selection policy, among other items.

Sewer Project To Be Studied

The Petaluma City Council will hear a preliminary report on financing a sewer plant enlargement project at its meeting today at 7:30 p.m.

The council has said it will consider putting a bond issue before voters in January to finance the project.

The council also will hear a report on the status of acquiring additional land for spoils in connection with planned spring dredging of the Petaluma River and will consider awarding a bid for the purchase of a new ambulance.

BROWN

were arrested with Brown and ordered held in $150,000 bail after arraignment on charges in connection with the holdup. They were identified as Levi Ballentine, 24, Arthur Young, 25, and Sam Petty, 23. The four men apparently had spent some time in St. Louis, Mo., before coming to New York, police said.

Brown was the former head of the Student National Coordinating Committee (SNCC). Police had sought him since March, 1970, when he failed to appear for trial in Maryland on charges of conspiracy to incite riot and arson.

Santa Rosa Man Found Dead In Rohnert Park

A 64-year-old Santa Rosa man was found dead in his car near Rohnert Park Saturday at 12:45 p.m.

Pronounced dead at the scene was Henry Joseph Briand, 485 El Capitan Way, Santa Rosa. The Sonoma County Coroner's office said Rohnert Park police found the car parked on Petaluma Hill Road, north of East Cotati Avenue.

Police reported a hose had been attached to the Muffler and placed through the vent window on the left side of the car. The coroner's office said Briand has reportedly been despondent over ill health.

He is survived by a daughter, Denise Sweeney of Santa Rosa, and a son, Arthur Briand of San Francisco.

Bridge Leaper Is Identified

A woman who apparently leaped to her death from the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday has been identified by the San Francisco coroner's office as Dolores Golightly West, 43, of 50 Via La Paz, Greenbrae.

The California Highway Patrol said witnesses reported she jumped from the east side of the bridge at about 11:25 a.m. and fell to the water near the north tower of the bridge. Her body was recovered by a fisherman and turned over to the Coast Guard at Fort Point, San Francisco.

Officers said her car and a note indicating suicidal intent were found parked at Vista Point near the north end of the bridge. Funeral arrangements were pending today.

Planning Panel Due Discussion

The Rohnert Park City Council will consider forming a planning commission at its meeting today at 7 p.m.

Homeowner groups and the newly formed Citizens for a Planned Community have urged the council to delegate planning matters to a separate commission so more time can be devoted to planning.

The council also will hear a request to rezone 16 acres of agricultural land at the northeast corner of Commerce Boulevard and the Rohnert Park Expressway to enable a shoping center.

First Aid Taught By Red Cross

The Marin County chapter of the American Red Cross will conduct a six-week course in standard first aid beginning at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the San Rafael High School cafeteria.

The course will be taught by Ben Parsons, a volunteer instructor. Information may be obtained at the Red Cross office, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

White Panther Plea For Permit Before Council

The White Panther Party's application for a home occupation permit will come before the Corte Madera Town Council tonight at 7:30 o'clock at town hall.

Their first request for a permit to continue operation of the "Food Conspiracy" was turned down in June by the council which requested additional information.

With the aid of an attorney, the group has re-applied for a permit to continue food distribution operations at 122 Willow Avenue — a residential neighborhood.

The council turned down the last request saying the group's activity — bulk purchase of food from farmers and wholesalers and then reselling it at cost — is not fitting in a residential neighborhood.

Adjourned Session Tomorrow Night

The Novato City Council will hold an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House to hear a report on the preliminary county master plan, and on the fiscal status of the city.

The items, and others, are left over from last week's lengthy regular meeting.

Closed Session

The Marin County Housing Authority board will meet in closed session in a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the housing authority office in Marin City to discuss pending litigation, according to Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director of the authority.

THE MORNING AFTER

Border Fighting Kills 29 N. Viets

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese paratroopers with U.S. artillery support killed 29 North Vietnamese Army (NVA) troops today in a sharp clash along the Cambodian border, the Saigon command said.

Seven government soldiers were killed and 20 wounded in the battle, three miles north of U.S. Fire Base Pace, a frequent target of Communist shellings in the past three weeks.

Pace, where 200 Americans and 700 South Vietnamese are based, took another eight rounds of 82MM mortar fire today, despite two American B52 bomber strikes Sunday and two more today within 1.5 miles of the base, 400 yards from the Cambodia border. In the bomber raids today, the B52s dropped 180 tons of explosives on Communist bunkers, the command said.

The U.S. command announced today that the American expeditionary force was reduced by another 4,000 men last week, bringing to 206,000 the number of troops remaining in South Vietnam.

This was the fewest since January, 1966, when there were 196,000 troops and it included only 20 ground combat battalions, compared to a high of 112 in April, 1969, when the American pullback began.

In a delayed report issued today, the Saigon command said two South Vietnamese Army (ARVN) infantry reconnaissance companies supported by artillery and tactical air strikes battled an estimated 500 Communist guerrillas Saturday, seven miles from Phu Giao district town, 33 miles north of Saigon.

ARVN troops, numbering about 320, killed 29 Communists while sustaining 17 of their own killed and 15 wounded. A battalion of South Vietnamese reinforcements joined the battle later in the day.

It was the first battalion-sized operation fought in the five-province area immediately surrounding the capital in 3 1-2 years, military spokesmen said.

ADA Raps O'Brien's Backing Mrs. Harris

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Americans for Democratic Action has attacked Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien for his backing of Patricia Harris as temporary credentials chairman during the recent national committee meeting.

The ADA said O'Brien helped sow "a harvest of discord and disunity" by backing Mrs. Harris instead of Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa. It said Hughes was better equipped to pursue reforms that would make the Party really democratic, but O'Brien followed the "politics of re-electing Richard Nixon instead of defeating him."

We're Ready To Do Our Part For Economy, Top Banker Says

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The president of the American Bankers Association says his industry is ready to "do its part as much as anyone else" to control inflation, including acceptance of interest rate, dividend, and wage controls.

"Our No. 1 problem is inflation," said Clifford Sommer, board chairman of Security Bank and Trust Co. in Owatonna, Minn. "Without putting specific time limits on it, the banking industry is willing to do its part as much as anyone else for whatever time it takes to get inflation under control. And inflation isn't easy to control."

Sommer spoke Sunday at a news conference at the second day of the 97th annual ABA convention which has drawn a record 14,421 registrants to the five-day gathering.

Sunday was devoted to committee meetings by various association divisions. Today's schedule was general meetings of the state bank, trust, and marketing-savings divisions and an afternoon national bank division meeting being addressed by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

At his news conference, Sommer was asked about the banking industry's reaction to Phase II of President Nixon's new economic program and whether interest rates soon would drop. 4

"I can't say what the future will bring, but I believe the banking industry as a whole followed the request of the President not to raise interest rates," Sommer said.

He indicated bankers would continue to cooperate with interest rate, wage and dividend controls even if they continued into 1973.

But Sommer said although he supported Phase II as it was outlined in general terms, he and other bankers would not commit themselves until specific legislative proposals were made.

The ABA president said he thought public acceptance of the wage-price freeze underscored "a new mood" he had noticed in the country over the past year.

"I think we're going to solve the problem and the public is going to support the program as it's supported our military crises of recent years," Sommer said.

A friend of ours recently spent the evening up on Broadway, instead of driving all the way to San Rafael where we are. It cost him $3.00 for parking, $51.87 for dinner, $48.50 for drinks, tips, and cover charge at a topless night club, and $75,000 plus his lawyer's fee of $3,500 for his subsequent divorce. Dominic's isn't cheap, but considering the atmosphere, superb food, and the possible savings, we're certainly worth a fifteen minute drive.

There is nothing more cheerful to wear or to look at than gingham. And these days gingham is an in fabric to wear and to decorate with. Gingham curtains, for example, look informal and cheerful. What could be happier, for instance, than a sunny room decorated with tiny yellow checks? But if you are sewing on gingham, remember to take precautions so that the checks match. Cheerful and charming as gingham can be, there is nothing more confusing to the eye than a garment in which one side does not match the other!

If patterns and sewing instructions confuse you you'll find the sewing lessons at FABRIC LAND, 836 4th Street invaluable. Join us at any time — we have many different kinds of classes. Hours: Mon-Tues-Thurs-Sat 9:30 AM - 5:30 PM, Wed-Fri 9:30 AM - 9 PM, Sun Noon - 5 PM.

HELPFUL HINT:
Gingham is also a very simple material to care for. Cotton, or cotton-polyester requires washing but very little ironing.

A SULLIVAN SUCCESS STORY!

Leon Cofferata is a Sullivan Success story! Here's what Leon's mother said after her son had been enrolled in the Sullivan Program for just two weeks. "Leon had reading problems for two years. He repeated the first grade, and we were afraid he would have to repeat it again. We were desperate when we came to the Sullivan Reading Center. We had tried other sources of help with no success. Within ten days after enrolling Leon in the Sullivan Program, there was a change in Leon. For the first time he wanted to read! I don't think there is a child who can't learn from the Sullivan System. It's worked a miracle in my family!"

If your child needs improvement in Reading and Math we can help him too.

The Reading Program:

At Sullivan your child will learn to read or improve his present reading level through linguistic progression. He will find the organized, involving aspects of the program offer him an opportunity for success he may not have previously enjoyed.

The Math Program:

Our Math Program is self-motivating. Once a child is placed in the program he is presented with problems that gradually increase in complexity, leading him step-by-step to a thorough grasp of concepts. Ask your child's teacher about our proven Sullivan materials.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Eleanor Green Opens Store; Women Plan Christmas Outlet

A new women's store opened at Town and Country Village in Strawberry is the Eleanor Green Dresscotheque.

Owner Eleanor Green of San Francisco, who retired after many years in the dress manufacturing business, recently started a new line of dress shops based on her past experience. The first of these was opened in San Francisco and then moved to Palo Alto. The Strawberry shop is her second.

Mrs. Green sells her own designs exclusively — either in the form of patterns and material, with the dressmaking to be done at home, or with the garments custom-made for the buyer.

PLANNING AN EARLY ENTRY in the holiday trade are two Marin housewives, who will open The Christmas Place Handmade Gifts at 943-A Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, on Nov. 1.

Mrs. Susan Kuffel of Lucas Valley and Mrs. Alice Anderson of Mill Valley have already accumulated a wide range of handmade articles from other housewives on consignment. Additional items will be accepted at the shop beginning next Monday, Oct. 25.

Store hours will be from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays up to Thanksgiving. After Thanksgiving until Dec. 24, when it will close, the store will be open seven days a week.

Brandon

Sheppard

THE FIRST MARIN SERIES of lessons in oil painting will be given at the Barn in the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, by Warren Brandon of 2441 Balboa Street, San Francisco, beginning Oct. 28.

Six lessons on Thursdays from 9 to 11:30 a.m. will be given. Registration should be by letter or through his studio answering service in San Francisco.

Brandon's paintings have been listed in Prize Winning Oil Paintings. They have been shown in Canada, Australia, and on a number of occasions in San Francisco and at California state fairs.

ROSS PORTRAIT PAINTER George W. Sheppard will also conduct classes in portraiture at the Art and Garden Center beginning tomorrow. Classes will be held Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. All work will be done from models with special attention to the needs of each student.

A commercial artist for 35 years, Sheppard has had his portraits on display at several Marin locations.

E. C. (GENE) YOUNG has extended his Lights of Rafael, Inc., business from San Rafael to Santa Rosa, where he has opened a new branch store at 1593 Cleveland Avenue, south of Coddingtown Shopping Center. Ronald Loewen is in charge.

RAFAEL FLOOR COVERING, INC., of San Rafael has opened an Armstrong Floor Fashion Center at its store at 122 Jacoby Street.

Staff members have attended Armstrong seminars and are prepared to answer questions and render free decorating service.

AWARDS: Donald C. Perry of the Sunnyside Nursery in San Anselmo has received honorable mention from the American Association of Nurserymen, Inc. for his entries (composed by him) on effective advertising and also for his ads appearing in the Independent-Journal. . . Tad Singer, designer at Katherine Eubanks Floral Decorator in Larkspur, has been named winner of Florist Magazine's design of the month contest for November. He will receive $50 and a color photograph of his floral design will appear in the November issue of this floral industry journal.

NEW VOLVO 144 SEDAN

For 1972, Volvo is offering a computer-controlled electronic fuel-injection engine in all three models of its 140 series, including this 144 four-door sedan. Controls have been relocated and automatic transmission is by stick shift from a centrally located floor console. Cars are now on display at Annex Motors, San Rafael.

Dead Center For Markets' Early Hours

NEW YORK (UPI) —Stocks were mixed in quiet trading after about two hours today.

Traders generally appeared to be waiting for some hard news that would get the market off dead center. selective issues were responding to quarterly earnings statements, but for the most part price swings were in fractions and without definite directions.

The day's most active issues also traded nearrowly and on both sides of previous closing levels.

Massey-Ferguson was an early feature. It traded a block of 107,300 shares at 10, down 12. Other stocks on the active list included Brockway Glass up 1-8, Aetna Life & Casualty 3-8 higher, and American Telephone up 1-4.

Prices also followed a mixed path on the American Stock Exchange. Advances edged declines, 311 to 296.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Missouri Services Good Stock; Earning Power Should Increase

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Some years ago I bought 100 shares of Missouri Public Service at about its present price. Company operates under a large burden of indebtedness, borrowing at high rates. Should I sell? — D.B.

A. No. Interest expenses for Missouri Public Service (NYSE) averaged a moderate 5.1 per cent on long-term debt as of June 30, 1971. Although at $91 million, long-term debt may appear large, it is not out of line with operating revenues or net property. In fact when taken as a per cent of these figures, debt is average for the industry.

Rate increases, which could add as much as 50 cents a share to earnings, were requested in July. However, if approved, increases would be delayed until the freeze is lifted.

Despite a small gain in first-half revenues, earnings were down seven cents to 75 cents a share — most of the decline occurred in the first quarter. Commercial development of a $200 million international airport in Missouri's service area should spur growth. Earnings should also benefit from a more efficient new 400,000 kw. generator.

In the last decade a one per cent stock dividend has been distributed semi-annually, which would add 21 shares to your 100. Retention of these shares is advised on the basis of the 4.7 per cent cash yield and two per cent stock dividend.

Q. We hold shares in a mutual fund. The fourth quarter dividend is due in November. We are retired and depend on these distributions to supplement our income. Will the President's freeze restrict this payment? — E.E.

A. A mutual fund is a regulated investment company and in order to retain its tax-exempt status, the fund must distribute at least 90 per cent of earnings to shareholders. Thus income dividends apparently will not be subject to the freeze.

Capital gains distributions are not technically classified as dividends and for that reason do not come under the aegis o the Cost of Living Council.

Real Estate Confab Is This Week

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Nearly 500 delegates representing most of the nation's real estate investment trusts are expected in San Francisco Oct. 21-22 at the 11th annual conference of the National Association of Real Estate Investment Funds.

Highlight of the gathering will be a day-long seminar on Oct. 22, where industry spokesmen, securities analysts and investment bankers will discuss the recent expansion and future prospects of publicly held real estate trusts.

Delegates will consider a variety of industry matters, ranging from accounting procedures to innovations in real estate investment at closed sessions Oct. 21. Individuals outside the industry may register with NAREIF to attend the Oct. 22 program.

Ex-U.S. School Aide Dies In Plane Wreck

PEACH SPRINGS, Ariz. (UPI) —A sheriff's posse slowly made its way today to an almost inaccessible desert plateau where 10 persons, including former U.S. Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., died in the crash of a sightseeing plane.

The twin-engine Cessna 402 of Scenic Airlines of Las Vegas, Nev., a small line specializing in charters and tourist trips to the Grand Canyon, smashed into the side of the plateau in desolute northwestern Arizona Saturday during a wintry storm.

The wreckage was found Sunday morning by one of 15 search planes of the Civil Air Patrol and the Air Force criss-crossing the desert and mountains of southern Nevada and northern Arizona for the missing aircraft.

Scenic Airlines President John Siebold confirmed that Allen and his wife were aboard the plane, which was on a trip to the Grand Canyon when it crashed. First word of Allen's death came from Princeton University, where Allen was a visiting lecturer.

Another couple aboard the craft was identified as Mr. and Mrs. R. Lynch of Chicago. The pilot was Wayne Leeth, 44, Las Vegas, a veteran who had flown the Las Vegas-Grand Canyon route about 600 times.

Scenic said the five other victims were foreign tourists and their names could not be released until the bodies were recovered. The airline did say three were Germans and two were French.

Allen, a controversial educator, was asked to resign as education commissioner 18 months after his appointment by President Nixon. Allen maintained he was dismissed because he angered the administration with his outspoken opposition to U.S. involvement in Indochina and his advocacy of busing to implement school integration.

The Air Rescue Squadron from Hamilton AFB, Calif., said its helicopters could not land at the forbidding crash scene and a ground party from Las Vegas had to turn back because of cold, rain and snow.

Investigators said the cause of the crash apparently was icing of the plane's wings in the storm that drove the pilot to abandon the flight to the Grand Canyon and try to return to his Las Vegas base.

LBJ Memoirs Record War Views

NEW YORK (UPI) —Former President Lyndon B. Johnson in a book on his presidency says he was well prepared for and was able to crush the Tet offensive in 1968, but antiwar congressmen and members of the press were duped into thinking it was a psychological victory for the Communists, The New York Times said Sunday.

Johnson also said the Paris peace talks almost broke off shortly after they began because several supporters of Richard M. Nixon, apparently without Nixon's knowledge, tried to persuade South Vietnamese leaders not to go along with Johnson's proposed bombing halt in 1968.

The Times printed two stories in its Sunday editions about Johnson's soon to be published book, "The Vantage Point: Perspectives of the Presidency, 1963-1969." One detailed the contents of the entire book while the other was an excerpt from the book.

The excerpt dealt with Johnson's becoming president following the assassination of John F. Kennedy. The Times will publish a series of excerpts from the book.

In the article on the book, Johnson said he knew the TET offensive was coming and that he needed to crush it before Hanoi would enter peace negotiations. He said it was a major victory and not a psychological defeat as some have viewed it.

Johnson did not name the Nixon supporters who talked with Vietnamese leaders but previous reports have mentioned Mrs. Anna Chan Chennault, the Chinese-born widow of Lt. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, World War II Flying Tiger leader.

Saigon leaders were more receptive to talk of delaying the bombing halt, Johnson said, because they were confused by a dovish speech made by former Vice President Hubert Humphrey at Salt Lake City Sept. 30, 1968. Johnson said the results of the speech may have delayed progress in Paris and cost Humphrey the presidency.

Johnson called the Kennedy administration's role in the overthrow of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem a "serious blunder" which became a principal factor in his later commitment of ground troops in Indochina.

Johnson, who took credit for the Vietnamization policy which Nixon has used since becoming president, said he left office with a strong military and political situation in Saigon.

The Times said Johnson covered a wide range of subjects in his book and especially was proud of his record on domestic problems.

Other subjects in the book, according to The Times:

—Johnson got along well with John Kennedy but was not on close terms with the late president's brother, Robert Kennedy.

—Johnson had decided not to seek the presidency on his own in 1964 and was convinced to do so by his wife only on the day after the Democratic convention opened.

—He prevented a Communist takeover in the Dominican Republic in the spring of 1965 by sending in U.S. troops.

—He faced down the Soviet Union during the six-day Mideast War of 1967 by sending the Sixth Fleet to within 50 miles of the Syrian coast while Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin threatenedN;military intervention.

In the excerpt describing the day of the assassination, Johnson said Kennedy was in a jubilant mood that morning and was excited about the reception he had received in Texas.

Johnson said the last words Kennedy spoke to him before starting out in the Dallas motorcade were, "We're going to carry two states next year if we don't carry any others: Massachusetts and Texas."

"Oh, we are going to do better than that, Mr. President'" Johnson replied.

Johnson then described the confusion of the events that followed, his concern for Jacqueline Kennedy and the awesome responsibility of taking the reigns of government in a time of crisis.

"It was at that moment (when he entered Air Force One for the flight to Washington) that I realized nothing would ever be the same again," Johnson wrote.

Special Session On Novato Plan

The Novato Planning Commission and Novato City Council will hold a special joint meeting at 7:15 p.m. today in the Novato Community House to discuss revision of the city's master plan.

Then at 8 p.m., the commission will complete the agenda of its adjourned meeting of last Monday.

Items to be considered include plans for the addition of 200 sites to the Marin Valley Mobile Country Club, south of Hamilton Air Force Base, a 37-acre development in the Oaks subdivision and a 180-unit apartment project on Marin Valley Drive.

Pediatrist Puts The Rap On 'Educational' Devices

CHICAGO (UPI) —Parents waste their money buying scientifically designed crib devices and educational toys to speed the development of their infant children, a noted pediatrician said Sunday.

Dr. Richard I Feinbloom, professor of pediatrics at Harvard Medical School, told members of the American Academy of Pediatrics that toy manufacturers have siezed upon unfounded opinions and incomplete research to create and market educational toys for infants.

Parents are told they should equip their baby's crib with mirrors, live fish tanks, gravity floats, mobiles, finger tracking modules and other paraphernalia, Feinbloom said, none of which are any more effective than plastic rattles, rubber balls and other objects parents traditionally have used to keep junior quiet.

"I have searched for empirical evidence to support the claims of manufacturers and have found none," Feinbloom said. "I find it difficult to believe that this lack of evidence merely reflects studies not yet done. I do not see how these toys or environments can accelerate development even if this were desirable."

Middle income families, the chief target for educational toys, normally offer the necessary supportive environment for an infant's self-initiated explorations, Feinbloom said.

Rabbi Ousted In Zoning Law

TEL AVIV (UPI)—Avraham Fishman recently was arrested for "maliciously interfering with the worship of God."

Police said that each time a rabbi living in the apartment below held services there, Fishman lowered a radio blaring Arabic music to the rabbi's apartment window to stifle the sound.

A court agreed with Fishman this weekend that converting a residence into a synagogue violated zoning laws. Fishman was cleared and the rabbi is looking for somewhere else to hold services.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Is An Opponent's Play Normal — Or Is It Only A Falsecard?

Is an opponent's play normal, or is it a falsecard? In the ordinary game you should make the minimum number of assumptions. If the play is normal, you make only one assumption. If it is a falsecard, you assume that the opponent had the cards that made the deception possible and also that he was crafty enough to think of the falsecard and alert enough to make it without a telltale hesitation. In short, when in doubt, believe an opponent.

SEMIFINALS HAND

West opened the ace of hearts when today's hand was played a few weeks ago in the semifinals of a playoff to pick the United States team for the 1972 Bridge Olympics. West then shifted to the jack of clubs.

Declarer, Los Angeles stockbroker Don Krauss, prudently put on dummy's ace of clubs. He then tried to cash two high diamonds but had to overruff when East ruffed the second with the deuce of spades.

South next led the ace of trumps, on which East casually dropped the nine. Now the slam and the match depended on whether or not Krauss trusted this play.

TWO POSSIBILITIES

If East had started with only two trumps, South could make the slam only by ruffing a heart in dummy and then discarding a heart and a club on good diamonds. But if East had started with three trumps, the winning play was to lead a trump to dummy's ten and then discard three losers on good diamonds.

The simple assumption was that East had started with only the nine-two of spades. But Krauss felt sure that Peter Weichsel, the young New York expert who held the East cards, was unquestionably both alert and crafty enough for the falsecard. The only question, therefore, was one of probability.

Since the opponent with only one diamond was unlikely to be short in trumps as well, Krauss decided to lead a low trump to dummy's ten. He was right, and the slam came home.

That's one reason why Krauss' team, rather than Weichsel's, will be playing this weekend in the finals of the playoff.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ - A K Q J 8 7
♡ - K J 8 3
♣ - 8 3.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade, using standard American bidding methods.

The hand is not quite strong enough for a jump response. Some expert partnerships believe in lighter jump responses; and when this hand was actually held, Don Krauss jumped to two spades opposite an opening bid of one diamond by Lew Mathe.

Boas Urges Aqueduct Rejection

Democratic congressional candidate Roger Boas today urged Marin voters to turn down Measure B, the Marin-Sonoma Aqueduct proposal, on the Nov. 2 ballot.

Boas said the proposal by Marin Municipal Water District to "import enormous amounts of excess water would stimulate increased residential construction and encourage unwanted population growth in Marin County."

Boas, a San Francisco supervisor who owns a home at Stinson Beach, said the estimated $110 million "blank check" measure would result in "drastically increased water bills or property taxes."

He said in a press statement that a recent sutdy by the Association of Bay Area Governments showed that the capacity of the aqueduct would "greatly exceed the latest projected population figures." Boas noted that the ABAG study recommended revisions in population projections before the aqueduct is begun.

The supervisor, seeking his party's nomination in next year's primary in the Sixth District, said, "We should be very careful about taking any step that would contribute to haphazard growth."

Windows Broken

Two windows valued at $250 were smashed yesterday at Antler's Pharmacy, 98 Western Avenue, Petaluma. Police said it appeared the windows had been kicked in.

Melina Scores Agnew's Visit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Actress Melina Mercouri scored Vice President Spiro Agnew's trip to Greece during the weekend and charged him with being "the vice president of the united juntas of the world."

Agnew visited Greece Saturday. It was the first time he had been in the land of his Greek immigrant father.

The 45-year-old Greek actress, who is an outspoken critic of the Greek military regime, said of Agnew: "It is more than a fault for him to visit the dictator. It is stupidness.

"But I am not surprised, for we have always known that he is not the vice president of the United States but the vice president of the united juntas of the world."

Tools Taken

An Indian Halloween Will Be Celebrated

The Ali Akbar College of Music in San Rafael will present a benefit concert, called a Halloween-Kali Puja celebration, at 8 p.m. Oct. 31 at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building in the Civic Center.

Ali Akbar Khan, Indian composer, performer and teacher, will begin the program with a solo invocation on the ancient deep-sounding sarode. He then will join jazz saxophonist John Handy and Shankar Ghosh on the tabla drums.

Also featured will be a performance by Shanti, a new rock group featuring two Indian musicians and four American rock artists.

There will be a premiere of "Serpent," a new short film by experimental film maker Scott Bartlett.

The performance will be an Indian version of the "purging of the dark spirits and raising of the life forces," comparable to a western Halloween.

Larkspur Resident Seeks Pier Permit

Charles J. Hendrickson of 555 Larkspur Plaza, Larkspur, has applied for an Army permit to construct a pier, ramp and floating dock on Corte Madera Creek at the Larkspur Plaza address.

Objections to the construction may be submitted in writing, in triplicate, to the Army Engineer District, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco 94102.

Art Center Is Given Extension

The Sausalito School District board has voted to extend the Sausalito Art Center's occupancy of the old Bayside School property to Nov. 8, according to Trustee Jerry L. Whitcomb.

He said the board, in a special meeting Thursday, acted to allow more time for the district and Sausalito Arts Association to negotiate a lease on the building.

The board ordered the art center evicted from the old school facility in August, then reversed itself and called for lease negotiations between the two groups.

Sonic Booms Are Possible

Marin County and the rest of the Bay Area may experience sonic booms Tuesday night or early Wednesday when the Air Force conducts another of its special exercises.

Planes from the Strategic Air Command will make mock attacks on cities in Western Canada and in the United States as far east as Colorado. Planes from the North American Air Defense Command will try to intercept them, sometimes at supersonic speeds.

Planes from the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base may or may not participate in the exercise, depending on where the SAC planes attack, base officials said.

Marin Rights Unit Will Protest Cuts

New welfare cuts by the state will be protested by the Marin County Welfare Rights Organization at its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at 875 Grand Avenue, Novato.

The state's new welfare program cut payments to about one-third of the welfare recipients, but increased payments to the remaining two-thirds.

Chamber Says Tourism Failing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A statement from the California Chamber of Commerce says the Golden State ranks at the bottom in government promotion of tourism.

As a result, the chamber statement said Sunday, the tourism industry is failing in California.

A survey showed California's annual expenditure of state funds for tourism was $41,000 while the 50-state average was $691,000 each year. The survey said 13 states spent more than $1 million annually to attract tourists.

What makes your heart beat?

The answer: a chemical reaction within the muscle itself –which depends on calcium. Which you get mainly from milk. And that's only one reason to drink two glasses of milk a day. For still others, read on:

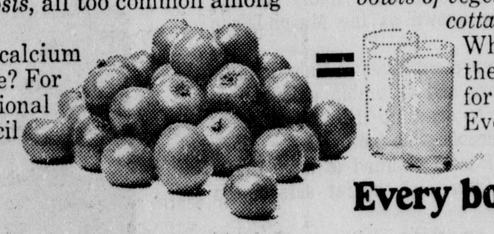
You need calcium for more than just building bones while you're growing up. In fact, you need calcium every time you move a muscle. Including the most important muscle of all: your heart.

And: without calcium, your nerves couldn't send the signals that let you see, hear, feel, and smell.

Without calcium, your blood would not clot.

And without calcium–in a steady supply throughout your life–your bones can become weak and brittle, a condition called osteoporosis, all too common among the elderly.

How much calcium should you have? For adults, the National Research Council recommends 800 milligrams a day: about as much as you get in a normal diet if it includes two glasses of milk. (Children need more: up to age nine, 3 glasses; up to eighteen, 4 glasses. Pregnant and nursing women also need the calcium in 4 glasses of milk daily.)



Can you get enough calcium from other foods? Not easily. For example, two glasses of milk give you as much calcium as each of the following:

24 tomatoes, 11 oranges, 4 cups of broccoli, 1½ pints of ice cream, 18 bowls of vegetable soup, 2½ cups of cottage cheese.

When it comes to calcium, there's no real substitute for milk.

Every body needs calcium.

Every body needs milk.

Deeper Issue Ignored In Conflict On Book

It often happens in school disputes — as in many other kinds — that the basic issue gets lost among the charges and counter-charges.

This appears to be the case with the controversy over introduction of "The Movement Toward a New America" as a text (or supplementary text, or resource book —take your choice) for the American government course at San Rafael High School.

The book was roundly attacked at last week's San Rafael Board of Education meeting. Opponents called it indecent, disgusting, one-sided, and claimed it promoted revolution and violence. It is all these.

Its defenders said it was used to show "the other side" of current issues, and to demonstrate the uses of propaganda. It certainly could be used for these purposes (though why the district's taxpayers should buy 35 copies of such a tome at roughly $5 each to do what an equal number of copies of the People's World or the Black Panther could do, nobody explained).

LARGELY OVERLOOKED, however, was the basic question: Does "The Movement Toward a New America" have any part in a one-semester high school course in American government?

Each district prepares its own high school course of study, and its own course descriptions. The description of American government at San Rafael High School says:

"To give the students an appreciation and an understanding of the philosophical and historical roots of American democracy; an understanding of the rights and responsibilities of citizenship; an understanding of the American political scene; an understanding of the structure and function of the United States government as well as that of the State of California."

Where does "The Movement Toward a New America" fit into this description? We would be hard put indeed to find any place.

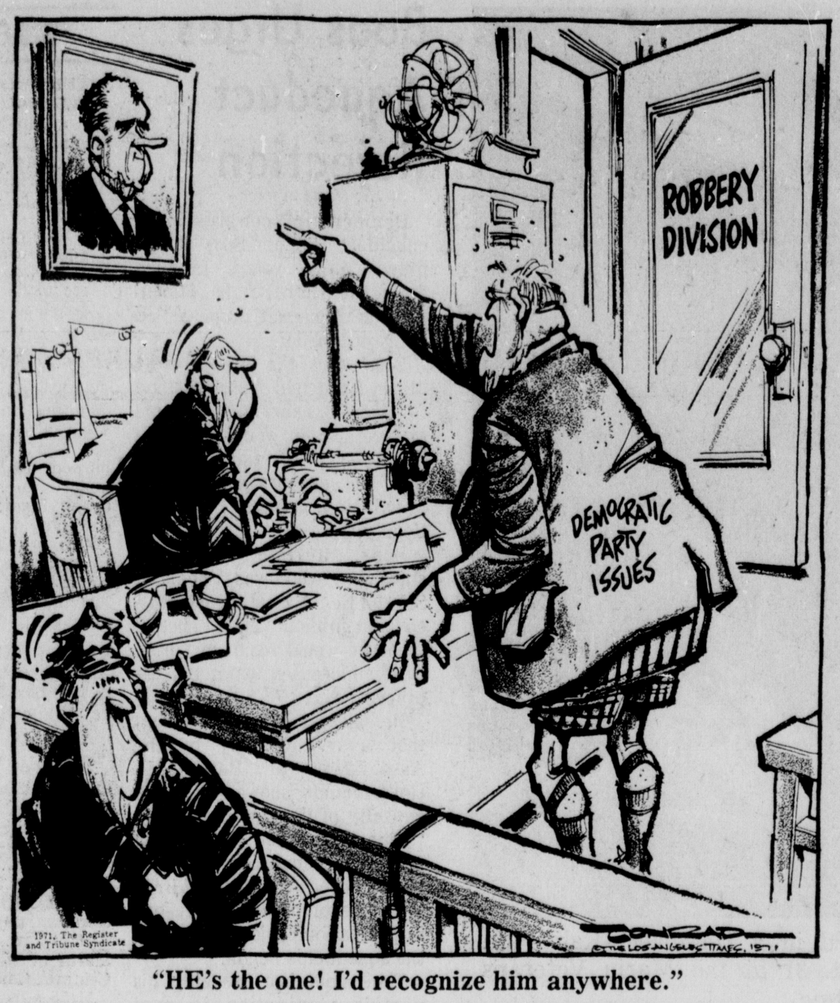
(There is a different course description for Terra Linda High School, which seems strange since both schools are in the same district.)

THE REAL ISSUE, then, lies not in the merits (if any) of "The Movement." The real issue is whether the course in American government teaches what the district says it should teach. If not, the teacher is guilty of refusal to obey reasonable regulations of the school district. The book may be taken as evidence of whether the course is taught as described, or whether some other course is masquerading under the title "American Government."

It goes beyond the matter of the book. Do American government courses in high school do what they're supposed to do? Do they give the students a working knowledge of our government?

There is hardly any way to find out. Yet there is one way that school districts might try.

Immigrants seeking American citizenship must pass a simple test in American government. Could the students who have completed high school courses in the subject pass that test?



"HE's the one! I'd recognize him anywhere."

Bridge Directors' Lobbyist Takes Care Of His Clients

Despite its earnest attempt to burnish its image, the Golden Gate Bridge District still can manage to show itself in the dull gray tones of indifference to the public.

Many district directors long have complained privately that they get no compensation for attending district meetings late in the fiscal year because they already have hit the $2,400-a-year ceiling on their $50-a-meeting compensation.

An argument could be made in their behalf, but never has been attempted by the bridge board — at least in public.

But somehow their $20,000-a-year Sacramento lobbyist managed to hear of their plight, and belatedly has promoted legislation to hike the ceiling by 50 per cent.

THE LOBBYIST Gordon Garland, had the bill introduced this month by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond. It was six months too late to be introduced as a separate bill, so Knox amended it onto a dead bill that would have created multi-county sanitation districts.

Legislative rules provide that a bill can be amended only to deal with a matter similar to the original bill, usually limiting amendments to the same code section.

It was unclear what stretch of imagination encouraged the legislative counsel's office to approve the unrelated amendment, but Knox noted both the original bill and the amendments dealt with special districts. They both also deal with a slight odor, we would add.

Garland told us that he was promoting the bill on his own hook. He said he had told "two or three' bridge directors privately about the measure, asking them if they objected to it. They did not, Garland said.

KNOX, GREASING the amendments through his local government committee last week, said the pay hike was fair because district officials had an increasingly heavy meeting schedule now that the district was going into transit. He said they "get paid only if they show up," a point overlooking the habit of some of the 18 directors who show up at the last moment to claim their $50.

Knox also computed the hike as "a one-third pay hike," a calculation that went unchallenged as his committee voted unanimously to send his bill to the Assembly floor. Committee members appeared satisfied when no one responded from the sparse audience to a call for opponents.

The committee probably was unaware that there had been virtually no publicity about the new amendments, except the preceding night in the Independent-Journal.

KNOX ALSO TOLD the committee that "the original request was higher, but through negotiations was cut significantly." He then told us that he could not remember the original request.

Garland explained that he had asked Knox to eliminate the ceiling entirely, at least during the time the district is so busy getting into transit.

All in all, it's a peculiar way to do business, with a lobbyist promoting legislation for a public agency that never has discussed the proposal in public. It suggests that someone figured the public would object — if it had had a chance.

Bridge In The Desert Vs. Useful Spending

I read in your paper that it took a 40-man crew 23 months to reassemble over 10,000 blocks of the London Bridge for reassembly in the Arizona desert.

When I view the amount of money involved in this project compared with what it might have done for seven million Pakistani refugees or American children suffering from muscular dystrophy it makes me want to vomit. No wonder the term "ugly American" is used to describe the vulgar ostentatiousness of a few wealthy persons who prefer to erect a monument to appease their own superego rather than assuage human suffering either in this country or elsewhere.

Consolidation Urged For Fire Protection

The Corte Madera residents interested in improving their fire protection — and others like them — might wish to investigate the idea of joining with neighboring towns or the county to form a consolidated fire district.

Five years ago several communities across the Bay joined to create theCentral Contra Costa Fire District. Since then, it is reported, their fire taxes have gone down each year, their fire insurance rating has improved, and the number of trucks and men per $100 million assessed valuation has increased.

Another proposal, discussed in Marin fairly recently, is to have one countywide fire department, with property taxes levied according to the cost of protection needed by such uses as commercial centers, high density residential, or agricultural lands.

With so many small fire districts (usually operating with illogical boundaries), we sometimes have expensive duplication of services. One example is the six fire stations on or near Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in the short distance from Highway 101 to Fairfax. They are: the Larkspur station (at Eliseo), Kentfield (College Avenue), Ross fire house, San Anelmo No. 1 (downtown), San Anselmo No. 2 (Butterfield), and Fairfax (downtown).

Local fire departments vary widely in their ability to respond. The mutual aid agreements between departments are a logical response to a difficult situation. But, it is argued, they do not give firemen the consistent ability to put a heavy dose of manpower and equipment on any bad fire at a first response. The local company must first go and find that the fire is beyond its capacity; only then, after valuable time is lost, can it call for help.

Some consolidation, at least, seems needed.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

School Innovations Threaten To Sink Educational Ship

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
(Professor of Education,
San Jose State College)

Innovation in education is about to sink the educational ship. So much money and time are being diverted from the educational processes in search of panaceas that formal teaching and learning have virtually been abandoned.

One California district verred so far off course in meeting the educational objectives agreed upon by all concerned parties that the diversion of funds and teaching talent became an issue during a recent school board election. The slate of candidates that campaigned using the slogan "Innovation or Education?" won by a landslide.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that the public schools have become fair game for every idea conceived by any screwball who wishes to advance a theory for testing at public expense. The schools provide an endless source of research means to conduct virtually any social experiment that anyone cares to suggest. Children can always be used as guinea pigs, teachers as dupes, and of course, the public can always supply the finances.

That does not mean categorically, however, that change is bad. Change can be either good or bad. If there is one absolute it is that change is inevitable. Changes occur daily. And there is little man can do to stop them. But he can direct change. And he can harness it to make it serve him. How change is directed, then, becomes the foundation for politics.

CONSERVATIVES MAY be more reluctant to abandon social systems that have served well. They may be less likely to panic under pressure. On the other hand, the more liberal the liberal, the more likely he is to abandon tradition. The casting aside of convention and tradition is of little moment to him. He wants what he wants. And he wants it now.

And that is the way it is in the public schools. Virtually all teachers on a political spectrum are left of center. They are liberals who seek change for the sake of change. The words change and progress are equated as synonyms by the teaching profession. Of course, there may be evidence in abundance to prove that most changes introduced in the public schools during recent years have been for the worse.

THE CHANGE WHICH ushered in the politicization of the teaching profession at all levels has not been an improvement. When school boards, trustees and regents agreed to permit faculties to enter into personnel matters—hiring, promotion and firing—of professional colleagues, they permitted politics to be introduced into educational institutions. With left-wing liberals virtually in control, a political imbalance has become deeply entrenched on most campuses—especially at the higher education level.

Until school boards, regents and trustees who are elected by the people take an active part in personnel matters in public tax-supported educational institutions, innovative programs with a left-wing thrust will continue to thrive. Until that time, about all the taxpayer needs to do is pick up the tab for expanding innovations of educational nonsense.

Today is Monday, Oct. 18, the 291st day of 1971.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Libra.

American historian James Truslow Adams was born Oct. 18, 1878.

On this day in history:

In 1767 the boundary between Maryland and Pennsylvania was finally settled, later to be known as the Mason-Dixon Line.

In 1873 representatives of Yale, Princeton, Rutgers and Columbia gathered in New York to draw up the first rules to govern intercollegiate football.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Controls May Stay A Long Time As Nixon Takes The Hard Line

WASHINGTON — When Sec. of the Treasury John Connally revealed that the cabinet-level Cost of Living Council was split over post-freeze policy, he was not exaggerating.

The fact is that the council was split down the middle, not over details, but over the central issue — how tough Phase Two wage-price controls should be.

President Nixon himself had to resolve the dispute. The council was too divided to do other than present him with choices.

NIXON CHOSE the tough, politically riskful line of policy. He rejected the economic doves and sided with the economic hawks — for controls with teeth to be continued "as long as necessary."

The hawks' decision to make war on inflation with fully mobilized governmental powers has the better chance of doing the job. Nixon rejected a policy of "guns and butter" — that is, weak controls weakly enforced. He rejected a policy whose end result would be that fewer people would feel the anit-inflation sting. Instead, he chose the course which may be politically difficult but which holds the prospect of a long-range boon to the country and to himself — tough anti-inflation controls.

A major consequence of the President's choice of stern controls is that it will be hard to end these controls. Economic controls are habit-forming. Nixon earnestly and manfully says that "when (controls) are no longer needed, we will get rid of them."

For as far ahead as the economists and the politicians can now see, most of the pressures will be on the side of keeping them.

IN THE WAGE-PRICE controls are only moderately successful, the pressure will be to keep them in place until inflation has been brought down.

If the controls are significantly successful and are helping to bring inflation to a manageable rate, the pressure will be against giving them up for fear that removing them would open the dikes again.

Thus, while it is welcome to hear the President affirm that "we will not make controls a permanent feature of American life," that is the greatest danger from the game plan on which the administration is now embarked.

SINCE WAGE-PRICE controls are needed to free the economy from the virus of acute inflation, it is well that they should be administered by officials who don't like controls for their own sake and want to throw them off as soon as possible.

But we had better enter the managed-economy era with our eyes open. We should be aware that controls will be with us longer than most expect and that it will take great political courage to resist the temptation to keep them after they have done their work.

It is worth noting that the members of the President's Cost of Living Council who favored stern controls of indefinite duration were its economic and fiscal experts, while more politically sensitive members of the cabinet favored a softer approach. They could see the administration become intensely unpopular because the government would have to be saqing "no" so often to so many.

But what the more politically-minded presidential advisers were overlooking is that "the old rules," which sought to control inflation by allowing unemployment to rise, were no longer working. The nation was getting both rising unemployment and rising inflation.

Something different had to be tried and Nixon is doing it boldly.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

The Leap Year Scenario For President Nixon

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — Before the jet age, incumbent presidents had the inclination but not the technology to arrange historical events as a triumphant procession leading up to their re-election. But since then, the technology has never been fully exercised. Kennedy was killed before he ran again, then Johnson concentrated on domestic affairs in 1964 and pulled out in 1968.

There is little question that each of those acutely political men would have sandwiched together summit conferences abroad and whistle stopping at home to the height of his considerable ability, had he run for another term under normal circumstances. But as it turns out, Mr. Nixon is the first President to approach a second campaign with jet planes and satellite communication at his instant command.

No President in history has had more alacrity to use them, and none could surpass him in his skill at it. Not that he has been without help — the common belief that Mr. Nixon despises the press might be well-founded, but if so it is comparable to Earl Scruggs' despising his banjo: He plays it so well.

THE PRESIDENT'S announcement that he will go to Moscow after Peking produced a splash of favorable publicity that will be repeated at least twice, perhaps half a dozen times, as that mission is carried out. He squeezes the last inch of mileage out of every event. This has been demonstrated as each increment of troops is withdrawn from Vietnam, as each step is taken toward the Communist capitals, as each effort is made toward controlling the economy.

The addition of Moscow to his 1972 itinerary fills the last gap in his re-election scenario. Of course, there will be more surprises as the campaign approaches and is joined, as the public-opinion polls shimmy in response to events. But he now has in hand the raw material to knock the contending Democrats off the top of Page 1 and the lead spot on the evening television news at every turn between today and presidential election day.

IT MAY NOT OCCUR to the watching public how fully the President utilizes each news development of substance to produce not one but a series of impacts on the voters. In the case of a troop withdrawal, for example, the minimum steps are: 1 — announcement; 2 — confirmation; 3 — departure of troops; 4 — their arrival home. For a summit conference in Peking, it may be expanded thus: 1 — strong hint; 2 — announcement (tied to Kissinger's first trip); 3 — arrangement (Kissinger's second trip); 4 — disclosure of exact date; 5 — departure; 6 — consummation; 7 — triumphal return; 8 — report to the people.

At a snap of his fingers, Mr. Nixon can summon the television cameras to cover these carefully spaced events. When he deems them to be sufficiently dramatic, he can preempt prime time to make those appearances direct to viewers, without intermediary newsmen.

And the fact that he said he was going to Moscow in expectation of substantive agreements makes it likely that the news-making steps concerning Peking cannot only be duplicated in Russia but extended by still another announcement or two after his return.

THUS MR. NIXON, is equipped to watch political developments from the start of the primary season through the conventions and the fall campaign, with a whole deck of trumps to slap one by one atop the headlines made by his Democratic challengers.

At his sole discretion, he will choose which to play when. When the Democrats are at their most active, in the early primaries in New Hampshire and Florida, he can opt to lay down a new date for a new withdrawal phase from Indochina. When they convene in Miami Beach, he can disclose that one of a half-dozen bilateral agreements he has discussed in the Soviet Union is now ready for signing. When they head for their campaign climax in October, he can make the crowning announcement about Vietnam.

The possible variations are infinite. And all the while he can be praying that the economy will come around, for not even the most frantic schedule of trips and treaties and broadcasts will be able to obscure the fact if it does not.

THE GROUP OF CITIZENS most aware already of all the tactical options open to an incumbent President is the diminishing band of Democrats seeking to replace Mr. Nixon. They realize it with painful envy.

For the wider public, framing his forthcoming moves in a political context is not to deny their legitimacy, or to belittle whatever solid diplomacy grows out of them. It is a blessing of our system that the pressures of quadrennial elections often pushes Presidents to their greatest accomplishment in the months immediately preceding November of each leap year.

Well, If It Isn't Auditorium, Just What Would You Call It?

Leon Kalimos, executive director of the Marin Veterans Memorial Building, is still campaigning to keep the beautiful edifice from being called "auditorium."

But he may be waging a losing battle, as the officially banned word keeps popping up with increasing frequency.

His persistent campaign suffered what may be a crushing blow the other day when he wrote a letter to the I-J, thanking the paper for publicity on opening night. His letter was written under the letterhead: "Marin Veterans Memorial Auditorium."

Auditorium may not sound too elegant, but it certainly pinpoints the structure in one simple word, whereas it would take a half dozen or more substitute words to describe the building. For example:

"That circular structure at the Civic Center fairgrounds," or "that round building with a bunch of silos in front," or "the theater and exhibit hall where they held the county fair."

BY THE WAY, it's official now. The auditorium (oops!) opening night crowd of 1,476 paying customers plus 181 courtesy guests (total 1,657 persons) downed a total of 960 bottles of champagne at $2 per bottle ($1,920 total cost of champagne). That's more than half a bottle per person.

The caterers also reported that they furnished 21,000 pieces of food including 5,400 pastries and 6,000 shaslik and beef dore and other goodies.

This has been a great year for Marin. Successful opening of the auditorium, and the record attendance at the county fair in its new fairgrounds site.

The biggest advantage of the new location is easy accessibility and vast parking areas.

Once the open dirt areas are packed down, turfed or otherwise treated to keep dust down, and trees begin providing shade, the new grounds will compare favorably with the old site in Ross.

HOMEOWNERS IN the unincorporated areas that are under the Marin County Fire Department's jurisdiction have received or will receive whopping raises in fire insurance costs.

What happened was this: Last January, the fire rating board decided to raise the rating in unincorporated areas of Marin from class 7 to class 10, the worst possible rating. This meant a doubling of fire insurance premiums.

Marin County Independent Insurance Agents Association, through Dan C. Dufficy, went into action. With the help of County Administrator John F. Barrows, Dufficy induced the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau to take another look at Marin. As a result, the rating went down from class 10 to class 9. It's a slight improvement, but still a big blow to most homeowners in areas such as Santa Venetia and West Marin.

LOUIS CASSELS

It's Really Awfully Nice Living Out In The Sticks

Moving back to a small town after living in big cities for 30 years is an ambivalent experience.

An ambivalent experience, according to my dictionary, is one that affects you two ways at once. It has both good and bad points. Somethings you like, some you don't.

My wife and I recently embarked on this ambivalent experience because the doctors thought it would be better if, after a serious heart attack, I lived at a slower pace under less stress.

The place we chose for our new home is a true small town, not a big city suburb trying to pass itself off as a small town. The nearest big city is more than 200 miles away. Like every place on earth, my new home town has unique characteristics. But on the whole its way of life is, I think, fairly typical of thousands of other small towns and medium-sized cities all over America.

LIVING HERE certainly is far less stressful than the life we endured (and on the whole enjoyed) during our 30 years in New York and Washington. The difference is so striking I find it easy to believe the doctors' assurance that this move can add years to my life.

The most striking difference we've noticed so far is in the way people treat each other.

Because their nerves aren't frayed by traffic congestion, overcrowding and the myriad other pressures of everyday urban life, people who live in small towns find it easier to make the extra effort required to be kind, helpful and friendly.

Nearly every day, my wife comes home from a shopping expedition or some other errand in a virtual state of shock to report some new instance of courtesy or thoughtfulness of the kind that city-dwellers long ago learned not to expect from clerks, repairmen, bank tellers, or public servants. Instead of snarling at you, people go out of their way to serve you promptly and cheerfully.

WE'VE ALSO BEEN pleasantly surprised to discover that it's much easier to get things repaired, built, remodelled or removed in a small town than in a big city. You'd think it would be just the other way around. But almost any household job that requires skilled labor—from getting a TV set fixed to putting on a new roof—seems to turn into a hassle when you live in the city.

First, you have a hard time getting the big city guy to commit himself about what day (let alone what time) he's likely to show up. When he does get there, he's likely to be in a hurry and/or a bad humor. And when he leaves, he hands you an outrageous bill.

In a small town, you look in the yellow pages and call the likeliest-sounding number. In no time at all, out comes a friendly and competent young man. He fixes whatever's broken, quickly and efficiently, for an entirely reasonable charge. It's hard to believe, I know, but it keeps happening all the time so it can't be just a run of good luck.

THERE ARE, to be sure, disadvantages to our new life. Giving up my cherished season tickets to the Washington Redskins when they seem at long last to have a good chance of a winning season was a trauma comparable to amputation of an arm. My wife, who labored for years as an unpaid volunteer to bring the Kennedy Center into being, was disappointed to miss its opening season of concerts and ballets. We both find ourselves longing occasionally for the fine stores, restaurants, libraries and museums we frequented in Washington.

But if this is the price of peace—the kind of peace we already find seeping deep into our bones in this pleasant little town—we're willing to pay it.

It seems ironic. Thirty years ago I "escaped" from a small town seeking the good life in the big city. Now I find it was right here all the time.

The Census Bureau's figures indicate about 100 million Americans have made the same mistake since 1940. Well, I'm not going to try to talk all of them into coming home to the hinterlands. They'd overcrowd the place and ruin everything.

But with those of you who've had all of the urban crisis you can stand, I feel duty bound to share my secret:

It's really awfully nice out here in the sticks.

Editor's note: The small town with which Cassels is enraptured is Aiken, S.C., population 13,033 in the 1970 census. He grew up in that area.

Hearing Slated On Water Needs

A public hearing on formation of a special district to study Olema area water needs will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Bear Valley administration headquarters at Point Reyes National Seashore.

The North Marin County Water District board has called the hearing at the request of area residents. Estimated cost of the study is $2,000, according to Dist. Mgr. Eugene Churchill. If the special district is formed, the board could levy a tax not to exceed 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation, Churchill said.

The area now is served by the Olema Water Co., which has about 30 customers, Churchill said.

10 Drivers Sentenced For Drinking

Ten persons have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Sentenced Tuesday by Judge Robert A. Smallman were:

Charles Joseph Welch, 45, of Los Angeles, arrested Sept. 21 on Higheay 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Arthur Cornelius Hoene, 58, of Redwood City, arrested Oct. 1 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $200.

Bruce Eric Peel, 36, of 20 Marsh Drive, Mill Valley, arrested Sept. 28 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $200.

Loretta Isobel Baker, 31, of 72 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, arrested July 5 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $200.

Walter Raymond Reynolds, 43, of Daly City, arrested July 23 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $302.

John Richard Doherty, 34, of 25 Ancho Vista Avenue, Apt. 18, San Anselmo, arrested Aug. 23 in San Rafael, placed on probation for one year, fined $302 and ordered to jail for two weekends.

Robert George Bogel, 44, of 1151 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, arrested July 5 in Fairfax, placed on probation for one year and ordered to work 10 days for Marin County Parks and Recreation Department.

Dennis Raymond Crisp, 21, of 248 Devon Drive, San Rafael, arrested Aug. 25 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Lizabeth Walker, 30, of 1414 Third Street, San Rafael, arrested July 14 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and ordered to work 120 days for the Alameda County Volunteer Bureau.

Robert Hamilton, 40, of Windsor, Sonoma County, arrested Oct. 2 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $240.

The cost to the U.S. of maintaining 200,000 troops in West Germany is estimated at $1.2 billion in foreign currency.

THE SPOUSE GAP

Marriage Enters A Crisis Period

(Condensed from the book, "The Spouse Gap")
By ROBERT LEE and MARJORIE CASEBIER

The second act of our marriage drama now gathers momentum and propels us into a major crisis period. Here the middlescent malaise exacts its toll from the marital relationship itself. Instead of giving mutual aid and comfort in time of desperate need, marriage mates sometimes bug each other in ugly discontent, or ignore each other in utter disregard. In a Detroit study of marriage, researchers Blood and Wolfe discovered that 52 per cent of the wives were very satisfied with their marriages during the first two years, but only 6 per cent were still satisfied 20 years later and 21 per cent "were very dissatisfied."

MIDDLE-AGE crisis time is a time of buck passing, of blaming the other person, of finding fault, of jockeying for the best position in the marriage-go- round. One peculiarly interesting observation about this game is that the husband can call his wife a bitch or a shrew, the wife can call her husband a clod or a bully, and yet neither one remembers that this is the same dear person he or she chose to marry.

Crisis time in middlescence is also the time for a general loss of intimacy. Couples don't keep up with each other and thus grow apart as the individual partners change.

Intimacy is lost also as spouses begin to see each other's faults more glaringly. Over the years faults may come to loom larger as virtues turn into vices and then, in the throes of the middlescent malaise, become blatantly intolerable. Here again, spouses usually show a reluctance to discuss the unpleasant aspects of each other's personalities — except, perhaps, in the heat of anger when they couch them in derogatory terms that question the partner's sanity or intelligence. Such an approach usually ruffles feathers and speeds up the spouse-gap escalation.

BUT THERE are important areas within middle age where marriage mates must "face it like it is" side by side in mutual interaction — critical places which affect both partners deeply. Unless a couple meets these together the spouse gap cannot help escalate into an ugly ditch across their marriage landscape.

We all remember the romantic fable which ends with a wedding and the line, "and they lived happily ever after." Well, happily or not, ever after is a much longer period today than it used to be. Even 50 years ago, perhaps one parent was deceased by the time the last child married. And the parent still living anticipated going to live with one of the children when no longer able to live alone.

TODAY, however, with earlier marriages, fewer children, better health, and increased longevity, a couple may have almost as many years together without children in the home as they had with themm Whether these prove to be bonus years for the couple or simply an extended prison sentence depends on how the partners face the middle age crisis called nest-emptying, a major transition point marking middlescence.

Studies show that when the last child grows up and leaves home there is an increased likelihood of marital maladjustment. This event acts as a kind of marital catalyst, demanding that husband and wife face themselves, each other, and their marriage in a way they have never had to before. And the longer they avoid this task, the faster the gap between them widens.

BY FAR the worst consequence of the empty-next crisis is the shock some couples get when they confront each other alone and realize they don't know each other at all. This may happen especially in a marriage where the couple have used the children as their primary way of relating to each other or as a buffer between them on points of conflict. When the children leave home the spouses, in their psychological nakedness, confront each other across the gap which has always been between them and which was temporarily filled by their children.

Both spouses must adjust to new roles as their children leave home, but the trauma is usually greatest for the woman. In the next middlescent crisis area to be looked at, however, we find the greatest impact is on the man.

A VISIT TO TIBURON

Oft-Published Lecturer Wants Writing To Amuse

By PAT BALMES

Evelyn Hawes, college lecturer on creative writing, writes in order to interest and amuse.

Her articles and stories have appeared in Saturday Evening Post, Ladies' Home Journal, Redbook and other magazines, and her third novel, "Six Nights a Week," was published in September.

Visiting at her daughter's Tiburon home last week, the exuberant Buffalo, N.Y., writer chided her interviewer,

"Don't make me sound too holy. I have had suspicions that I was not good enough and thought of shooting myself in the foot. My daughter suggested the calf of the leg would be better because there are not so many bones there."

EVELYN HAWES
Visit in Tiburon

THE ADVICE was given in jest by her daughter, Dr. Linda Clever, an internist who is director of St. Mayr's Hospital Diagnostic and Treatment Center in San Francisco. Also on the clinical faculty at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, Linda serves on its medical school admissions committee.

Linda is the wife of San Francisco internist Dr. James Clever and mother of 20-month-old Sarah Lou.

"An editor asked me to write a story about a married couple who are both doctors, but I'll never do it," said the writer in mock terror. "Oh, no. Oh, no."

Mrs. Hawes, daughter of the former state senator, superior court judge and lieutenant governor of Washington, the late W. Lon Johnson, says that there has always been a lot of fun and laughter in her family. Her first novel, "The Happy Land," is the story of her family.

"Did you know Linda was president of Stanford Medical School's student body? I told her not to do that; I told her those men would never elect her!" she said with delight and served Linda's coffee cake with more cheerful banter about everyday things, the stuff her novels are made of.

During her Bay Area visit, Ev, wife of a J.C. Penney's executive, appeared on television to introduce her third novel, "Six Nights a Week," about newlyweds trying to make ends meet financially.

THE PLOT concerns a wife forced to take a job at Sears to pay for splurging on a set of pots and pans. She keeps her job a secret. Her husband is employed by Sears' competitor, J.C. Penney. Complications demonstrate the soundness of normal young Americans.

A magazine editor once told Ev that most of the stuff which comes across his desk is dull, depressing, obscene and unbearably unreadable.

"I have not seen 'Hair' or 'O Calcutta.' I know I would leave," says Ev.

"I do not see how anyone can live without hope. What's the point? Don't go around thinking people are terrible when they are really trying and gallant, brave and wonderful," she says, mentioning a young mother "terribly tired, but terribly patient" with her small children at the San Francisco airport.

Seizing another chance to amuse, she reported,

"Once I ate a dime. I really did, while I was reading; I thought it was the jelly bean I had in my other hand." Such incidents Ev puts into her books.

SHE RECALLS how sad a rejection slip makes a fledgling writer feel.

"My University of Cincinatti creative writing professor, William Wabnitz, insisted I send things in. When Saturday Evening Post returned my manuscript, I sadly threw it on the desk, where it lay unopened for days. When I opened it, I found it had been accepted."

"But once you get started, nice things happen," says the writer, who has traveled around the world on assignments from magazine editors. Her freelance short stories are drawn from her own experiences such as volunteer work behind the locked doors of a mental institution.

When she did a research job concerning Lord Chesterfield for a Readers Digest story, it was returned to her with a demand for more footnoting.

"Then I was in trouble," says Ev, "I couldn't remember exactly where I had found the information. The second research job was harder than the first."

A MEMBER of Buffalo and Erie County Medical Historical Society, she wrote a layman's history of Buffalo General Hospital called "Proud Vision."

"I tried to inject a little humor into it. There is a kind of grim humor in hospitals," she said, adding that she developd tremendous respect for doctors during the two years she wrote in a Buffalo General Hospital office, sometimes arriving for work at 3 a.m.

Ev interviewed many physicians and enjoys telling her daughter and son-in-law their stories.

"But I do not have my M.D. I don't even want to know what I know. Whenever I read about a disease, I have it."

Her second novel, "A Madras-Type Jacket," is about a college freshman girl who is "playing it straight" according to Ev, who drew upon her experience as a sorority adviser. She has interviewed countless college students and in her travels has talked with innumerable other young people.

THE WRITER was born in Colville, Wash. A graduate of University of Washington, she did graduate work there and later at University of Cincinnati, Purdue and the State University of New York at Buffalo during several transfers across the country.

As a young wife without much money, Ev found the "cheapest and most entertaining" thing to do was graduate work.

"Just lucky" — she says modestly — to accumulate enough credits to teach in college, Ev has taught creative writing, speech, debate and journalism. Once she taught Greek literature to engineering students. She has been on the faculty of University of Washington, University of Cincinnati, Amherst Central Adult School, Canisius Jesuit University at Buffalo and State University of New York at Buffalo, where she taught last semester.

But her editors and agents complain that teaching takes too much time away from her writing.

Ev's next book will be a novel about her father.

Fashion's Newest Rage

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)——Chinamania is shaping up as the biggest single new influence on American fashion for spring.

Chinese silhouettes, fabrics and prints in his collection take their place in line with others previously shown—all inspired, apparently, by the announcement of President Nixon's trip to the mainland China.

IN THE BLASS collection the first group of dresses, suits and costumes were fashioned from "ivory colored silk from the People's Republic of China," as Blass described them.

"My favorite color for spring," he said.

In that group were Mandarin silhouettes, frog closings and something also purely American, blazers. A further bow to the Chinese influence came in a trio of costumes, all with matching parasol, made of geometric printed flowers in paint box colors. One was a Chinese tunic lengthened to above the knee; onewas a wide-legged pajama outfit; and one featured a Mandarin scut.

Blass also was struck by what one observer called "the severity of the seventies." Or else it could be called the look of the meter maid or the lady cop or even a throwback to the old school uniform.

OFFERINGS IN the severity segment of the show included navy and black outfits, many with high necks, long sleeves and white collars and cuffs.

"The importance of navy in every possible way cannot be overstressed," he said.

The severe look for evening was softened by halter backs, some deep ruffling around neck and sleeve and hem lines.

The navy outfits included trench coats with matching skirts and white blouses, navy short jackets and navy pea coats. A look Blass likes for day is the three-piecer: coat, skirt, blouse. Always worn with a hat, fedora type with part of the brim turned down—fore, aft or side.

Clothes bearing the Blass label for spring will range in price from $225 to $1500 retail and include a lot of gabardine, organdy, crepe, georgette and other classic fabrics.

A FAVORITE evening silhouette is the pretty girl look, prettiest in a pure pink long gown of organza, its hem a foot-deep deck of wide ruffles. The same ruffling was repeated at the bodice, falling to the waist, front and back, like the petals of a huge pink flower.

ON THE AGENDA

'Alternative Schools' To Be Topic Of Program In Santa Rosa

"Alternative Schools" will be the subject of a seminar to be held by the 14th District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers (Marin and Sonoma counties) Thursday at San Marin Club in Novato.

A business meeting is set for 10 a.m., with the program to follow at 10:30 a.m. Speakers will be Dr. Quentin R. Bryan, assistant superintendent of Santa Rosa City Schools; Dr. James Collins, superintendent of Mill Valley Schools; and Wayne Boone, assistant superintendent of San Rafael City Schools. Dr. Edith Pewitt of the administrative staff of the Novato Unified School District and president of the Novato Branch of the American Association of University Women, will serve as moderator.

The North Marin Council of P-TA is hosting the seminar, with Mrs. Warren F. Smith of Novato as reservations chairman.

ROBIN MILER
Dramatic soprano

DRAMATIC SOPRANO Robin Miler will open the new season for the Thursday Musical Club at the home of Mrs. John Lesoine of Ross on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. Robin, a junior at Dominican College, recently received the top study award in the Western Regional Auditions of the San Francisco Opera Company. Robin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miler of Novato.

Accompanying her on the piano will be Eva Kirschner of Kent Woodlands.

A tea will be held after the program. Mrs. Roger Erickson is chairman, assisted by Mmes. Harris Kluksdahl, Dan Doughtery, Ragnar Thaning, Hal Moore and Miss Elizabeth Klink.

STEPHANIE VON Buchau, music and dance editor and critic of San Francisco magazine, will present a preview of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera" for the Sausalito Women's Club on Thursday at 2 p.m. at the clubhouse.

The opera starring Metropolitan Opera soprano Martina Arroyo opens Oct. 27 at the San Francisco Opera House.

Chairman Mrs. John C. Alexander said the club program is a "sort of extra of the Marin Opera Action's evening preview series and a trial to test the possibility of afternoon previews next year, perhaps in conjunction with other women's clubs."

Miss Von Buchau, a Marin resident who is also a feature writer for "Performing Arts" magazine, the program guide presented to those attending the opera and other performances in the Bay Area, has recently launched a new activity as lecturer.

DR. WOLFGANG Lederer, psychiatrist and author, will speak on his recent book, "The Fear of Women," for the Marin County fall forum of the Women's Division of the Jewish Welfare Federation Thursday.

The public program will be held at Temple Rodef Sholom in San Rafael from 10 a.m. to noon. A continental breakfast will be served.

AN ORIENTATION will be held for men and women interested in the movement for women's equality at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Redwood High School faculty room in Larkspur by the Marin County Chapter of the National Organization for Women. Members will give a brief presentation on NOW and the women's equality movement, followed by informal small group discussions on phases of the movement as they affect women and men. Coffee will be served.

Nominations for officers will be made at the general meeting which will follow the orientation at 9 a.m.

A MORNING coffee will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Dovilio Lombardi, 94 Jessie Lane, Petaluma as the first meeting of the fall season of the Petaluma Catholic Community Service.

Mrs. Ronald Walters, president, will announce chairmen for the group's annual tea in November for new members. She will also outline plans for a fund-raising event to benefit local children.

ASSISTANCE LEAGUE of Sonoma County members attending the national league's annual convention today through Thursday in Palm Springs are Mmes. James W. Paine, Ralph Bower, Raymond Blatt, C. Archie Brown, Frank Stashak and Robert W. Kerr. The meeting is held at El Mirador Hotel.

FEMINEERS MEMBERS and their guests will have a luncheon and program at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday. A demonstration of floral Christmas decorations will follow the luncheon. Mrs. Otto Hoefler of Greenbrae is program chairman.

THE QUESTION Marks Square Dance Club of Santa Rosa will have a hoedown at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at the Cotati Women's Club hall.

Michael Mathews Weds Kathryn Bernice Frakes

Kathryn Bernice Frakes of San Anselmo and Michael Goodman Mathews were married Saturday evening at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

For the ceremony Marilyn I. Rota of Napa was the maid of honor and Baron Risling of Carmichael served as best man. The usher was the bride's brother, Richard F. Frakes Jr. of San Anselmo.

A reception and dinner followed at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax. After a wedding trip to Donner Lake they will live in Hawaii at Volcanoes National Park.

Kathryn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Franklin Frakes of San Anselmo and the granddaughter of Mrs. Kathryn Spharler of San Anselmo and Mrs. Bernice Bush of San Francisco.

She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, attended College of Marin and is a graduate of Heald College of Business. She has been secretary to the director of Heald Engineering College in San Francisco.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Redding's Enterprise High School and attended Shasta Junior College. He is stationed with the Navy in Hawaii. He is the brother of Thomas M. Mathews of Redding and Mrs. Philip Roustellini of Yreka.

Spring Showings To Start In January

Paris couture showings for spring and summer will begin Jan. 24.

Individual dates have not been assigned but designers who have asked for a slot include courture faithfuls Balmain, Carven, Chanel, Dior, Ungaro, Givenchy, Gres, Laroche, Feraud, Griffe, Gercey, Patou, Scherer, Lanvin, Lepage, DeRauch, Molyneux, Lapidus and Torrente.

Bareness Big News In Boutique Collection

Bareness is the big news in the Oscar de la Renta boutique collection, according to Women's Wear Daily.

The collection, designed by de la Renta and Albert Capraro, includes sleeveless dresses with armholes pared so narrow that they give a halter effect for daytime, and for evening it's low necks, bare shoulders and bare backs.

Milk Can Be Robbed Of Flavor

Too much light can create an off-flavor in milk, according to food and dairy scientists.

When milk is exposed to ultraviolet or flourescent light oxidation occurs, robbing the milk of vitamins and nutrition and creating a tallowy flavor.

Studies at Pennsylvania State University show that paperboard milk cartons provide the most protection against light-induced flavor and nutrition loss. The same studies show that milk is most susceptible to light-induced off flavor when it is packaged in clear or slightly opaque containers.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

LIVING TOGETHER IS THE HARD PART OF MARRIAGE
DEAR HELEN:

T. J. R. said men and women were never meant to live together, and suggested that, to remain in love after marriage, mates should have separate homes and meet only when in good moods.

This proposal for "long-distance marriages" could easily have been written by my ex-wife, though I realize there are thousands like her.

These are the people who want a partner only for the good times. They can never understand the moods and thoughts of others because they are involved only with what they want.

Since my wife left, I have been seeing an analyst to get my life back in shape. He feels that in almost every case, a person with a non-involvement problem had a childhood without a real family. He or she never experienced the things that make a loving family endure through troubles as well as happiness.

To my former wife, "husband" means someone who cheats and lies. To me, the word means someone who makes special effort because he wants only his wife. "Sex" to her was what a woman uses to get things or a man. To me, it is the physical sharing of a very deep love. I could list hundreds of examples, but I think you get the pattern. We were saying the same words but not communicating the true feelings behind them.

It's ironic that in school we learn all about English usage, but we sometimes never learn the most important language of all — the communication that comes with love and caring for other people as well as ourselves. — A TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER:

It's ironic that the great white heat of physical attraction can cause temporary blindness.

You learned, through a miserable marriage and an analyst, what friends probably knew from the start — that people programmed so differently could never make it together. What I suspect you haven't learned is that when an idealist marries a somewhat bitter realist, it can bring out the worst in both of them because they read all the signals wrong: idealism becomes "weakness," realism, "selfishness."

Don't blame your "ex" overmuch — outgrowing a bad childhood isn't easy. Besides, she may be a different person — as you will be — with the right mate. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm being so frank that less honest people may hate me for it. All I ask is that they look inward before they condemn.

If we who have been married 20 years or more were truthful, I'll bet 95 per cent would say marriage has become a brother-sister thing (or considerably less!) Twenty years is too long to remain actively in love with one person. We don't grow together — we grow apart.

However, many women (myself and friends included) will never sign an amiable divorce agreement because we are 10 times better off financially and socially with the same old guy. Let him chase another woman. It gets him out of our schedules.

I know my husband has another "love." I don't blame him — or her. She is five years older than he and I, about 50, but she has always worked around men and can talk their language. She may even care for my husband, though really I can't see why. He isn't much, other than a good provider.

He has asked me for a divorce. I'll never agree. Why should I? I've got it made. So long as he doesn't bother me, and I can keep the facade of a happy home, he can have six women and I wouldn't care.

Come on, you middle-aged wives, for once in your lives be honest. Don't you often feel this way, even though you never say it? — GOT IT MADE

DEAR GIM:

Here's a prediction:

Six out of 10 reader-replies to your letter will either imply "GIM" is short for "gimme," or call you selfish, insensitive or just plain foolish.

Three out of 10 female correspondents will be after your husband's hide.

And only one in 10 will be honest enough to agree that a goodly number (by no means 95 per cent, however) of affluent wives feel as you do. And what miserable lives they must lead! — H.

Complaints Over Airlines Are Few

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — Like the people in the ads, airline passengers are rather contented consumers, judging from the number of complaints filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.

Only a few thousand of the approximately 170 million passengers carried each year take the trouble to contact the CAB, the federal agency concerned with non-safety matters related to flying. (The Federal Aviation Administration concentrates on safety factors.)

But the rate of complaints is rising. The latest CAB "consumer report" showed a total of 793 complaints for the month of August, an increase of 48 per cent over the 535 received in July and an increase of 12 per cent over August of the previous year.

From January through August of this year, the number of complaints totaled 5,544, compared to 4,851 for the same time last year. This was an increase of 14 per cent.

THESE FIGURES represent the number of complaints received by the CAB by letter or other means. They do not mean that the airlines were at fault in all cases, but they are indicative of trends. Many people with complaints do not bother to register them with a government agency.

Few people are even aware that their letter would be read and counted on a monthly report which is made public. For years, the CAB kept these reports to itself.

The CAB also has done little about the complaints it has received. Few complainants have been fortunate enough to receive any response; many have waited more than six months without a reply.

Meanwhile, a branch of Ralph Nader's organization has entered the void to prod the CAB into action in behalf of the flying public. The group, known as Aviation Consumer Action Project, solicits complaints from the public and then files petitions or law suits when deemed suitable.

IT IS CURRENTLY fighting a proposed CAB rule that would limit competition with the commerical airlines by charter flight organizations. It recently gained publicity by picketing a secret meeting of the International Air Transport Association in an effort to force air fares down.

The Nader group also helps consumers with such problems as lost baggage, cancelled flights and unfilled reservations. According to the latest CAB monthly report, the most frequent complaints have been delayed and cancelled flights. They totaled 1,078 from January through August.

Next most frequent complaints involve fare rates and refunds (731) and baggage problems (662). The airlines with the highest rate of complaints against them were, in order, Caribair, Alaskan Airline, Air West, Braniff, Trans World, Northeast and Ozark.

Ones with the fewest complaints per 100,000 passengers (emplanements), in order, were Aloha, Hawaiian, Southern, Delta, Frontier, American, Allegheny and Western. Others fell in between.

IF YOU WANT something done about a serious complaint against an airline, the best bet is to write to both the CAB and the Nader group, sending the original copy to one and the carbon to the other.

MR. AND MRS. WAYNE T. ARNSBARGER
Couple to live in San Francisco

(Klepsch photo)

Marie Ann MacDonald and Wayne Thomas Arnsbarger, both of San Rafael, exchanged wedding vows Oct. 9 at Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia. A reception at the San Geronimo Golf and Country Club followed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacDonald, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Arnsbarger. All are residents of San Rafael.

Diane MacDonald of San Rafael was maid of honor for her sister, and bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sisters, Mrs. Mark Jones and Pam Arnsbarger, both of San Rafael.

Mark Jones was best man for his brother-in-law, and guests were ushered to their seats by Mike Parker of San Rafael and David Nielson of Sacramento.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii the couple will live in San Francisco.

Marie and Wayne are both graduates of Terra Linda High School and both attended College of Marin.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Allan H. Hillman of San Francisco. Bonnie MacDonald is also her sister. She is employed by Pacific Telephone Company in San Francisco.

Mrs. Anna M. Nielson of San Rafael and Mrs. Emma Arnsbarger of Redwood City are the bridegroom's grandmothers. He is employed by Jerry's Market in San Francisco.

John Sigman Ellen Stretch Repeat Vows

Ellen Ruth Stretch of San Rafael became the bride of John Paul Sigman on Oct. 9 in Cathedral Grove at Muir Woods in an afternoon ceremony.

Ellen's sister, Mrs. Deryck Clay of Portola Valley was matron of honor and her daughter, Karen Clay, was the bridesmaid.

The ushers were Marshall Granados of Mill Valley and Kevin Clay of Portola Valley.

Afterward the couple greeted guests at a reception at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. After their wedding trip to Mexico they will make their home in San Rafael.

Ellen, who is the daughter of Mrs. C. A. Wood of East Longmeadow, Mass., and Harold A. Stretch of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., is a graduate of Pine Crest Preparatory School there and William Woods College in Fulton, Mo. She has been employed at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. She is also the sister of Mrs. Anthony Santa Maria of Atlantic City, N.J., and Mrs. Michael Purnell of Brigantine, N.J.

The bridegroom is the son of Euclid Sigman of Georgetown, Mass., and the late Mrs. Sigman. He is a graduate of Salem High School in Salem, Mass., served with the U.S. Navy and is a tour guide with Grayline, Inc., in San Francisco. John is the brother of Robert Sigman of Malden, Mass., and Richard Sigman of Waltham, Mass.

Two dramatic new breakthroughs for problem hair.

Mitchum Dandruff Shampoo starts working instantly to help relieve problem dandruff
Starts working instantly to relieve itching, flaking and scaliness. Contains special medications prescribed by doctors. Keeps on working shampoo after shampoo.

Mitchum Protein Shampoo replenishes essential proteins, helps add strength and body as it cleans Contains a natural protein ingredient that acts on the hair shaft. Helps mend split ends, gives hair superior lustre, silkier texture and makes it much easier to manage.

MITCHUM...the problem solver

—even for thousands who perspire heavily

A different formula has been found to keep underarms absolutely dry—even for thousands who perspire heavily. So different that it contains far more anti-wetness agent than can possibly be put in an aerosol spray can. By anybody.

After decades of common "deodorants," it took a chemical invention to make this truly effective protection possible—with the same safety to clothing—the same skin mildness as popular "deodorants." Called Mitchum Anti-Perspirant, it is the product of a trustworthy 58-year-old laboratory.

By the thousands, women with problem perspiration are finding the protection they need, and never could find before—even in sprays promising extra dryness.

Mitchum Anti-Perspirant has won the Good Housekeeping guarantee seal, and is fully effective as a deodorant, too, of course.

If you perspire more than average—even heavily—get the positive protection of Mitchum Anti-Perspirant. Liquid—smoothes on thru satin. Or Cream—vanishing, non-sticky. Each $3.00. New Economy Size $5.00 (save $1.00).

BOTH HAVE MONEY BACK GUARANTEE—If you are not entirely satisfied with Mitchum Anti-Perspirant, liquid or cream, return package to the store where you bought it. Stores are authorized to refund full cash price.

Plastic Reliner

Holds Dentures Up To 90 Days With Only One Application.

Paste and powder adhesives can be just as annoying as loose dentures. They have to be reapplied daily and easily wash away. Now a plastic reliner called ACRYLINE® remolds the shape of loose dentures to hold them in place as long as 90 days. Used as directed, Acryline is gentle, easy to use. You make a custom-fitted plastic mold shaped to fit your gums snugly and comfortably. Plastic can't wash away, so one application can last three months or more.

Ask for Acryline. The plastic denture reliner that can keep dentures in place up to 90 days.

Note: To insure proper dental health, be sure to visit your dentist regularly.

Introducing the first anti-perspirant stick for problem perspiration.

Now Mitchum, maker of the largest selling liquid and cream anti-perspirants for problem perspiration, has discovered the way to put the remarkable Mitchum formula into a stick. So quick, easy and convenient to use. Non-greasy, non-sticky.

Even if you perspire heavily, you'll find that Mitchum keeps underarms dry and odor-free. If you have problem perspiration, try Mitchum for positive protection. Mitchum works when all else fails.

FIRST AID FOR A CATASTROPHE?

What appears to be first aid for a tragic accident is actually a hypothetical situation for ski patrolman practicing first aid at Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley. The refresher course given at the school Saturday by the San Francisco chapter of the National Ski Patrol system was attended by 65 ski patrol members who had to pass first aid tests. The event was organized by Frank Mora of San Rafael.

'Cycle Accident Injures Youth

A 17-year-old Corte Madera youth has been treated at Marin General Hospital for injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident in Larkspur.

A hospital spokesman said Randy Mehl of 23 Echo Avenue was treated Saturday for multiple cuts and bruises and a gash on his right leg following the 12:15 p.m. accident.

Larkspur police said young Mehl was riding his motorcycle in the Larkspur-Corte Madera School parking lot when he apparently lost control.

Officers said the bike skidded on its side for a short distance with Mehl beneath it.

Plaza Plan Revisions To Council

A favorable report from the city engineer on a proposal by the Sausalito Recreation Commission to modify the recently-adopted park plaza plan will be presented to the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

The commission's recommendations, presented to the council in August, calls for creation of an urban plaza, with underground parking, in the area now occupied by municipal parking lot No. 1 in downtown Sausalito.

The William E. Spangle Park Plaza plan would replace most of the 180-space municipal lot with open-space park and would eliminate most parking in the area, a plan which has drawn criticism from many downtown businessmen.

City engineer Norman Wohlschlaeger, who studied the commission's suggested changes, has said underground parking in the area east of Vina Del Mar Park is both possible and desirable.

Alcohol-Sales Flap Will Get A Hearing

Operators of the cafeteria at the Marin Hall of Justice, who are fighting for a permit to sell beer and wine, will get a public hearing in December of January at Marin Civic Center.

Stanley J. Pierce of Santa Rosa, district administrator for the department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, said the date for the hearing has not been scheduled, but it will be late this year or early next year.

Those who formally protested the application last summer will be notified to appear at the appeal hearing. Others who want to testify must write to Pierce at the department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, 1739 Fourth Street, Santa Rosa, 95404, and inform him that they want to be witnesses.

Last June, the Marin County Board of Supervisors voted 4 to 1 to support the Civic Center Caterers' request for a beer and wine license. Chairman Louis H. Baar was the lone dissenter.

Last month, the ABC rejected the request on grounds that liquor should not be sold in a public building, close to courts, the county jail and the county library.

Civic Center Caterers decided to appeal, and got the same 4 to 1 support from the county supervisors on Oct. 5.

Minibuses Start Los Angeles Loop

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Minbuses fueled by natural gas begin threading through the traffic congestion of downtown today in a bid to lure carminded citizens to public transit and cut down on smog.

For a dime, patrons can ride a route looping through the civic center complex of government offices and around the new high rise buildings that have brought more commuters into the core area.

Consultant For Airport Plan Sought

The Marin County Public Works Department is looking for a consulting firm to draw up a master plan for Gnoss Field, the county airport north of Novato.

Public Works Director Ray W. Foreaker Jr. announced said interested firms should submit their qualifications to his office at the Civic Center by Oct. 27.

A selection committee will review the qualifications, conduct interviews, and make recommendations to the board of supervisors, which will make the final selection.

The study, estimated to cost $15,000, will provide information on the adequacy of the present runway system, the need for a cross runway, and what the ultimate development should be. Federal funds will pay for two-thirds of the $15,000 cost.

Love and war live side by side in the history of man. A world of sad and often cruel contrasts. We ask "Why?" Why poverty in a land of plenty? Why alienation when we are all born to the same family of man? The aching chasm between the real and the ideal everywhere provokes the question...

WHY?

In a world looking for answers
maybe God is the place to start.
God is hope. God is now.

Murtaugh Ponders Future While Pirates Celebrate

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, world champions because they refused to quit, celebrated their stunning comeback victory in the World Series today with their chief concern whether Manager Danny Murtaugh will decide to retire.

"I'll make up my mind in three or four weeks," promised the 54-year-old Irishman who also piloted the Pirates to their last world championship in 1960 and at one time in between retired briefly because of a heart condition.

Murtaugh, "Most Valuable Player" Roberto Clemente, and pitcher Steve Blass were the chief Pirate heroes in the wake of their 2-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles in Sunday's seventh game of the World Series.

And a happy debate was underway among Pirate fans, probably to last all winter, as to whether or not Clemente should have been voted —as he was — the MVP award and the car that goes with it over the fireballing Blass.

"Clemente did it all," said Blass.

"Without Blass, they wouldn't have won it and we'd be the ones popping champagne," said beaten Orioles Manager Earl Weaver.

There's no denying these two were the stars of the final game —Clemente for his fourth-inning home run that broke the scoring ice and put Blass in the driver's seat, and Blass for his four-hit pitching that was just a shade less effective than his three-hit shutout pitching that won the third game last Tuesday just when the Orioles were threatening to sweep the Series.

Clemente's homer off losing pitcher Mike Cuellar was the only score in the game until the eighth inning when Willie Stargell singled and Jose Pagan

SAN MARIN FALLS

Terra Linda Victory

By RON LENT

"I was deeply disappointed; I didn't think we'd be this flat," Terra Linda High School football coach Don Lucas said after his Trojans whitewashed San Marin, 14-0, at San Rafael High Saturday night.

An enthusiastic, albeit half-frozen throng, braved the elements to witness a sterling Trojan defensive performance. "We contained well," Lucas admitted, "but we had a poor pass rush."

Such could be the case, but the Blue and Gold, 4-1, dominated the crisp hitting fray throughout. Mentors Lucas and Bob Martin of San Marin vowed beforehand that this would be a hard hitting contest; it was.

When the dust and defenses had cleared, Terra Linda secured the victory honors, thanks to a pair of Kevin Donohoe touchdown passes. The first one, coming in the opening period was a seven-yarder to split end, nee halfback, Mike Sabel. His reception with the game only a minute and 25 seconds old indicated that it was going to be a high scoring affair. However, such was not the case as the young Mustangs staved off each Terra Linda offense until surrendering a 31-yard touchdown pass to Sean Casey with 9:54 remaining in the game.

49ERS 13, BEARS 0

Defense Wins The Game

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Have the pro football defenses caught up with the offenses?

That question was put to Coach Dick Nolan Sunday after his San Francisco 49ers shut out the Chicago Bears, 13-0.

"They may have," said Nolan, a student of defensive football. "Looking at the scores this season it sure seems that way. These things run in cycles and for a lot of years now it's (pro football) been a pretty offensive game."

Nolan, however, didn't mean that the opposing defenses necessarily have caught up to the 49ers' offense.

"We have a lot better offense than we've shown in the last two games," Nolan said. "Our problem has been turnovers and penalties. We've stopped ourselves more in the last two games than the other guys have."

The 49ers gave up the ball three times on fumbles Sunday and twice more on interceptions. In addition, they were flagged for 69 yards in penalties, most of the time, when they had the ball.

"We can't continue to give up the ball that many times and not pay the price," Nolan said. "Last week we paid for our sins dearly."

Nolan was referring to a 20-13 loss to the Los Angeles Rams, a game in which San Francisco handed the opposition two scores on turnovers.

The 49er defensive unit was near perfect against Chicago, holding the Bears to 62 yards rushing and 158 passing. The Bears had only three legitimate chances to score and failed all three times.

Mac Percival missed on field goal tries of 37 and 32 yards and Bruce Taylor picked off a Kent Nix pass on the San Francisco to stop the three drives.

The San Francisco defense also recovered two Chicago fumbles and intercepted four passes—three of Nix and one off Bobby Douglas.

"I'm not really sure but I think that was our best defensive game since I've been coach," said Nolan.

It was the first shutout for the 49ers since they whitewashed the Los Angeles Rams, 35-0, way back in 1961.

Gene Washington, double-teamed throughout, made a circus catch of a 12-yard pass from John Brodie between two Chicago defenders for the game's only touchdown and Bruce Gossett booted field goals of nine and 15 yards to account for all the scoring. Brodie didn't have a very good day even though he hit on 20 of 35 passes for 213 yards. He missed receivers in the clear at least a half dozen times, twice with over throws into the end zone.

BIG DAY FOR WILKINSON

Drake Triumphs Over Tamalpais

"It shouldn't have been that tough," Drake High School football coach Bob Franceschini mused after his Pirates rallied to defeat Tamalpais High, 25-13 Saturday at College of Marin field in Kentfield.

A 19-point Pirate fourth quarter, which featured two of halfback Phil Wilkinson's scoring runs, proved to be the difference.

"We're making progress," he added. "If we just cut down on our fumbles and mistakes, we'll be tough," the Drake mentor warned.

"We have the defense," he continued, "we've just got to learn to hang onto the ball."

Though he was a bit disappointed by the Pirate bobbles, Franceschini had many accolades for the defensive play of linebackers Rick Bozzio and Tom Perry, plus tackle Don Seward. "Perry always plays well," Franceschini smailed.

The white clad Tam men now 0-5 led the contest for 36 minutes and 59 seconds before Pirate quarterback Mike Symonds climaxed a 70-yard drive with a plunge from the one.

The speedy runner promptly ripped off scoring runs of 35 and 82 yards in the final eight minutes to ice the game.

Despite the classy dashing of the ever-improving Pirates, 2-3, the big play of the game involved an apparent Indian interception. With the Green and White driving methodically down field in the waning moments of the third perior, trailing 7-6 Symonds attempted to cross up the young Tam defense with a pass; but he threw a strike into linebacker

It's Lamonica To The Rescue In Raiders' Win Over Eagles

OAKLAND (UPI) —Like the legendary gridiron hero, sorelegged Daryle Lamonica came off the bench to start the second half and ignite the Oakland Raiders to another comeback victory.

Nursing a hamstring pull suffered last week against Denver, the veteran quarterback took over for ineffective Ken Stabler and flipped two touchdown passes. The Raiders needed only 4-and-a-half-minutes to score four touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters to turn back the pesky Philadelphia Eagles 34-10.

A record Oakland Coliseum crowd of 54,615 sat in glum silence as second-year quarterback Rick Arrington flipped a seven-yard touchdown pass to Tom Woodeschick, and Happy Feller booted a 31-yard field goal to give the Eagles a 10-0 halftime lead.

But Lamonica, with the aid of record-busting Fred Biletnikoff and safety George Atkinson, quickly turned the game around to bring Oakland its fourth American Football Conference victory in five starts. Philadelphia tumbled to its fifth straight defeat.

"Going out the ramp to start the second half, I asked Lamonica if he was ready," said Raiders coach John Madden. "He said 'sure,' so I told him to get in there and he really turned this thing around.

"It was another slow start. We really don't plan it this way. All week I kept saying Philadelphia is a tough team. Maybe now people will believe me."

It took Lamonica only 3:18

Seals Win Off The Ice; Lose On It

OAKLAND (UPI) — The California Seals won some and lost some over the weekend.

They lost 4-2 to the Pittsburgh Penguins Sunday night but gained some Chicago Black Hawk players and got to keep Gerry Pinder and Kerry Bond.

Seals general manager Garry Young said the deal with the Hawks Sunday was "very good."

"We are satisfied with the outcome of the trade," he said.

The deal settled a protested trade made earlier which brought goalie Gary Smith to the Black Hawks for Gerry Desjardins.

California protested the trade to National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell who put the matter to arbitration.

Arbitration hearings were held but the decision wiped out the need for an official ruling.

In the trade, the Hawks kept Smith but got Desjardins back and sent defenseman Paul Shmyr and rookie Jilles Meloche to the Seals.

Pinder and Bond came to the Seals along with Desjardins in the deal for Smith. They get to stay.

Although the decision may have satisfied Young, Sunday night's game certainly didn't.

DESPITE A BLACK FLAG

Revson Wins Grand Prix

MONTEREY, Calif. (UPI)— Peter Revson ignored a black flag signal telling him to move his smoking McLaren car to the pits Sunday and drove on to victory in the 171-mile Monterey-Castrol Grand Prix at Laguna Seca.

Since the New Yorker failed to heed the flag on the final two laps, there was a long meeting of race stewards before he was declared the winner. He was fined $250, however.

The black flag was an order to take to the pits the next time around for an examination of his smoky engine which officials feared might burst into flames. It didn't.

Officials had greeted Jackie Stewart in his Lola at the finish with the traditional checkered flag of the winner, but after the conference the long-haired Scot had to settle for second place.

Revson, who started in the pole position, averaged 109.154 miles an hour over the 91 laps and became the first American to win an individual championship in the 10-race Canadian-American Challenge Cup Series. It was his fifth victory in nine Can-Am races this year and there is just one more to go.

He and his partner, Denis Hulme, already had wrapped up the team championship for McLaren by taking six of the earlier Can-Am races.

A crowd of 43,850 watched on the picturesque course as Revson's time bettered the average of 106.071 set last year by Hulme, who finished third this time.

There was one accident on the 1.9-mile, nine-turn course. A Lola driven by Dave Causey of Carmel, Ind., went out of control, left the ground and crashed into the spectator area. Causey jumped clear of the wreckage and was not hurt although two women were cut slightly by flying debris. The Lola came to rest near a parked car.

The race was organized by the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula, a non-profit organization benefiting 43 charities and civic projects in the area.

Race officials awarded the Datson the 2.5 liter challenge manufacturers series which was run Saturday by upholding a protest lodged against winner Horst Kwech who was driving an Alfa.

John Morton, who finished second, asserted Kwech had a fuel tank larger than the allowable 15 gallons.

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It has been said that if the San Francisco 49ers had one weakness this year it was a lack of depth in the defensive secondary. The 49ers disproved that yesterday.

With free safety Roosevelt Taylor out of the entire game against the Chicago Bears with a pinched nerve in his right shoulder, and strong side safety Mel Phillips knocked out of action in the first quarter with a hurt ankle, it was up to the defensive reserves.

They came through in the persons of four-year man Johnny Fuller and second-year man Mike Simpson who did their share in shutting out the Bears in that 13-0 defensive show yesterday at Candlestick Park.

Like all defensive professional football games, it was a ho-hummer, a game of boredom. There were more turnovers in the game than in a French bakery. If you're one of those kind that count such things, there was a total of 11, six by the inept Bears and five by the 49ers. The Bears gave up four intercepted passes and two fumbles. It seemed nobody wanted the ball at times. You started getting the feeling the teams were playing with greasy kid stuff all over their hands.

To show no favoritism, the four 49er defensive backs — Fuller, Simpson and cornerbacks Bruce Taylor and Jimmy Johnson — each had one interception.

A couple of times Bruce Taylor got up slowly and one time he was even limping. Gads, I thought. Who to go in? There was still rookie Tonny Harris, but Taylor gutted it out. But he did look mighty tired when the game was finally over.

What a great start for football yesterday in chilly, windy Candlestick. Tennessee Ernie Ford did a great job with the national anthem, and then hundreds of red, white and blue balloons came bubbling out of the visiting side baseball dugout.

The opening kickoff was back to the end zone for a touchback and the 49ers had the ball, first and 10. Great. First play of the game and there's John Brodie back to pass. He lets go and speedy Vic Washington has the ball on the Bears' 41 but he's hit hard and the ball rolls loose for a fumble, the Bears recover. It can't be, I say to myself, another one of THOSE games. But the 49ers kept their cool, thank goodness.

Although the 44,133 fans in the park gave the Niners' defensive team loud cheers time and again, it didn't take them too long before they were booing the National Football League's most valuable player. Those familiar boos of the lean Kezar days were loud and clear after Brodie's second pass interception.

But in all fairness, Brodie's 20 completions in 35 tries and 213 yards was much better than Bear Kent Nix's 13 for 38 and 148 yards. The Bears can have their Nix, I'll take Brodie, thank you.

Things really looked bad for Brodie when he had fullback Larry Schreiber all alone in the end zone and missed the target by a good 15 yards in the fourth quarter 11 yards from the goal line. The very next play he made up for it by hitting Gene Washington in the end zone for the game's only touchdown. There were two earlier field goals by Bruce Gossett, nine and 15 yarders, but for football fans, a field goal is a boring weapon unless it wins a game in the last seconds. So to say the fans were starving for some offensive excitement when Washington made that leaping catch for the score almost 50 minutes into the game would be understating the case.

But a shutout! The fans who go to watch the defense had a treat. After all, the last time a 49er team had a shutout was back in 1961 when guys like Cedric Hardman were 13 years old.

Martin also extended kudos to quarterback Hoza Wright, a fast-developing sophomore, for "playing well under strong pressure. Our offense didn't generate as much as expected but. . ."

The former Terra Linda assistant coach's charges repeatedly invaded Trojan terrain, but they were unable to capitalize. In the first quarter, the visitors marched 50 yards to the Trojan 15 before surrendering the ball on downs. Three Wright aerials fell incomplete on sequences from the 15.

San Marin journeyed to the Trojan 39 in the second period before the host defense stiffened. The Mustangs ventured inside the Trojan 40 once in each of the final two quarters.

However, the Lucas defenders, aroused after last Saturday's 16-13 loss to host Novato High, kept the San Marin team at bay.

"It was a helluva game," Lucas told Martin as the two shook hands following the final gun.

Pirates Celebrate World Series Win

In the last of the eighth, the Orioles staged their only rally when Elrod Hendricks and Mark Belanger singled and Tom Shopay moved them along with a sacrifice. Hendricks scored as Don Buford grounded out, but Blass retired Dave Johnson on a grounder as Belanger raced home in vain.

Then Blass blew the Orioles down 1-2-3 in the ninth inning on just eight pitches —and the Pirates had completed one of the most amazing comebacks in Series history.

If ever a team seemed headed for defeat, it was the Pirates after they lost the first two games of the Series here, 5-1 and a humiliating 11-3.

The Pirates came close to doing that, sweeping three games at home and then losing Saturday's game here, 3-2, before winning Sunday. They

The Pirates came close to doing that, sweeping three games at home and then losing Saturday's game here, 3-2, before winning Sunday. They were the fifth team in Series history to win the championship after losing the first two games.

The Pirates were supposed to have little pitching —they didn't have a single 20-game winner, while the Orioles were the first team in 51 years to have four of 'em. But in the end, it was Pirate pitching that did the Orioles in —holding them to eight runs and 21 hits in the last five games.

"First of all," he said in the delirious Pirate dressing room, "I want to say I'm proud to be a member of this no-20-game winner pitching staff."

Marin head coach Bruno Banducci mourned the loss of his "big gun," saying that Parnow has scored 10 of the team's touchdowns this year, and was "as good as any back in the county. I wouldn't trade him for anyone," and Banducci.

A bad center snap in a punting situation with 27 seconds to go in the half set up the Wildcat score, which came on an 11-yard option pass four plays later. The Marin mentor explained the pass was "always in the list of plays for a game," but has been used infrequently up until now. He said it forces the defensive back to make a decision about covering for a run or a pass, leaving an option open for the halfback, in this case Cozza.

Banducci, a former San Francisco 49er great, was enthusiastic over his defensive unit's play. "They deserve the credit for the win. After all, you can't lose when holding your opponent scoreless!"

He cited seniors Steve Vanni, Jim Filippi, and John Iavarone as really outstanding in rushing Healdsburg Hound quarterback Dave Borowicz. The opposing signal caller completed only one pass out of 15 tries.

Banducci also lauded reserve lineman Tom Collins for coming off the bench and "sacking their quarterback several times."

Strong-armed Steve Sherry connected on eight of 19 for the Wildcats, and missed on a possible fourth quarter touchdown when his wide open receiver couldn't handle a 50-yard bomb.

and six plays to bring the Raiders their first TD at the start of the second half when he connected with Biletnikoff on a 35-yard end zone pass. George Blanda's point-after kick was blocked by Ernie Calloway to end Blanda's consecutive PAT boots at 201, second best in pro football.

With time running out in the third period, Lamonica again hit Biletnikoff on a 46-yard sideline pattern to the Eagles 10 and Pete Banaszak lugged the ball into the end zone from the two.

On the first play from scrimmage after the ensuing kickoff, Atkinson picked off a Pete Liske pass at the Eagles 22. Lamonica then lofted a pass to Eldridge Dickey and the wide receiver zigged and zagged around three tacklers while winding his way 27 yards into the end zone.

Fifteen seconds later on the ensuing kickoff, Atkinson picked up a fumble and sprinted 26 yards to up the Raiders lead to 27-10. It took the Raiders only 1:19 to score the Banaszak, Dickey and Atkinson TDs.

Cal State Dumps Sonoma Staters

Sonoma State College's footballers were trounced, 42-21 Saturday in Santa Rosa by Cal State of Hayward.

Mike Jacinto paced the winners with two touchdown passes, while his Sonoma quarterbacking counterpart Ernie Simon fired three. Simon's productions went to Greg Akula, 36 yards, Charles Porter, 7 yards, and Jack Trujillo, 29 yards. The latter has now snagged five touchdown tosses, four less than he scored all last year.

The visitors broke the game open in the first quarter when Earl Glaude returned an errant Cossack field goal attempt 95 yards for the points which put Hayward ahead to stay.

Tim Nowell's surprised hands. The quick reacting defender returned the errant aerial some 30 yards, however, Nowell was called for pass interference.

With this reprieve, the Pirates picked up the remaining 23 yards for the go-ahead points.

The hosts quickly regained possession when Tom MacAusland pilfered a Pat Locey pass, lugging it nine yards to the Tam 26; a play later, Wilkinson motored the final 35 yards, 19-7 Drake.

The visitors paraded some 63 yards after the ensuing kickoff, but a fourth down Locey to Greg Biber toss fell short. In the second quarter, they collaborated on a 32-yard scoring pass. The Pirates then punched the ball out to the 18, setting the stage for Wilkinson's 82-yarder.

The speedy back boomed into the line. After the expected crash failed to materialize, Wilkinson sprinted the remaining 80 yards untouched.

After the battle, Indian coach Mike Davlin praised Locey for his passing and Biber played well too. Middle guard (Bob) Brewster also stood out.

Four Victories In Jr. Hockey

The Northern California Junior Hockey Association completed a full slate of weekend contests Sunday.

Marin downed visiting Belmont 2-1 in Squirts play; the Marin Pee Wees trimmed the host San Francisco team 6-4; and the Marin Bantams whitewashed the visiting Sun Valley team 6-0. John Rotar registered his first shutout in the latter tilt.

In Saturday play: the Marin bantams beat the host Hayward delegation 5-1 and the Marin mites lost 7-1 to Eastridge on the winner's San Jose ice.

Warriors Lose To The Bullets

Wes Unseld held the Warriors' high scoring Nate Thurmond to just nine points Saturday as his Baltimore Bullets dumped the West Coast club, 109-93.

NFL ROUNDUP

Manning Leads Saints In Stunner Over Dallas

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Archie Manning is slowly replacing jazz as New Orleans' most exciting entertainment.

The rookie quarterback from Mississippi engineered his second major upset of the National Football League season Sunday when he ran for two touchdowns and passed for another to pace the Saints to a 24-14 victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

Manning, whose touchdown with one second left gave the Saints an upset victory over the Los Angeles Rams in the season opener, scored on runs of 15 and three yards and passed 29 yards to Tony Baker for another score before a crowd of 83,088 which watched in near Pandemonium.

The Saints, who led 17-0 at the half, almost let the game get away from them as the Cowboys rallied behind the passing of Roger Staubach to draw within three points early in the final period.

But the cowboys' offense stalled midway through the final quarter and manning wrapped up the game for New Orleans by scoring on a three-yard run with only 47 seconds left after Dave Kopay recovered a Dallas fumble on the Cowboys' three-yard line.

In other action, Washington ran its record to 5-0 by blanking St. Louis, 20-0; Cleveland squeezed by Cincinnati, 27-24; Detroit walloped Houston, 31-7; Minnesota defeated Green Bay, 24-13; Oakland Beat Philadelphia, 34-10; Baltimore routed the Giants, 31-7; and the Jets whipped Buffalo, 28-17.

Also, Los Angeles defeated Atlanta, 24-16; San Francisco blanked Chicago, 13-0; Miami crushed New England, 41-3; and Denver nipped San Diego, 20-16. Pittsburgh is at Kansas City in tonight's nationally televised contest.

Jack Pardee intercepted three passes and Larry Brown rushed for 150 yards as Washington remained the lone undefeated-untied team in pro football. The Redskins intercepted four passes and recovered three fumbles in defeating the cardinals for the second time this season.

Bo Scott scored three touchdowns, including the decisive one with 39 seconds remaining on a four-yard run, to spark Cleveland's victory over ex-coach Paul Brown's Bengals. The Browns marched 48 yards on their final to drive with Scott bursting off tackle for the final four.

Steve Owens scored two touchdowns and Lem Barney scored on a 28-yard run with a pass interception as Detroit blitzed Houston. The Lions also got a 35-yard scoring pass from Greg Landry in handing the Oilers their fourth loss.

Alan Page blocked an attempted extra point and set up a touchdown with a fumble recovery in sparking Minnesota to its victory over Green Bay. Gary Cuozzo paced the Vikings' offense with three touchdown passes.

Norm Bulaich scored on a 34-yard run and a 27-yard pass from Earl Morrall in pacing the Colts to victory over the Giants. Bob David passed for two touchdowns as the Jets handed the Bills their fifth successive loss and Roman Gabriel scored the decisive touchdown with 4:50 to play in Los Angeles' come-from-behind victory over Atlanta.

Bob Griese passed for four touchdowns in Miami's rout of New England and Floyd Little shook off an injury to score the decisive touchdown in Denver's upset of San Diego.

Tomales '11' Crushes Foes, 33-6

Tomales High School downed St. Vincent's of Petaluma, 33-6 Saturday on the winner's field.

Quarterback Jim Joyce ran for one touchdown and threw for two more in sparking the Braves' homecoming triumph. His pair of six point strikes to end Bruce Pickering covered eight and 42 yards.

Halfback Spirto Ballatore contributed the other two tallies on runs of 10 and 11 yards, while the Braves evened the log at 2-2-1.

Score by quarters

St. Vincents'	6	0	0	0	— 6
Tomales	6	6	7	14	— 33

T — Joyce 4 run (kick failed); SV — Soares 40 fumble recovery return (kick blocked); T — Pickering 8 pass from Joyce (kick failed); T — Ballaytore 10 run (Richardson kick); T — Pickering 42 pass from Joyce (Richardson kick); T — Ballatore 11 run (Richardson kick).

English Cyclist Wins In Ontario

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI) — John Cooper of Derby, England, won the $100,000 champion motorcycle classic Sunday when he took the second 125-mile heat after finishing third in the first.

Art Baumann, Central Valley, Calif. was fourth.

Three Shutouts In Youth Soccer

Dynamos downed the Rangers, 2-0; Kickers whitewashed Rovers, 3-0; Internationals whipped Hotspurs, 1-0; and United decisioned the Celtics, 2-1 in Marin Youth Soccer Association play Saturday at Ross Common.

In another game, the Vikings of Ross topped the Mill Valley All Stars, 4-1 Friday in the first reported inter-city youth soccer game in Marin County. Mark Dayton scored all four Ross goals.

Stanford Powers To Easy Victory

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Stanford's new power-I formation spelled Insult to USC football coach John McKay.

"Stanford used the power-I formation and ran it down our throats and made us like it," said McKay after the Indians handily disposed of the Trojans 33-18 Satuday night to solidify their hold on first place in the Pacific-8 Conference.

Coach John Ralston of Stanford admitted the power-I was the new wrinkle the Indians worked on behind closed gates during last week's practice sessions.

"That power-I offense is new to us," said Ralston. "IT was something I had learned from McKay who used to use it."

Despite wins over top challengers USC, Oregon and Washington, Ralston figures the Indians might have some prickly moments heading into the second half of the season before nailing down the conference title and a second straight trip to the Rose Bowl.

"It's far too early for us to start thinking of the Rose Bowl," said Ralston. "We've only gone halfway. We have to take advantage of playing four of our last five games at home."

Things didn't look too difficult for the Indians Saturday night as they piled up 393 yards to 254 for the Trojans. That dropped USC to 0-2 in the Pac-8 and 2-4 overall.

In other Pacific-8 games, Oregon turned back Washington 23-21 and California edged Washington State 24-23. Against non-conference foes, Oregon State ended Arizona State's 21game victory streak with a 2418 victory and UCLA overpowered Arizona 28-12.

In the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, Long Beach State drubbed Los Angeles State 36-7, San Diego State edged UC Santa Barbara 27-23 and Fresno State defeated Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo 13-10. In nonconference action, San Jose State blew a 21-7 lead and was tied 21-21 by New Mexico, and Idaho handed University of Pacific its sixth straight loss this season 13-12.

Bob Lutz Wins Pro Tennis Tour Round

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

COLOGNE, Germany — Bob Lutz of Tiburon today won the 17th round of the world professional tennis tour on a 6-3, 6-7, 6-3, 6-2 victory over fellow-American Jeff Borowiak of Lafayette in the final.

The victory earned Lutz $10,000 dollars while Borowiak received $5,000 dollars as the beaten finalist.

Auto Racing

DELAWARE — What could have been a disaster for Richard Petty turned into his 18th victory of the NASCAR season.

Petty had his 1971 Plymouth spin into the pit wall with 29 miles to go in Sunday's Delaware 500 at Dover Downs. He was well behind leader Bobby Allison but Allison was forced to make a four-minute pit stop to change a broken hubstub and Petty charged into the lead.

Petty averaged better than 123 miles per hour, a 500 record, to beat Charlie Glotzbach by 11 seconds. Allison came back to finish third.

Golf

PINEHURST, N.D. — Sam Snead ran away from the pack with a tree-under-par 69 Sunday to take home $15,000 and the National Club Professional Championship.

Snead, the winningest pro in American golf history, birdied six holes on his way to a five-stroke win over Jerry Steelsmith of Syracuse, N.Y., and Ron Letellier of Manhasset, N.Y., who tied for second.

The 59-year-old Snead from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., had a 72-hole total of 275, eleven-under par, to 280 totals for Steelsmith and Letellier.

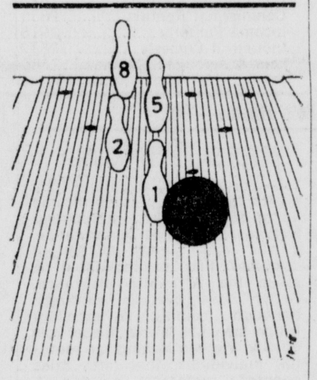
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Fortunately the 1-2-5-8 spare shot isn't one we have to make frequently, but it does come up once in a while. Your best shot is your strike ball, which means you must resist the urge to let the ball go to the left and cover the 1-2 pins. A ball in the "1-3" pocket (even though the 3-pin isn't there) should clear the deck.

Simply say "C.C."

Today, more men and women everywhere welcome Canadian Club. New friends appreciate its gentle manners. The pleasing way it behaves in mixed company. Old friends admire its unmistakable character. A taste not matched by any whisky, anywhere. C.C.—the taste that's ahead of its time. Taste why, tonight.

HOW TO WATCH YOUR PROPERTY GO DOWN THE DRAIN

Just be a do-it-yourselfer.

If you don't have the know-how, profits could drain away without your knowing it.

A better idea is to put your property in the hands of one of our experts who specializes in property management.

We're Realtors; professionals who'll see that your property is operated in an efficient manner. And all the time you'll know we're working in your best interests, because we're pledged to a strict code of ethics.

Keep us in mind when you have property to manage.

WHAT A REALTOR CAN DO FOR YOU

Many, many things — whether you are a buyer or seller. For instance, a realtor will advise you about locations and give you expert advice on complex matters of maintenance, taxes, quality of construction, adequacy of public services.

Fund Help To Be Sought For Flooding

The advisory board of the Ross Valley Flood Control Zone will ask Marin County supervisors tomorrow for help in getting federal aid to solve flooding problems at Ross Commons.

Edward W. Colthurst, board chairman, said the Army Corps of Engineers has rejected all pleas for help on grounds that flooding in Ross Commons is a local problem and not connected with the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project.

Colthurst will ask the supervisors to write Congress for help.

This item is expected to go before the supervisors between 11 a.m. and 12 noon.

The supervisors' all-day meeting will begin at 9 a.m. tomorrow with a joint session with the Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission in Room 332.

At 10:30 a.m. the supervisors will reconvene in chambers for the rest of the agenda.

Other topics to be discussed include:

GRIEVANCES — The county personnel commission will recommend that four county employees who suffered salary losses because of reclassifications be restored to their previous positions.

FAIRGROUNDS — The county administrator will recommend that a policy be set on future use of the Civic Center fairgrounds by such groups as the Marin Civic Ballet.

FIREHOUSE — Revised plans will be presented for the proposed Marin City firehouse in an effort to cut costs.

SEPTIC TANK — A revised draft of the county's new septic tank ordinance will get a public hearing.

AGRICULTURAL PRESERVE — Assessor Bert W. Broemmel will recommend that agricultural preserve contracts be rescinded for 38 parcels of property, each with less than 100 acres.

SEASHORE — The county parks and recreation commission will present a resolution asking for protection of Point Reyes National Seashore natural assets while the National Park Service completes its master plan.

Only 80 Trees Are Involved

Donald Rolph, Marin County park planner, says that a Novato Civic Foundation grove at Stafford Lake Park contained 80 trees and not 250 when the county moved onto the site and that the county did not bulldoze any of the trees.

In a picture caption Friday, the Independent-Journal reported that 250 trees were in the grove when the county began developing the park.

Overseas Toll Dialing Step Closer

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. has taken the first step toward direct overseas dialing by setting up a toll center in which operators place customer calls directly to six select countries.

More than 2,000 operators in the 14 telephone long distance offices in the Bay Area, including San Rafael, have been trained for the new service. Customer calls are place directly to Australia, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Japan and Great Britain, according to Jack Eddy, district manager.

Wilma Dudley, traffic staff assistant, said an operator handling the overseas calls may have to dial as many as 17 digits, including a six-digit access code for each country, a ring-forward code which automatically brings in a language assistance operator when necessary, a three-digit prefix number and a four-digit line number.

Overseas calling, according to Eddy, will eventually be carried a step further by a system called International Direct Distance Dialing.

A CHILD'S GAME, A PARENT'S WOE

Approximately $2,000 worth of personnal possessions by county fire department estimate were reduced to this pile of charred rubbish today when a 5-year-old boy started playing with matches in a bedroom closet of his Santa Venetia home. The fire, reported at 8:08 a.m. in the apartment of Laura Prater at 10 La Brea Way, also did approximately $8,000 damage to the apartment building, according to the county fire department. Flames spread to the bedroom and there was smoke damage throughout the apartment. These San Rafael firemen were two units that turned out to assist the county's two units.

Kosygin Attacked In Canadian Crowd

Hungarian Assailant In Custody

OTTAWA (UPI) — A man shouting "long live Hungary!" broke through police lines and attacked Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin today. He fixed an armlock around the Soviet leader's neck before being dragged off by guards, Kosygin was not hurt, but appeared shaken.

Kosygin, 67, was accompanied by Canadian Prime Mincster Pierre Elliott Trudeau when the attack occurred. Trudeau was not harmed.

UPI photographer Jean Alarie, who was so close his lip was cut in the scuffling, said the assailant "actually got his forearm around Kosygin's neck" before being dragged away by security guards.

Another man also was taken into custody in connection with the attack.

Alarie said the assailant jumped from a group of demonstrators into the crowd of newsmen around Kosygin and then leaped at Kosygin's back as he passed.

Kosygin's coat was pulled off his shoulders.

Kosygin, was surrounded by Royal Canadian Mounted Policemen and rushed into the Parliament building.

The attack on Kosygin was made despite extremely tight security measures that were taken following the discovery by police during the night of two bombs and a number of incendiary devices near the Soviet embassy.

As the assailant was taken away by police he shouted his name was Giza Matrai, the name of a Toronto man who has been active in the extreme right wing Edmund Burke Society —Canada's equivalent of the John Birch Society in the United States.

Matrai is also active in a group known as the "Hungarian Freedom Fighters," a prominent anti-Communist organization.

The assailant had long hair and appeared to be in his late 20s. He was wearing a black leather jacket. The other man picked up in connection with the attack was not identified.

As the assailant was hustled off to an office in Parliament's East Block, he kept shouting "Long live Hungary!" "Freedom for Hungary!" "Down with the Russians!"

Kosygin originally had been scheduled to leave the Parliament buildings in a limousine, but at the last moment Trudeau decided to walk with Kosygin to the East Block where the attack occurred.

The security forces protecting Kosygin had been beefed up following the discovery of the bombs by police as the Soviet leader and Trudeau began two days of wide-ranging discussions.

ATTACK IN OTTAWA — A Hungarian youth attacked Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin on Parliament Hill in Ottawa today while he was walking with Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau. Kosygin (center) is being moved out of the way by Canadian police as they attempted to subdue the attacker (not visible).

Top Soviet Aide In Disclosures

BRUSSELS (UPI)—A Soviet official who disappeared two weeks ago has made disclosures about the activities of Soviet citizens in Belgium and requested political asylum in the United States, a foreign ministry spokesman said today.

Anatole Chebotarev, 38, an official of the Soviet trade mission in Brussels, had been missing since Oct. 3 when the Soviet Embassy in Brussels asked Belgian police to look for him.

The blue Russian-made Scaldia automobile in which Chebotarev disappeared was found four days later near the yacht harbor of the North Sea port town of Zeebrugge, raising speculation that Chebotarev crossed the channel to Britain.

Police sources said Chebotarev was picked up at Nieuwport on the North Sea coast and taken to Britain aboard a small boat. Once in Britain, Chebotarev applied to the U.S. Embassy for political asylum, which was granted, the sources said.

"The government confirms that Chebotarev has requested political asylum in the United States," the ministry spokesman said.

"Chebotarev has made statements about the activities of Soviet citizens in Belgium. The government was informed of them.

"As in the past, the government does not admit any activity which might endanger its security and that of international organizations established on its territory," the statement said.

The reference to international organizations implied the activities might be connected with North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and Supreme Allied Command Europe (SHAPE) headquarters, established in Belgium.

The foreign office statement did not say how many alleged agents were involved. Newspaper reports have said Chebotarev gave the names of between 30 and 40 Soviet agents.

Ohta Death Suspect Trial Under Way

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI)—John Linley Frazier went on trial today for the murders of Dr. Victor Ohta and four others, just one day less than a year after the crimes.

Santa Cruz County District Attorney Peter Chang and the public defender, James A. Jackson, undertook the lengthy process of selecting jurors from a panel of 240 prospective candidates.

Guard On Rap Brown Is Doubled

NEW YORK (UPI)—The police guard was doubled Sunday at Roosevelt Hospital where black militant H. Rap Brown was recovering from gunshot wounds received in a shootout with police. A patrolman, also injured in the battle, was moved into a separate room.

Brown, who disappeared 19 months ago and was on the FBI's "most wanted" list, was wounded after a holdup in a bar early Saturday.

At least 20 detectives and patrolmen were outside Brown's recovery room Sunday compared with half that many Saturday. Other patrolmen were stationed at the hospital entrances and police with walkie-talkies patrolled the corridors.

The security precautions were taken to prevent someone from freeing Brown and to protect the injured patrolman, Gary Hunt, a policeman said.

Brown's condition was listed as "fair" today and Hunt's as "satisfactory." Another patrolman injured in the shootout, Salvatore Rosato, did not require hospitalization.

Hunt Initially was hospitalized in the same room as Brown, but was moved at the police department's request. "He's entitled to his own room," a police spokesman said.

Mayor John V. Lindsay visited Hunt Sunday and reported he "looked well and is recuperating."

Historic Two-China Talks Open In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United States today urged U.N. membership for Communist China but on the United Nations' own terms and with a seat in the General Assembly preserved for Nationalist China.

U. S. Ambassador George Bush followed Albania and Algeria as third speaker in the historic debate which is expected to change the course of U.N. history. The vote is expected in about 10 days.

Albanian Foreign Minister Nesti Nase, acting as Peking's spokesman, said the mainland government would not enter the U.N. as long as the Nationalists retain membership. He attacked the American two-China policy as an imperialist plot based on obsolete arguments.

Bush told the General Assembly he did not agree with predictions that Peking would refuse a U.N. seat if the Taiwan government were permitted to remain in the United Nations.

"Let us welcome a large and dynamic reality to our midst," Bush said. "But let us do it not on its own terms but on the U.N.'s terms.

"Let us affirm representation for the People's Republic of China but let us vigorously protect the principle that some smaller reality — in this case the Republic of China —which has abided by the charter never fear that it will be expelled to accommodate a larger reality."

No nation has ever been expelled from the U.N. Bush said to do so would set a dangerous precedent.

Bush countered the Albanian demand for expulsion of "the Chiang Kai-shek clique" with two measures. One would give Peking a seat in both the General Assembly and the Security Council, where there is a veto power.

A second measure would require a two-thirds majority vote of the assembly to expel the Taiwan government. Diplomats said the issue was in doubt that Bush has expressed optimism Albania could not muster a two-thirds majority.

Bush said the U. S. proposal would insure continued representation for Taiwan's 14 million people, bring Peking into the U.N. and give representation to all Chinese without interfering with their internal problems.

Bush said once Nationalist China was expelled its readmission under any name would be difficult because Peking could veto it. And he said if Taiwan were expelled it could mean others could fear expulsion solely because their right to govern was disliked by others.

"The United States has continued to commit grave crimes against China," Nase

Tiburon Annex Vote Tomorrow

Residents of Strawberry, Bel Aire, Eagle Rock and Bayview Heights will go to the polls tomorrow to vote on whether they want to annex to Tiburon. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Two separate elections will be held; one for the areas north of Tiburon Boulevard; the other for land to the south, including Strawberry Town and Country Village shopping Center.

Audubon To Acquire Tomales Bay Land

The Audubon Canyon Ranch reported today it plans to purchase 42 acres of Tomales Bay tidelands and will acquire another nine acres as a gift sometime in the future.

According to Dr. Martin L. Griffin Jr. of Kentfield, the group plans to use the property as a center for nature and conservation education.

The gift, he said, is the nine-acre Cypress Grove property about one mile north of Marshall.

The property consists of tidelands, salt and fresh water ponds and an ancient grove of Monterey cypress trees which harbor a nesting colony of black-crowned night herons.

A cluster of Victorian cottages at the former hunting club will be used to house students and the main building will be used for classrooms, dining facilities and administrative offices.

The ranch, however, declined to give further details of the gift and purchase deals.

William S. Picher of Belvedere, treasurer for the ranch, said the gift will be left to the ranch upon the death of its owner whom he would not identify.

As part of the education center, the ranch has agreed to purchase six parcels of tideland property now owned by Edward and Oscar Johansson of Point Reyes Station.

Picher, who would not disclose the purchase price for the parcels, said the money must be raised through private donations to the ranch.

Two of the Johansson parcels adjoin the Cypress Grove property while the others are scattered along the eastern shore of the bay between Bivale and Blakes landings.

When complete, the Cypress Grove refuge and study center will extend some three miles along the water, Dr. Griffin said.

The Johansson property was formerly used for oyster growing but is being sold because the owners wish the lands to be kept as open space and as a wildlife refuge.

Adlai Seeks Law For Gun Owners

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., called Monday for legislation to require all handgun owners to obtain a federal license. He also advocated registration of all handguns.

Stevenson said his proposal was "a compromise between the extremes of those who unrealistically propose to outlaw all handguns and those on the other hand who resist any effort to control the possession and ownership of any guns."

Germ Warfare Lab Will Be Converted

FT. DETRICK, Md. (UPI) — President Nixon announced plans today to convert the Army's germ warfare laboratories here into a cancer research center, converting the facilities to "saving lives rather than destroying lives."

Nixon said the sprawling Army post, once one of the government's most secret bases, will be thrown open to scientists from throughout the world.

"Scientists from all over the world can share the information and help work to the end of conquering cancer," Nixon said in brief remarks to a crowd of about 1,000 persons including many of the post's employes who were excused from work for the occasion.

Army Rests In Henderson Case

Ft. MEDE, Md. (UPI) —The Army completed presentation of its case today against Col. Oran K. Henderson, accused of covering up the mass slaying of unarmed South Vietnamese civilians in the village of My Lai in 1968.

The 62nd and final witness called by the prosecution was a former major, Clyde Wilson, who at the time of the massacre of more than 100 persons was an officer in a helicopter unit involved in the My Lai sweep by U. S. troops. Wilson shed little new l ght on the case.

The defense will start presenting its direct evidence next month.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Belfast Deaths

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — More British troops arrived in Northern Ireland today, part of 1,850 reinforcements ordered by Prime Minister Edward Heath's government to combat increasing violence.

Security forces in the province suffered their worst weekend in two years, an army spokesman said. Snipers' bullets killed three soldiers and wounded three policemen. Two other policemen were killed Friday.

In incidents Sunday night and today, a soldier saw a man about to throw a nail bomb at his patrol in the Roman Catholic Andersontown area of Belfast and shot him. The spokesman said. It exploded beside him. The patrol came under fire, and when it returned to the area the body was gone.

Sexton Gets The Purple Heart

DENVER (UPI) — A young soldier who spent 26 months as a prisoner of the Viet Cong before walking out of the Vietnam jungles to safety was awarded the purple heart Sunday in ceremonies in his hospital room.

Sexton

Maj. Gen. James Wier, commanding general of Fitzsimons General Hospital, presented the citation to Army S. Sgt. John Sexton Jr., 23 of Warren, Mich.

Among those watching the ceremonies were Sexton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sexton Sr. of Warren.

Sexton, the 24th American to be released by the Viet Cong, suffered shrapnel wounds and a concussion Aug. 12, 1969, when his armored troop carrier was hit by a Communist rocket. He was taken prisoner at that time. Spokesmen at the Army hospital said Sexton was awarded a purple heart with a second oak leaf cluster —the equivalent of two purple hearts.

THE CHASE IS ON — Dollar bills floating down from a nearby building were chased by some of the 100,000 baseball fans who jammed downtown Pittsburgh following the final game of the World Series. The Pirates won the game, 2-1, and the series.

Sato Gets A Letter From Nixon

TOKYO (UPI) — California Gov. Ronald Reagan met with Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato today and gave him a personal letter from President Nixon.

The Republican governor, here on the last leg of his tour of six Asian countries, called on Sato at the prime minister's official residence this afternoon and had a "general discussion" during his one hour and 15 minute meeting with the Japanese conservative leader.

Japanese government officials said Sato and Reagan talked about U.S.-Japanese relations and the China issue, but they declined to reveal contents of their discussion.

Reagan appeared to be well on his way to recovery from a bout of fever and a stomach ailment suffered in South Korea and smiled at photographers as he posed with Premier Sato before adjourning to Sato's office.

Soviet Naval Force

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Soviet naval task force, including at least one missile-firing nuclear submarine, appears to be headed toward Cuba, the Washington Post reported today.

The Post quoted informed sources that the sub — there might be two — was of the older "Echo" class capable of firing eight missiles, rather than the newer, 16-missile "Yankee" class that is similar to the American Polaris sub.

A rift in U.S.-Soviet relations was brought about last November when U.S. officials said it appeared the Russians were building a sub refueling facility at Cienfuegos Bay in Cuba.

Theater Brawl

MIAMI (UPI) — A brawl broke out Sunday in a theater showing a movie about public school desegreation and spread into the streets. Police said they were uncertain whether there was any connection between the film and the disturbance.

Police say a number of youths began grabbing candy bars, and the disorder soon spread.

Synod Nears End

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — After more than 200 speeches on the Roman Catholic priesthood, delegates to the Third International Synod of Bishops were left with piles of background and position papers.

Delegates are expected to complete their work by tomorrow, after coping with hundreds of studies, including one prepared by the U.S. hierarchy at a cost of $500,000 for graphs, charts, documents and texts.

When delegates are finished, Vatican sources said, it was highly unlikely they will present any recommendations to Pope Paul VI to change the existing 12th century celibacy law which took up so much debate time.

"It seems perfectly clear that there will be no change in the celibacy law," said one high ranking prelate.

Young Want Teddy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Newly enfranchised voters between the ages of 18 and 21 prefer Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. over all other potential presidential candidates, according to a Gallop Poll.

The Poll, conducted for Newsweek Magazine, showed Kennedy with a 59 per cent to 28 per cent choice of young voters over President Nixon in the 1972 election. Among all voters, however, Kennedy trailed Nixon 42 per cent to 40 per cent.

The young voters polled also preferred Sens. Hubert Humphry, D-Minn., 42 per cent to 38 per cent and Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, 48 per cent to 35 per cent over Nixon. But New York Mayor John V. Lindsay polled the same as Nixon, 40 per cent.

Trip Speculation

WAIMEA, Hawaii (UPI) — White House officials deny the route of President Nixon's trip to Communist China has been decided but speculation has arisen he may take the same one as national security adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

Kissinger is spending his 48-hour stopover on his way to Peking at a ranch house near here owned by Laurence Rockefeller.

The speculation came mainly because the number of phones and security involved were more than what could be used for what has been called a "leisurely" trip to get Kissinger and his aides accustomed to time changes.

Nixon Orders Clarification On School Lunches

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has ordered the Agriculture Department to clarify its regulations regarding school lunches, after a group of 59 senators expressed fear that new rules would deprive 1 million poor children of free lunches.

William E. Tommons, Nixon's assistant for congressional relations, revealed the President's action Sunday in a letter of response to the lawmakers.

"The President has long been committed to the achievement of a program which provides a school lunch to every needy child," Timmons said. "He has been aware of questions raised concerning the Department of Agriculture's implementation of his policy and has directed the department to immediately clarify its regulations."

The senators claimed that the department had interpreted the eligibility standards for free or reduced-price lunches as a ceiling rather than a floor and this interpretation "will serve to eliminate at least 1 million children who would otherwise be eligible under the standards established by the states."

Inmate Dies At San Quentin

A 47-year-old San Quentin inmate died today in the prison's hospital from an advanced case of pneumonia, officials reported.

Harold Rand, a native of Dallas, Tex., died at about 1:55 a.m. after a brief illness, they said.

He was serving two to 10 years for narcotics violations. He was arrested in Los Angeles County and had been at San Quentin since 1966.

100,000 Pack The Streets In World Series-Mad Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—About 100,000 "overenthusiastic" fans swarmed into downtown streets Sunday night, jamming traffic, causing numerous incidents of vandalism and almost ruining their own victory celebration of the Pittsburgh Pirates' World Series victory. (For more on World Series, see Sports.)

Police said windows of "between 20 and 25 stores" were broken and the displays looted, two taxicabs were overturned, one of them set afire, and bottles were smashed on the streets.

Police said 24 persons were arrested by midnight, most of them for intoxication or disorderly conduct. Only one person, a 14-year-old boy who was allegedly caught with a pair of tennis shoes, was charged with looting.

"It was hectic," said patrolman Richard Campbell, who was in charge of the police headquarters dispatchers desk through the night. "Some characters took advantage of the situation and spoiled it."

Asked if the situation was riotous, Campbell said: "No, No, I wouldn't say that. There were just some bad eggs out there. It was an overenthusiastic crowd."

At least 65 persons were reported injured but only one was hospitalized. The others were treated and released for cuts, which, police said, were mostly a result of stepping on broken glass. Others were treated for head injuries and abrasions.

At one point part of the crowd began to surge out of control, police with arms locked pushed the mob back with billy clubs weilded, but a UPI correspondent there reported he saw no evidence of officers using the clubs.

Police also said they could not confirm reports that women in the downtown area were sexually molested.

Police inspector Horace McDaniel was also asked if conditions constituted a riot. He said: "in the sense that the incidents that occurred, they had no connection with the World Series. I would say the vandalism was done for the sake of vandalism.

Campbell and other police officers in the streets said youngsters, most of them in their teens, were responsible for the vandalism

"Some of them broke windows and started taking stuff out of the windows," Campbell said. "They cleaned out the windows at a shoe store and a jewel store. There were also a lot of wallets lifted."

Water On Mars? Spacecraft To Search For It

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)— America's Mariner 9 spacecraft, scheduled to go into orbit around Mars next month, should be able to determine if there is liquid water on the planet.

Only traces of water vapor have been detected on Mars by earthbound telescopes, and earlier Mariner spacecraft disclosed that the south polar cap is frozen carbon dioxide —dry ice.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) here said Mariner 9 has a spectrometer aboard that is sensitive to water vapor.

Terra Linda Merger, Tax On Ballot

(One of a series of articles to be published this week and next outlining the issues and presenting the candidates in the local elections Nov. 2)

Terra Linda residents will go to the polls Nov. 2 to decide whether to merge the community services district and the recreation-park district and to levy a maximum combined tax rate of $1.50 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for the community's 1,525 registered voters.

Four items will be on the ballot. Besides the merger and tax questions — Measures F and G, respectively — voters will be asked to elect five persons to a reorganized services district board which would take over the park and recreation functions. Lastly, in the event either Measure F or G failed, voters will choose three persons from a four-man slate running for seats on the present services district board.

Measures F and G will require only majority votes to pass.

Running for the reorganized district board are Robert N. Bennett, Hubert F. Cooper, Vernon H. Nicholson and Richard L. Less, all incumbent services district directors, and Henry Chazankin and Harold J. Reese, a member of the recreation-park district board.

Bennett and Less also are on the ballot to return to seats on the present services district board if the proposed merger fails. They are joined by challengers Chazankin and Reese.

Except for Nicholson, who didn't respond to an Independent-Journal questionnaire and who could not be reached by telephone, all the candidates said they favor the merger.

No formal opposition to the plan appeared on voter information sheets.

The proposed merger has deep overtones. Although originally opposed to the change, first proposed by the recreation-park board, the services district board changed its mind after San Rafael officials appeared before the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission earlier this year to request postponement of LAFC endorsement of a merger vote. The city officials said they wished to renew discussions with Terra Linda officials toward annexation of the 1,000-home unincorporated community.

During a subsequent meeting on annexation, Terra Linda officials made it clear they resented the interference of San Rafael in community matters. A merger vote ultimately was endorsed by the LAFC in May, and talk of annexation has died out.

Under a merger, the reorganized district would be empowered to levy a tax rate ($1.50) that is 16.5 cents higher than now imposed in the separate community services and recreation-park districts. A levy of 84.5 cents now is imposed in the community services district; 49 cents in the recreation-park district. Added to whatever the new agency imposed would be a 14.5-cent levy for bond redemption incurred by the recreation-park district.

Candidates reached by the I-J endorsed the merger for reasons of efficiency and economy.

Bennett, 33, of 648 Woodbine Drive, an employee benefit consultant for Bankers Life Nebraska, also believed the merged district "would be easier to understand for people in the community and easier for board members to get support from community members."

Bennett, like Nicholson, serves on the recreation-park district board as well as the community services agency.

While given increased taxing powers, there is no reason to believe the reorganized district would levy the full $1.50, Bennett added.

Chazankin, 31, of 623 Wakerobin Lane, pharmaceutical representative for Merck, Sharp and Dohme, said, "It's something that's been needed for a long time, primarily from a financial standpoint." Through combining functions, he hoped for considerable savings in operating costs.

Reese, 43, of 736 Penny Royal Lane, credit manager for Cokkledick-Kibbe, Oakland glazing contractors and glass distributors, said, "Everyone I've talked to is in favor of it. It would cut down on the number of agencies and whenever you do that, you get a little more efficiency in operations."

Less, 43, of 683 Las Colindas Road, owner of Northgate Drugs, said he didn't think the current recreation-park district agency had been "horribly responsive" to community needs. "An awful lot of (of time) has to be spent on maintenance of the area," he added. "I'd like to see some attention paid to that."

Cooper 54, of 606 Las Colindas Road, an engineer with the state Division of Highways, saw a merger solving the problem of "two boards pulling against each other."

Nicholson, the candidate who could not be reached, is a retired laboratory technician with Standard Oil. He lives at 563 Las Colindas Road.

A candidates' night tentatively has been set for Oct. 27 at the community center.

Muir Beach Fire Protection Due Vote

(One of a series of articles to be published this week and next by the Independent-Journal, outlining the issues and presenting the candidates in the local elections Nov. 2.)

The seven-member Bello Beach Volunteer Fire Department, which provides "holding action" fire protection in Muir Beach, will be replaced by the Muir Beach Community Services District if district voters approve Measure E on the Nov. 2 ballot.

Trucks from the Marin County Fire Department's Throckmorton Ridge Station would continue to supply most protection if the measure passes, but the services district would take over the responsibility of fighting fires during the first critical minutes until the county department's arrival.

According to Bruce E. Harlow, chairman of the services district, approval of Measure E will not raise the district's tax rate, which now stands at $1.02 per $100 assessed valuation.

It takes county trucks about 20 minutes to reach the small coastal community after a fire is reported, and Harlow said the first five to 10 minutes of a fire are the most crucial.

All personnel of the Bello Beach department, including Chief Ernest E. Emig, are volunteers. The department's only piece of equipment is a 1952 100-gallon pumper donated earlier this year by the county fire department.

Occasionally, Harlow said, volunteers have no one to man the telephone and a report of a fire could be missed at such a time. Takeover by the services district would guarantee 24-hour manning, he said.

If Measure E is approved, Harlow said he hopes the Bello Beach department will agree to turn the truck over to the services district.

Another reason for the proposed changeover was advanced by volunteer Joseph F. Rodriques. "We (volunteers) are all old men," said the 72-year-old rancher. "We need some young faces."

Chief Emig was on vacation and could not be reached to comment on whether the volunteers would turn over the truck to the services district.

County Fire Chief Richard D. Pedroli has promised to train two men who could then train other Muir Beach residents to fight fires if the measure is approved.

Harlow envisions a system under which a services district employee takes charge of the truck during the day and a resident who works days takes over at night and on weekends. Other trained volunteers would be on call and occasional drills would be held.

The only expenditure to the district would be in maintaining the truck and in a telephone alert system that would be connected to a siren to notify volunteers of a fire, according to Harlow.

No argument for or against the measure will appear on the ballot because, as services district director Mary O. Mosteller said, "Everyone in Muir Beach is aware of the fire danger."

Harlow said he is unaware of any opposition to the ballot proposal. There are 81 registered voters in the community, and the polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Sausalito Dishwasher Is Stabbed

A 24-year-old Sausalito dishwasher, walking on Bridgeway last night, was stabbed by a man who came up to him, struck and then walked on, Sausalito police reported.

Ronald J. Sykes, of 1050 Bridgeway, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with an abdominal wound.

Police today were seeking his assailant, described as a white male, about 5 feet, 3 inches tall and 115 pounds, with sandy brown hair and a white mustache.

Officers said Sykes told them he was walking south on Bridgeway near Princess Street about 6:40 p.m. when he saw the man walking toward him in the opposite direction, in the company of a woman and a dog.

Sykes told police the man approached him, said he did not like him (Sykes), then pulled a black-handled pocket knife from his pants pocket and thrust it into his abdomen. The victim said the man then extracted the knife and continued walking north. Police could not say whether Sykes was acquainted with his assailant.

According to Sykes, he exchanged no words with the man, except to tell him he "must be crazy" following the stabbing. Sykes is employed as a dishwasher for J.P.'s Restaurant, 621 Bridgeway.

said. For years, he said, the United States has tried to encircle the People's Republic of China by a string of military bases and to strangle it economically.

In spite of this policy, Nase said, Communist China has developed into a "powerful, prosperous socialist state."

The issue is expected to be decided by 10 or 12 nations which have not yet decided which way to vote. U.S. Ambassador George C. Bush was using both persuasion and parliamentary maneuvering to foster the U.S. Two China policy keeping both Chinas in the U.N.

Reading Test Report Is Due

A report on reading tests will be given the Novato Unified School District board when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the lecture hall at Novato High School.

The report will give results of tests given kindergarten through 12th grade children.

Other items on the agenda include discussion of endorsing the Marin Community College District $16.7 million bond issue and the north Marin County water district's $1.5 million bond issue, both on the Nov. 2 ballot.

Career Education Plan To Be Studied

The Marin County Board of Education, meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the district office in Corte Madera, will review the status of the Marin Career Education Program.

The year-old program offers vocational training in a wide range of fields from auto mechanics to food service and is open to anyone who meets qualifications based on need.

Teacher Bargaining Unit To Be Studied

Recognition of the Sausalito District Teachers Association as the bargaining and negotiating representative of credentialed employees in the district will be considered by the Sausalito School District board at 7:30 p.m. today in the district office.

The board also will consider hiring an educational aide.

One-Way Street Date On Agenda

The San Rafael City Council tonight will consider whether to put the one-way traffic into effect on four downtown streets before the Christmas shopping season or after.

The council will meet at 8 p.m. in city hall.

City Manager James H. McCown said plans to make A, B, C and D streets one-way may have to be held up because of traffic problems resulting if the San Rafael Sanitation District's sewer project blocks off one of the roads.

He explained that the sewer project running along Second and Third streets might block off one of the four streets and that would mean a motorist would have to detour two streets over instead of one street.

McCown said the council will also consider setting up a committee to work out a price agreement to buy the Courthouse property from Marin County.

The council is expected to hear a complaint by Russell Amos, 1415 Nye Street, that the recent grading for Boyd Hillside park has been detrimental to the privacy of his property, McCown said.

Two Contracts Before Board

The superintendent and assistant superintendent of the Tamalpais High School District apparently will receive no salary increase this year.

The district board, meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Redwood High School faculty lounge in Larkspur, will consider renewing their contracts for another three years and one year respectively. The contracts show no increase over their present salaries.

Supt. Wilber D. Hawkins earns $30,000 annually and his assistant, Robert D. Torrey earns $26,000.

On other matters, the board will continue discussion of student representation on the board, the $346,848 student center construction project at Tamalpais High School and a book selection policy, among other items.

Sewer Project To Be Studied

The Petaluma City Council will hear a preliminary report on financing a sewer plant enlargement project at its meeting today at 7:30 p.m.

The council has said it will consider putting a bond issue before voters in January to finance the project.

The council also will hear a report on the status of acquiring additional land for spoils in connection with planned spring dredging of the Petaluma River and will consider awarding a bid for the purchase of a new ambulance.

were arrested with Brown and ordered held in $150,000 bail after arraignment on charges in connection with the holdup. They were identified as Levi Ballentine, 24, Arthur Young, 25, and Sam Petty, 23. The four men apparently had spent some time in St. Louis, Mo., before coming to New York, police said.

Brown was the former head of the Student National Coordinating Committee (SNCC). Police had sought him since March, 1970, when he failed to appear for trial in Maryland on charges of conspiracy to incite riot and arson.

Santa Rosa Man Found Dead In Rohnert Park

A 64-year-old Santa Rosa man was found dead in his car near Rohnert Park Saturday at 12:45 p.m.

Pronounced dead at the scene was Henry Joseph Briand, 485 El Capitan Way, Santa Rosa. The Sonoma County Coroner's office said Rohnert Park police found the car parked on Petaluma Hill Road, north of East Cotati Avenue.

Police reported a hose had been attached to the Muffler and placed through the vent window on the left side of the car. The coroner's office said Briand has reportedly been despondent over ill health.

He is survived by a daughter, Denise Sweeney of Santa Rosa, and a son, Arthur Briand of San Francisco.

Bridge Leaper Is Identified

A woman who apparently leaped to her death from the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday has been identified by the San Francisco coroner's office as Dolores Golightly West, 43, of 50 Via La Paz, Greenbrae.

The California Highway Patrol said witnesses reported she jumped from the east side of the bridge at about 11:25 a.m. and fell to the water near the north tower of the bridge. Her body was recovered by a fisherman and turned over to the Coast Guard at Fort Point, San Francisco.

Officers said her car and a note indicating suicidal intent were found parked at Vista Point near the north end of the bridge. Funeral arrangements were pending today.

Planning Panel Due Discussion

The Rohnert Park City Council will consider forming a planning commission at its meeting today at 7 p.m.

Homeowner groups and the newly formed Citizens for a Planned Community have urged the council to delegate planning matters to a separate commission so more time can be devoted to planning.

The council also will hear a request to rezone 16 acres of agricultural land at the northeast corner of Commerce Boulevard and the Rohnert Park Expressway to enable a shoping center.

First Aid Taught By Red Cross

The Marin County chapter of the American Red Cross will conduct a six-week course in standard first aid beginning at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the San Rafael High School cafeteria.

The course will be taught by Ben Parsons, a volunteer instructor. Information may be obtained at the Red Cross office, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Solari Dies at 89

Mrs. Rosetta Solari, 89, of San Rafael, died yesterday in her home after a brief illness.

A native of Italy, she emigrated to California in 1906, arriving shortly after the earthquake. She lived in Petaluma briefly, then moved to San Rafael, living at 1811 Grand Avenue from 1913 until 1966. She lived with a daughter, Mrs. Edna Rossi, at 109 Eye Street.

She was a member of SPRSI, San Rafael, a Portuguese society.

She also is survived by a son, Harold A. Solari of San Rafael, and three grandchildren. Her late husband, Anthony, was a worker at the Tiburon yards of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

Mass of the Resurrection will be said at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

W. M. RODGERS

William M. Rodgers, 56, a lifelong Petaluma resident, died yesterday at a local hospital following a short illness.

Rodgers was born in Petaluma and was a graduate of St. Vincent's High School. He was a veteran of World War II.

Rodgers was employed by Koch and Sons in Corte Madera. He had previously worked for Western Dairy Co. in Petaluma and Petaluma Poultry Producers.

He is survived by his wife, Helen; a son, Ronald W. Rodgers of Petaluma; a daughter, Debra Rodgers of Petaluma; three brothers, John Rodgers of Arnold, Ernest and Stuart Rodgers of Petaluma; five sisters, Dorothy Moranto of San Jose, Irene Corda of Vallejo, Elsie Ramos, Helen Azevedo and Katherine Matthias of Petaluma; and two grandsons.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Vincent de Paul Church, followed by burial at Calvary Cemetery. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

R. H. HANSEN

Funeral for Robert H. Hansen, killed Saturday in a motorcycle accident on Shoreline Highway in Tamalpais Valley, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel, Mill Valley. Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Hansen, 19, of 164 Janes Street, Mill Valley, was born in San Rafael and had lived all his life in Marin. He had worked as a cook at the Hi Ho Motel in Mill Valley for a year.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Haral Hansen, and two sisters, Bonnie and Margret, all of the Janes Street address, and another sister, Joan De Vries, of Chicago.

B. K. KENDALL

Benjamin F. (Biff) Kendall, 69, former plant manager for Petaluma Poultry producers, died yesterday at a local convalescent hospital following a long illness.

He was born in Shelbyville, Tenn., and was brought to California as an infant. He was reared in Layton and attended Fresno State College.

Kendall was first employed by Del Monte Packing Co. and later worked for Swift and Co. before becoming plant manager for Petaluma Poultry Producers.

Kendall's first wife, Evelyn, died in 1958. He was married to Olive Barr Kendall in 1960.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Betty A. Gerhardt of Petaluma; a son, Carlton K. Kendall of Salem, Ore.; three sisters, Veta Hubbs of Durham, Katy Miller of Petaluma and Sammy Linvelle of Hanford, Kings County; and two grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma, followed by intombment at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

E. GREENWOOD

Edmund Greenwood, 63, a long-time resident of the Greenbrae Boardwalk, died yesterday in his home following a long illness.

A native of Rhode Island, he had lived in California for about 40 years, the past 25 at 105 Greenbrae Boardwalk.

A retired painter, he was a member of Painter's Local No. 83, San Rafael, and of the Greenbrae Rod and Gun Club.

He is survived by his wife, Amy; a son, Edmund B. Greenwood of Greenbrae; four sisters, Anna McIlmail, Mrs. Asteguy, Alice Mulligan and Mary Greenwood, all of Rhode Island; a brother, Jim Greenwood of Rhode Island, and a granddaughter.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Inurnment will be private.

ROBERT KILPI

Funeral for Robert Kilpi, 14, a student at Petaluma Junior High School, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma.

Kilpi died Friday at Hillcrest Hospital, two and a half hours after going into convulsions while riding in a friend's car. The Sonoma County coroner's office said cause of death has not yet been determined.

Kilpi was the son of Jack and Elaine Kilpi. He was born in San Francisco and had lived in Petaluma for 10 years where his father is employed as a truck driver.

Kilpi was a ninth grade student and had been a newspaperboy for the Petaluma Argus-Courier.

He is also survived by a sister, Stella R. Kilpi of Petaluma.

Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

JULIAN ZYCH

Private funeral has been held for Julian Anthony Zych, 48, of San Rafael, who died Thursday in a local hospital.

Zych and his wife, Wanda, lived at 247 D Street. He was born in Illinois and had lived in Marin County for 14 years.

Burial was a Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

MRS. KEARNEY

Requiem Mass for Irene Elizabeth Kearney of San Francisco, mother of Delores Leahy of San Rafael, will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. at St. Francis Solano Church in Sonoma.

Mrs. Kearney, 73, died Saturday at a local hospital following a long illness.

She was a native of Newark, Alameda County, and had lived in San Francisco, San Rafael and Sonoma.

Mrs. Kearney was a former member of Sonoma Valley Hospital Auxiliary; Catholic Social Service Auxiliary, Sonoma; Sonoma Golf and Country Club; American Red Cross Motor Corps, San Francisco; and the Ladies Sodality of St. Cecilias Church, San Francisco.

Besides Mrs. Leahy, she is survived by three other daughters, Margaret Fitzsimmons of Los Angeles, Beverly Renel of Sonoma and Rose Minucciani of San Francisco. She is also survived by 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The Rosary will be recited tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Bates, Evans and Fehrensen Mortuary, 19981 Broadway Sonoma.

Burial will be at St. Francis Solano Cemetery in Sonoma.

K. J. OLUFS

Funeral for K. Julius Olufs, 67, Petaluma poultry rancher, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

Olufs died Saturday at a local hospital following a short illness. He was born and reared in Petaluma and was a graduate of Sweet's Business College, Santa Rosa. He had operated the family poultry ranch on Chapman Lane.

Olufs was a member of the Petaluma Church of Christ, Petaluma Parlor Native Sons of the Golden West and Wilson Gun Club.

He is survived by his wife, Sophie; two sons, Julius H. Olufs of Windsor and Roy Olufs of Petaluma; a daughter, Carol Shaw of Hawaii; a brother, Adolph Olufs of Petaluma; a sister, Mrs. Martin Tennyson of Petaluma; and nine grandchildren.

Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

White Panther Plea For Permit Before Council

The White Panther Party's application for a home occupation permit will come before the Corte Madera Town Council tonight at 7:30 o'clock at town hall.

Their first request for a permit to continue operation of the "Food Conspiracy" was turned down in June by the council which requested additional information.

With the aid of an attorney, the group has re-applied for a permit to continue food distribution operations at 122 Willow Avenue — a residential neighborhood.

The council turned down the last request saying the group's activity — bulk purchase of food from farmers and wholesalers and then reselling it at cost — is not fitting in a residential neighborhood.

Adjourned Session Tomorrow Night

The Novato City Council will hold an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House to hear a report on the preliminary county master plan, and on the fiscal status of the city.

The items, and others, are left over from last week's lengthy regular meeting.

Closed Session

The Marin County Housing Authority board will meet in closed session in a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the housing authority office in Marin City to discuss pending litigation, according to Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director of the authority.

THE MORNING AFTER

Border Fighting Kills 29 N. Viets

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese paratroopers with U.S. artillery support killed 29 North Vietnamese Army (NVA) troops today in a sharp clash along the Cambodian border, the Saigon command said.

Seven government soldiers were killed and 20 wounded in the battle, three miles north of U.S. Fire Base Pace, a frequent target of Communist shellings in the past three weeks.

Pace, where 200 Americans and 700 South Vietnamese are based, took another eight rounds of 82MM mortar fire today, despite two American B52 bomber strikes Sunday and two more today within 1.5 miles of the base, 400 yards from the Cambodia border. In the bomber raids today, the B52s dropped 180 tons of explosives on Communist bunkers, the command said.

The U.S. command announced today that the American expeditionary force was reduced by another 4,000 men last week, bringing to 206,000 the number of troops remaining in South Vietnam.

This was the fewest since January, 1966, when there were 196,000 troops and it included only 20 ground combat battalions, compared to a high of 112 in April, 1969, when the American pullback began.

In a delayed report issued today, the Saigon command said two South Vietnamese Army (ARVN) infantry reconnaissance companies supported by artillery and tactical air strikes battled an estimated 500 Communist guerrillas Saturday, seven miles from Phu Giao district town, 33 miles north of Saigon.

ARVN troops, numbering about 320, killed 29 Communists while sustaining 17 of their own killed and 15 wounded. A battalion of South Vietnamese reinforcements joined the battle later in the day.

It was the first battalion-sized operation fought in the five-province area immediately surrounding the capital in 3 1-2 years, military spokesmen said.

ADA Raps O'Brien's Backing Mrs. Harris

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Americans for Democratic Action has attacked Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien for his backing of Patricia Harris as temporary credentials chairman during the recent national committee meeting.

The ADA said O'Brien helped sow "a harvest of discord and disunity" by backing Mrs. Harris instead of Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa. It said Hughes was better equipped to pursue reforms that would make the Party really democratic, but O'Brien followed the "politics of re-electing Richard Nixon instead of defeating him."

We're Ready To Do Our Part For Economy, Top Banker Says

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The president of the American Bankers Association says his industry is ready to "do its part as much as anyone else" to control inflation, including acceptance of interest rate, dividend, and wage controls.

"Our No. 1 problem is inflation," said Clifford Sommer, board chairman of Security Bank and Trust Co. in Owatonna, Minn. "Without putting specific time limits on it, the banking industry is willing to do its part as much as anyone else for whatever time it takes to get inflation under control. And inflation isn't easy to control."

Sommer spoke Sunday at a news conference at the second day of the 97th annual ABA convention which has drawn a record 14,421 registrants to the five-day gathering.

Sunday was devoted to committee meetings by various association divisions. Today's schedule was general meetings of the state bank, trust, and marketing-savings divisions and an afternoon national bank division meeting being addressed by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

At his news conference, Sommer was asked about the banking industry's reaction to Phase II of President Nixon's new economic program and whether interest rates soon would drop. 4

"I can't say what the future will bring, but I believe the banking industry as a whole followed the request of the President not to raise interest rates," Sommer said.

He indicated bankers would continue to cooperate with interest rate, wage and dividend controls even if they continued into 1973.

But Sommer said although he supported Phase II as it was outlined in general terms, he and other bankers would not commit themselves until specific legislative proposals were made.

The ABA president said he thought public acceptance of the wage-price freeze underscored "a new mood" he had noticed in the country over the past year.

"I think we're going to solve the problem and the public is going to support the program as it's supported our military crises of recent years," Sommer said.

A friend of ours recently spent the evening up on Broadway, instead of driving all the way to San Rafael where we are. It cost him $3.00 for parking, $51.87 for dinner, $48.50 for drinks, tips, and cover charge at a topless night club, and $75,000 plus his lawyer's fee of $3,500 for his subsequent divorce. JOAN CROSSLEY

There is nothing more cheerful to wear or to look at than gingham. And these days gingham is an in fabric to wear and to decorate with. Gingham curtains, for example, look informal and cheerful. What could be happier, for instance, than a sunny room decorated with tiny yellow checks? But if you are sewing on gingham, remember to take precautions so that the checks match. Cheerful and charming as gingham can be, there is nothing more confusing to the eye than a garment in which one side does not match the other!

If patterns and sewing instructions confuse you you'll find the sewing lessons at FABRIC LAND, 836 4th Street invaluable. Join us at any time — we have many different kinds of classes. Hours: Mon-Tues-Thurs-Sat 9:30 AM - 5:30 PM, Wed-Fri 9:30 AM - 9 PM, Sun Noon - 5 PM.

HELPFUL HINT:
Gingham is also a very simple material to care for. Cotton, or cotton-polyester requires washing but very little ironing.

A SULLIVAN SUCCESS STORY!

Leon Cofferata is a Sullivan Success story! Here's what Leon's mother said after her son had been enrolled in the Sullivan Program for just two weeks. "Leon had reading problems for two years. He repeated the first grade, and we were afraid he would have to repeat it again. We were desperate when we came to the Sullivan Reading Center. We had tried other sources of help with no success. Within ten days after enrolling Leon in the Sullivan Program, there was a change in Leon. For the first time he wanted to read! I don't think there is a child who can't learn from the Sullivan System. It's worked a miracle in my family!"

If your child needs improvement in Reading and Math we can help him too.

The Reading Program:

At Sullivan your child will learn to read or improve his present reading level through linguistic progression. He will find the organized, involving aspects of the program offer him an opportunity for success he may not have previously enjoyed.

The Math Program:

Our Math Program is self-motivating. Once a child is placed in the program he is presented with problems that gradually increase in complexity, leading him step-by-step to a thorough grasp of concepts. Ask your child's teacher about our proven Sullivan materials.

Eleanor Green Opens Store; Women Plan Christmas Outlet

A new women's store opened at Town and Country Village in Strawberry is the Eleanor Green Dresscotheque.

Owner Eleanor Green of San Francisco, who retired after many years in the dress manufacturing business, recently started a new line of dress shops based on her past experience. The first of these was opened in San Francisco and then moved to Palo Alto. The Strawberry shop is her second.

Mrs. Green sells her own designs exclusively — either in the form of patterns and material, with the dressmaking to be done at home, or with the garments custom-made for the buyer.

PLANNING AN EARLY ENTRY in the holiday trade are two Marin housewives, who will open The Christmas Place Handmade Gifts at 943-A Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, on Nov. 1.

Mrs. Susan Kuffel of Lucas Valley and Mrs. Alice Anderson of Mill Valley have already accumulated a wide range of handmade articles from other housewives on consignment. Additional items will be accepted at the shop beginning next Monday, Oct. 25.

Store hours will be from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays up to Thanksgiving. After Thanksgiving until Dec. 24, when it will close, the store will be open seven days a week.

Brandon

Sheppard

THE FIRST MARIN SERIES of lessons in oil painting will be given at the Barn in the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, by Warren Brandon of 2441 Balboa Street, San Francisco, beginning Oct. 28.

Six lessons on Thursdays from 9 to 11:30 a.m. will be given. Registration should be by letter or through his studio answering service in San Francisco.

Brandon's paintings have been listed in Prize Winning Oil Paintings. They have been shown in Canada, Australia, and on a number of occasions in San Francisco and at California state fairs.

ROSS PORTRAIT PAINTER George W. Sheppard will also conduct classes in portraiture at the Art and Garden Center beginning tomorrow. Classes will be held Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. All work will be done from models with special attention to the needs of each student.

A commercial artist for 35 years, Sheppard has had his portraits on display at several Marin locations.

E. C. (GENE) YOUNG has extended his Lights of Rafael, Inc., business from San Rafael to Santa Rosa, where he has opened a new branch store at 1593 Cleveland Avenue, south of Coddingtown Shopping Center. Ronald Loewen is in charge.

RAFAEL FLOOR COVERING, INC., of San Rafael has opened an Armstrong Floor Fashion Center at its store at 122 Jacoby Street.

Staff members have attended Armstrong seminars and are prepared to answer questions and render free decorating service.

AWARDS: Donald C. Perry of the Sunnyside Nursery in San Anselmo has received honorable mention from the American Association of Nurserymen, Inc. for his entries (composed by him) on effective advertising and also for his ads appearing in the Independent-Journal. . . Tad Singer, designer at Katherine Eubanks Floral Decorator in Larkspur, has been named winner of Florist Magazine's design of the month contest for November. He will receive $50 and a color photograph of his floral design will appear in the November issue of this floral industry journal.

NEW VOLVO 144 SEDAN

For 1972, Volvo is offering a computer-controlled electronic fuel-injection engine in all three models of its 140 series, including this 144 four-door sedan. Controls have been relocated and automatic transmission is by stick shift from a centrally located floor console. Cars are now on display at Annex Motors, San Rafael.

Dead Center For Markets' Early Hours

NEW YORK (UPI) —Stocks were mixed in quiet trading after about two hours today.

Traders generally appeared to be waiting for some hard news that would get the market off dead center. selective issues were responding to quarterly earnings statements, but for the most part price swings were in fractions and without definite directions.

The day's most active issues also traded nearrowly and on both sides of previous closing levels.

Massey-Ferguson was an early feature. It traded a block of 107,300 shares at 10, down 12. Other stocks on the active list included Brockway Glass up 1-8, Aetna Life & Casualty 3-8 higher, and American Telephone up 1-4.

Prices also followed a mixed path on the American Stock Exchange. Advances edged declines, 311 to 296.

Bausch & Lomb and Walt Disney gained more than 2 each, but Superior Oil lost 2. Dwon a point or more were Mercantile Stores, Litton ,Burroughs, Texas Instruments and Memorex.

Steels, motors, and chemicals were fractionally mixed.

Missouri Services Good Stock; Earning Power Should Increase

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Some years ago I bought 100 shares of Missouri Public Service at about its present price. Company operates under a large burden of indebtedness, borrowing at high rates. Should I sell? — D.B.

A. No. Interest expenses for Missouri Public Service (NYSE) averaged a moderate 5.1 per cent on long-term debt as of June 30, 1971. Although at $91 million, long-term debt may appear large, it is not out of line with operating revenues or net property. In fact when taken as a per cent of these figures, debt is average for the industry.

Rate increases, which could add as much as 50 cents a share to earnings, were requested in July. However, if approved, increases would be delayed until the freeze is lifted.

Despite a small gain in first-half revenues, earnings were down seven cents to 75 cents a share — most of the decline occurred in the first quarter. Commercial development of a $200 million international airport in Missouri's service area should spur growth. Earnings should also benefit from a more efficient new 400,000 kw. generator.

In the last decade a one per cent stock dividend has been distributed semi-annually, which would add 21 shares to your 100. Retention of these shares is advised on the basis of the 4.7 per cent cash yield and two per cent stock dividend.

Q. We hold shares in a mutual fund. The fourth quarter dividend is due in November. We are retired and depend on these distributions to supplement our income. Will the President's freeze restrict this payment? — E.E.

A. A mutual fund is a regulated investment company and in order to retain its tax-exempt status, the fund must distribute at least 90 per cent of earnings to shareholders. Thus income dividends apparently will not be subject to the freeze.

Capital gains distributions are not technically classified as dividends and for that reason do not come under the aegis of the Cost of Living Council.

Real Estate Confab Is This Week

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Nearly 500 delegates representing most of the nation's real estate investment trusts are expected in San Francisco Oct. 21-22 at the 11th annual conference of the National Association of Real Estate Investment Funds.

Highlight of the gathering will be a day-long seminar on Oct. 22, where industry spokesmen, securities analysts and investment bankers will discuss the recent expansion and future prospects of publicly held real estate trusts.

Delegates will consider a variety of industry matters, ranging from accounting procedures to innovations in real estate investment at closed sessions Oct. 21. Individuals outside the industry may register with NAREIF to attend the Oct. 22 program.

Ex-U.S. School Aide Dies In Plane Wreck

PEACH SPRINGS, Ariz. (UPI) —A sheriff's posse slowly made its way today to an almost inaccessible desert plateau where 10 persons, including former U.S. Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., died in the crash of a sightseeing plane.

The twin-engine Cessna 402 of Scenic Airlines of Las Vegas, Nev., a small line specializing in charters and tourist trips to the Grand Canyon, smashed into the side of the plateau in desolute northwestern Arizona Saturday during a wintry storm.

The wreckage was found Sunday morning by one of 15 search planes of the Civil Air Patrol and the Air Force criss-crossing the desert and mountains of southern Nevada and northern Arizona for the missing aircraft.

Scenic Airlines President John Siebold confirmed that Allen and his wife were aboard the plane, which was on a trip to the Grand Canyon when it crashed. First word of Allen's death came from Princeton University, where Allen was a visiting lecturer.

Another couple aboard the craft was identified as Mr. and Mrs. R. Lynch of Chicago. The pilot was Wayne Leeth, 44, Las Vegas, a veteran who had flown the Las Vegas-Grand Canyon route about 600 times.

Scenic said the five other victims were foreign tourists and their names could not be released until the bodies were recovered. The airline did say three were Germans and two were French.

Allen, a controversial educator, was asked to resign as education commissioner 18 months after his appointment by President Nixon. Allen maintained he was dismissed because he angered the administration with his outspoken opposition to U.S. involvement in Indochina and his advocacy of busing to implement school integration.

The Air Rescue Squadron from Hamilton AFB, Calif., said its helicopters could not land at the forbidding crash scene and a ground party from Las Vegas had to turn back because of cold, rain and snow.

Investigators said the cause of the crash apparently was icing of the plane's wings in the storm that drove the pilot to abandon the flight to the Grand Canyon and try to return to his Las Vegas base.

LBJ Memoirs Record War Views

NEW YORK (UPI) —Former President Lyndon B. Johnson in a book on his presidency says he was well prepared for and was able to crush the Tet offensive in 1968, but antiwar congressmen and members of the press were duped into thinking it was a psychological victory for the Communists, The New York Times said Sunday.

Johnson also said the Paris peace talks almost broke off shortly after they began because several supporters of Richard M. Nixon, apparently without Nixon's knowledge, tried to persuade South Vietnamese leaders not to go along with Johnson's proposed bombing halt in 1968.

The Times printed two stories in its Sunday editions about Johnson's soon to be published book, "The Vantage Point: Perspectives of the Presidency, 1963-1969." One detailed the contents of the entire book while the other was an excerpt from the book.

The excerpt dealt with Johnson's becoming president following the assassination of John F. Kennedy. The Times will publish a series of excerpts from the book.

In the article on the book, Johnson said he knew the TET offensive was coming and that he needed to crush it before Hanoi would enter peace negotiations. He said it was a major victory and not a psychological defeat as some have viewed it.

Johnson did not name the Nixon supporters who talked with Vietnamese leaders but previous reports have mentioned Mrs. Anna Chan Chennault, the Chinese-born widow of Lt. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, World War II Flying Tiger leader.

Saigon leaders were more receptive to talk of delaying the bombing halt, Johnson said, because they were confused by a dovish speech made by former Vice President Hubert Humphrey at Salt Lake City Sept. 30, 1968. Johnson said the results of the speech may have delayed progress in Paris and cost Humphrey the presidency.

Johnson called the Kennedy administration's role in the overthrow of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem a "serious blunder" which became a principal factor in his later commitment of ground troops in Indochina.

Johnson, who took credit for the Vietnamization policy which Nixon has used since becoming president, said he left office with a strong military and political situation in Saigon.

The Times said Johnson covered a wide range of subjects in his book and especially was proud of his record on domestic problems.

Other subjects in the book, according to The Times:

—Johnson got along well with John Kennedy but was not on close terms with the late president's brother, Robert Kennedy.

—Johnson had decided not to seek the presidency on his own in 1964 and was convinced to do so by his wife only on the day after the Democratic convention opened.

—He prevented a Communist takeover in the Dominican Republic in the spring of 1965 by sending in U.S. troops.

—He faced down the Soviet Union during the six-day Mideast War of 1967 by sending the Sixth Fleet to within 50 miles of the Syrian coast while Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin threatenedN;military intervention.

In the excerpt describing the day of the assassination, Johnson said Kennedy was in a jubilant mood that morning and was excited about the reception he had received in Texas.

Johnson said the last words Kennedy spoke to him before starting out in the Dallas motorcade were, "We're going to carry two states next year if we don't carry any others: Massachusetts and Texas."

"Oh, we are going to do better than that, Mr. President'" Johnson replied.

Johnson then described the confusion of the events that followed, his concern for Jacqueline Kennedy and the awesome responsibility of taking the reigns of government in a time of crisis.

"It was at that moment (when he entered Air Force One for the flight to Washington) that I realized nothing would ever be the same again," Johnson wrote.

Special Session On Novato Plan

The Novato Planning Commission and Novato City Council will hold a special joint meeting at 7:15 p.m. today in the Novato Community House to discuss revision of the city's master plan.

Then at 8 p.m., the commission will complete the agenda of its adjourned meeting of last Monday.

Items to be considered include plans for the addition of 200 sites to the Marin Valley Mobile Country Club, south of Hamilton Air Force Base, a 37-acre development in the Oaks subdivision and a 180-unit apartment project on Marin Valley Drive.

Pediatrist Puts The Rap On 'Educational' Devices

CHICAGO (UPI) —Parents waste their money buying scientifically designed crib devices and educational toys to speed the development of their infant children, a noted pediatrician said Sunday.

Dr. Richard I Feinbloom, professor of pediatrics at Harvard Medical School, told members of the American Academy of Pediatrics that toy manufacturers have siezed upon unfounded opinions and incomplete research to create and market educational toys for infants.

Parents are told they should equip their baby's crib with mirrors, live fish tanks, gravity floats, mobiles, finger tracking modules and other paraphernalia, Feinbloom said, none of which are any more effective than plastic rattles, rubber balls and other objects parents traditionally have used to keep junior quiet.

"I have searched for empirical evidence to support the claims of manufacturers and have found none," Feinbloom said. "I find it difficult to believe that this lack of evidence merely reflects studies not yet done. I do not see how these toys or environments can accelerate development even if this were desirable."

Middle income families, the chief target for educational toys, normally offer the necessary supportive environment for an infant's self-initiated explorations, Feinbloom said.

Rabbi Ousted In Zoning Law

TEL AVIV (UPI)—Avraham Fishman recently was arrested for "maliciously interfering with the worship of God."

Police said that each time a rabbi living in the apartment below held services there, Fishman lowered a radio blaring Arabic music to the rabbi's apartment window to stifle the sound.

A court agreed with Fishman this weekend that converting a residence into a synagogue violated zoning laws. Fishman was cleared and the rabbi is looking for somewhere else to hold services.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Is An Opponent's Play Normal — Or Is It Only A Falsecard?

Is an opponent's play normal, or is it a falsecard? In the ordinary game you should make the minimum number of assumptions. If the play is normal, you make only one assumption. If it is a falsecard, you assume that the opponent had the cards that made the deception possible and also that he was crafty enough to think of the falsecard and alert enough to make it without a telltale hesitation. In short, when in doubt, believe an opponent.

SEMIFINALS HAND

West opened the ace of hearts when today's hand was played a few weeks ago in the semifinals of a playoff to pick the United States team for the 1972 Bridge Olympics. West then shifted to the jack of clubs.

Declarer, Los Angeles stockbroker Don Krauss, prudently put on dummy's ace of clubs. He then tried to cash two high diamonds but had to overruff when East ruffed the second with the deuce of spades.

South next led the ace of trumps, on which East casually dropped the nine. Now the slam and the match depended on whether or not Krauss trusted this play.

TWO POSSIBILITIES

If East had started with only two trumps, South could make the slam only by ruffing a heart in dummy and then discarding a heart and a club on good diamonds. But if East had started with three trumps, the winning play was to lead a trump to dummy's ten and then discard three losers on good diamonds.

The simple assumption was that East had started with only the nine-two of spades. But Krauss felt sure that Peter Weichsel, the young New York expert who held the East cards, was unquestionably both alert and crafty enough for the falsecard. The only question, therefore, was one of probability.

Since the opponent with only one diamond was unlikely to be short in trumps as well, Krauss decided to lead a low trump to dummy's ten. He was right, and the slam came home.

That's one reason why Krauss' team, rather than Weichsel's, will be playing this weekend in the finals of the playoff.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠- A K Q J 8 7
♥- K J 8 3
♣-8 3.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade, using standard American bidding methods.

The hand is not quite strong enough for a jump response. Some expert partnerships believe in lighter jump responses; and when this hand was actually held, Don Krauss jumped to two spades opposite an opening bid of one diamond by Lew Mathe.

Boas Urges Aqueduct Rejection

Democratic congressional candidate Roger Boas today urged Marin voters to turn down Measure B, the Marin-Sonoma Aqueduct proposal, on the Nov. 2 ballot.

Boas said the proposal by Marin Municipal Water District to "import enormous amounts of excess water would stimulate increased residential construction and encourage unwanted population growth in Marin County."

Boas, a San Francisco supervisor who owns a home at Stinson Beach, said the estimated $110 million "blank check" measure would result in "drastically increased water bills or property taxes."

He said in a press statement that a recent sutdy by the Association of Bay Area Governments showed that the capacity of the aqueduct would "greatly exceed the latest projected population figures." Boas noted that the ABAG study recommended revisions in population projections before the aqueduct is begun.

The supervisor, seeking his party's nomination in next year's primary in the Sixth District, said, "We should be very careful about taking any step that would contribute to haphazard growth."

Windows Broken

Two windows valued at $250 were smashed yesterday at Antler's Pharmacy, 98 Western Avenue, Petaluma. Police said it appeared the windows had been kicked in.

Melina Scores Agnew's Visit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Actress Melina Mercouri scored Vice President Spiro Agnew's trip to Greece during the weekend and charged him with being "the vice president of the united juntas of the world."

Agnew visited Greece Saturday. It was the first time he had been in the land of his Greek immigrant father.

The 45-year-old Greek actress, who is an outspoken critic of the Greek military regime, said of Agnew: "It is more than a fault for him to visit the dictator. It is stupidness.

"But I am not surprised, for we have always known that he is not the vice president of the United States but the vice president of the united juntas of the world."

Tools Taken

An Indian Halloween Will Be Celebrated

The Ali Akbar College of Music in San Rafael will present a benefit concert, called a Halloween-Kali Puja celebration, at 8 p.m. Oct. 31 at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building in the Civic Center.

Ali Akbar Khan, Indian composer, performer and teacher, will begin the program with a solo invocation on the ancient deep-sounding sarode. He then will join jazz saxophonist John Handy and Shankar Ghosh on the tabla drums.

Also featured will be a performance by Shanti, a new rock group featuring two Indian musicians and four American rock artists.

There will be a premiere of "Serpent," a new short film by experimental film maker Scott Bartlett.

The performance will be an Indian version of the "purging of the dark spirits and raising of the life forces," comparable to a western Halloween.

Larkspur Resident Seeks Pier Permit

Charles J. Hendrickson of 555 Larkspur Plaza, Larkspur, has applied for an Army permit to construct a pier, ramp and floating dock on Corte Madera Creek at the Larkspur Plaza address.

Objections to the construction may be submitted in writing, in triplicate, to the Army Engineer District, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco 94102.

Art Center Is Given Extension

The Sausalito School District board has voted to extend the Sausalito Art Center's occupancy of the old Bayside School property to Nov. 8, according to Trustee Jerry L. Whitcomb.

He said the board, in a special meeting Thursday, acted to allow more time for the district and Sausalito Arts Association to negotiate a lease on the building.

The board ordered the art center evicted from the old school facility in August, then reversed itself and called for lease negotiations between the two groups.

Sonic Booms Are Possible

Marin County and the rest of the Bay Area may experience sonic booms Tuesday night or early Wednesday when the Air Force conducts another of its special exercises.

Planes from the Strategic Air Command will make mock attacks on cities in Western Canada and in the United States as far east as Colorado. Planes from the North American Air Defense Command will try to intercept them, sometimes at supersonic speeds.

Planes from the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base may or may not participate in the exercise, depending on where the SAC planes attack, base officials said.

Marin Rights Unit Will Protest Cuts

New welfare cuts by the state will be protested by the Marin County Welfare Rights Organization at its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at 875 Grand Avenue, Novato.

The state's new welfare program cut payments to about one-third of the welfare recipients, but increased payments to the remaining two-thirds.

Chamber Says Tourism Failing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A statement from the California Chamber of Commerce says the Golden State ranks at the bottom in government promotion of tourism.

As a result, the chamber statement said Sunday, the tourism industry is failing in California.

A survey showed California's annual expenditure of state funds for tourism was $41,000 while the 50-state average was $691,000 each year. The survey said 13 states spent more than $1 million annually to attract tourists.

What makes your heart beat?

The answer: a chemical reaction within the muscle itself –which depends on calcium. Which you get mainly from milk. And that's only one reason to drink two glasses of milk a day. For still others, read on:

You need calcium for more than just building bones while you're growing up. In fact, you need calcium every time you move a muscle. Including the most important muscle of all: your heart.

And: without calcium, your nerves couldn't send the signals that let you see, hear, feel, and smell.

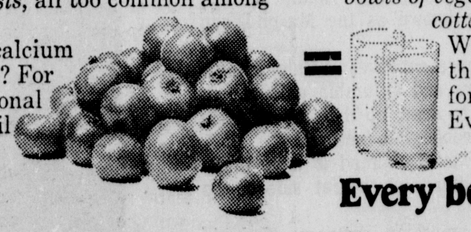
Without calcium, your blood would not clot.

And without calcium–in a steady supply throughout your life–your bones can become weak and brittle, a condition called osteoporosis, all too common among the elderly.

How much calcium should you have? For adults, the National Research Council recommends 800 milligrams a day: about as much as you get in a normal diet if it includes two glasses of milk. (Children need more: up to age nine, 3 glasses; up to eighteen, 4 glasses. Pregnant and nursing women also need the calcium in 4 glasses of milk daily.)

Can you get enough calcium from other foods? Not easily. For example, two glasses of milk give you as much calcium as each of the following:

24 tomatoes, 11 oranges, 4 cups of broccoli, 1½ pints of ice cream, 18 bowls of vegetable soup, 2½ cups of cottage cheese.



When it comes to calcium, there's no real substitute for milk.

Every body needs calcium.

Every body needs milk.

Deeper Issue Ignored In Conflict On Book

It often happens in school disputes — as in many other kinds — that the basic issue gets lost among the charges and counter-charges.

This appears to be the case with the controversy over introduction of "The Movement Toward a New America" as a text (or supplementary text, or resource book —take your choice) for the American government course at San Rafael High School.

The book was roundly attacked at last week's San Rafael Board of Education meeting. Opponents called it indecent, disgusting, one-sided, and claimed it promoted revolution and violence. It is all these.

Its defenders said it was used to show "the other side" of current issues, and to demonstrate the uses of propaganda. It certainly could be used for these purposes (though why the district's taxpayers should buy 35 copies of such a tome at roughly $5 each to do what an equal number of copies of the People's World or the Black Panther could do, nobody explained).

LARGELY OVERLOOKED, however, was the basic question: Does "The Movement Toward a New America" have any part in a one-semester high school course in American government?

Each district prepares its own high school course of study, and its own course descriptions. The description of American government at San Rafael High School says:

"To give the students an appreciation and an understanding of the philosophical and historical roots of American democracy; an understanding of the rights and responsibilities of citizenship; an understanding of the American political scene; an understanding of the structure and function of the United States government as well as that of the State of California."

Where does "The Movement Toward a New America" fit into this description? We would be hard put indeed to find any place.

(There is a different course description for Terra Linda High School, which seems strange since both schools are in the same district.)

THE REAL ISSUE, then, lies not in the merits (if any) of "The Movement." The real issue is whether the course in American government teaches what the district says it should teach. If not, the teacher is guilty of refusal to obey reasonable regulations of the school district. The book may be taken as evidence of whether the course is taught as described, or whether some other course is masquerading under the title "American Government."

It goes beyond the matter of the book. Do American government courses in high school do what they're supposed to do? Do they give the students a working knowledge of our government?

There is hardly any way to find out. Yet there is one way that school districts might try.

Immigrants seeking American citizenship must pass a simple test in American government. Could the students who have completed high school courses in the subject pass that test?

By PAUL E. PETERZELL:

Bridge Directors' Lobbyist Takes Care Of His Clients

Despite its earnest attempt to burnish its image, the Golden Gate Bridge District still can manage to show itself in the dull gray tones of indifference to the public.

Many district directors long have complained privately that they get no compensation for attending district meetings late in the fiscal year because they already have hit the $2,400-a-year ceiling on their $50-a-meeting compensation.

An argument could be made in their behalf, but never has been attempted by the bridge board — at least in public.

But somehow their $20,000-a-year Sacramento lobbyist managed to hear of their plight, and belatedly has promoted legislation to hike the ceiling by 50 per cent.

THE LOBBYIST Gordon Garland, had the bill introduced this month by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond. It was six months too late to be introduced as a separate bill, so Knox amended it onto a dead bill that would have created multi-county sanitation districts.

Legislative rules provide that a bill can be amended only to deal with a matter similar to the original bill, usually limiting amendments to the same code section.

It was unclear what stretch of imagination encouraged the legislative counsel's office to approve the unrelated amendment, but Knox noted both the original bill and the amendments dealt with special districts. They both also deal with a slight odor, we would add.

Garland told us that he was promoting the bill on his own hook. He said he had told "two or three' bridge directors privately about the measure, asking them if they objected to it. They did not, Garland said.

KNOX, GREASING the amendments through his local government committee last week, said the pay hike was fair because district officials had an increasingly heavy meeting schedule now that the district was going into transit. He said they "get paid only if they show up," a point overlooking the habit of some of the 18 directors who show up at the last moment to claim their $50.

Knox also computed the hike as "a one-third pay hike," a calculation that went unchallenged as his committee voted unanimously to send his bill to the Assembly floor. Committee members appeared satisfied when no one responded from the sparse audience to a call for opponents.

The committee probably was unaware that there had been virtually no publicity about the new amendments, except the preceding night in the Independent-Journal.

KNOX ALSO TOLD the committee that "the original request was higher, but through negotiations was cut significantly." He then told us that he could not remember the original request.

Garland explained that he had asked Knox to eliminate the ceiling entirely, at least during the time the district is so busy getting into transit.

All in all, it's a peculiar way to do business, with a lobbyist promoting legislation for a public agency that never has discussed the proposal in public. It suggests that someone figured the public would object — if it had had a chance.

Bridge In The Desert Vs. Useful Spending

I read in your paper that it took a 40-man crew 23 months to reassemble over 10,000 blocks of the London Bridge for reassembly in the Arizona desert.

When I view the amount of money involved in this project compared with what it might have done for seven million Pakistani refugees or American children suffering from muscular dystrophy it makes me want to vomit. No wonder the term "ugly American" is used to describe the vulgar ostentatiousness of a few wealthy persons who prefer to erect a monument to appease their own superego rather than assuage human suffering either in this country or elsewhere.

Consolidation Urged For Fire Protection

The Corte Madera residents interested in improving their fire protection — and others like them — might wish to investigate the idea of joining with neighboring towns or the county to form a consolidated fire district.

Five years ago several communities across the Bay joined to create theCentral Contra Costa Fire District. Since then, it is reported, their fire taxes have gone down each year, their fire insurance rating has improved, and the number of trucks and men per $100 million assessed valuation has increased.

Another proposal, discussed in Marin fairly recently, is to have one countywide fire department, with property taxes levied according to the cost of protection needed by such uses as commercial centers, high density residential, or agricultural lands.

With so many small fire districts (usually operating with illogical boundaries), we sometimes have expensive duplication of services. One example is the six fire stations on or near Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in the short distance from Highway 101 to Fairfax. They are: the Larkspur station (at Eliseo), Kentfield (College Avenue), Ross fire house, San Anelmo No. 1 (downtown), San Anselmo No. 2 (Butterfield), and Fairfax (downtown).

Local fire departments vary widely in their ability to respond. The mutual aid agreements between departments are a logical response to a difficult situation. But, it is argued, they do not give firemen the consistent ability to put a heavy dose of manpower and equipment on any bad fire at a first response. The local company must first go and find that the fire is beyond its capacity; only then, after valuable time is lost, can it call for help.

Some consolidation, at least, seems needed.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEW

School Innovations Threaten To Sink Educational Ship

By JOHN W. GILBAUGH
(Professor of Education,
San Jose State College)

Innovation in education is about to sink the educational ship. So much money and time are being diverted from the educational processes in search of panaceas that formal teaching and learning have virtually been abandoned.

One California district verred so far off course in meeting the educational objectives agreed upon by all concerned parties that the diversion of funds and teaching talent became an issue during a recent school board election. The slate of candidates that campaigned using the slogan "Innovation or Education?" won by a landslide.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that the public schools have become fair game for every idea conceived by any screwball who wishes to advance a theory for testing at public expense. The schools provide an endless source of research means to conduct virtually any social experiment that anyone cares to suggest. Children can always be used as guinea pigs, teachers as dupes, and of course, the public can always supply the finances.

That does not mean categorically, however, that change is bad. Change can be either good or bad. If there is one absolute it is that change is inevitable. Changes occur daily. And there is little man can do to stop them. But he can direct change. And he can harness it to make it serve him. How change is directed, then, becomes the foundation for politics.

CONSERVATIVES MAY be more reluctant to abandon social systems that have served well. They may be less likely to panic under pressure. On the other hand, the more liberal the liberal, the more likely he is to abandon tradition. The casting aside of convention and tradition is of little moment to him. He wants what he wants. And he wants it now.

And that is the way it is in the public schools. Virtually all teachers on a political spectrum are left of center. They are liberals who seek change for the sake of change. The words change and progress are equated as synonyms by the teaching profession. Of course, there may be evidence in abundance to prove that most changes introduced in the public schools during recent years have been for the worse.

THE CHANGE WHICH ushered in the politicization of the teaching profession at all levels has not been an improvement. When school boards, trustees and regents agreed to permit faculties to enter into personnel matters—hiring, promotion and firing—of professional colleagues, they permitted politics to be introduced into educational institutions. With left-wing liberals virtually in control, a political imbalance has become deeply entrenched on most campuses—especially at the higher education level.

Until school boards, regents and trustees who are elected by the people take an active part in personnel matters in public tax-supported educational institutions, innovative programs with a left-wing thrust will continue to thrive. Until that time, about all the taxpayer needs to do is pick up the tab for expanding innovations of educational nonsense.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Oct. 18, the 291st day of 1971.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Libra.

American historian James Truslow Adams was born Oct. 18, 1878.

On this day in history:

In 1767 the boundary between Maryland and Pennsylvania was finally settled, later to be known as the Mason-Dixon Line.

Controls May Stay A Long Time As Nixon Takes The Hard Line

WASHINGTON — When Sec. of the Treasury John Connally revealed that the cabinet-level Cost of Living Council was split over post-freeze policy, he was not exaggerating.

The fact is that the council was split down the middle, not over details, but over the central issue — how tough Phase Two wage-price controls should be.

President Nixon himself had to resolve the dispute. The council was too divided to do other than present him with choices.

NIXON CHOSE the tough, politically riskful line of policy. He rejected the economic doves and sided with the economic hawks — for controls with teeth to be continued "as long as necessary."

The hawks' decision to make war on inflation with fully mobilized governmental powers has the better chance of doing the job. Nixon rejected a policy of "guns and butter" — that is, weak controls weakly enforced. He rejected a policy whose end result would be that fewer people would feel the anit-inflation sting. Instead, he chose the course which may be politically difficult but which holds the prospect of a long-range boon to the country and to himself — tough anti-inflation controls.

A major consequence of the President's choice of stern controls is that it will be hard to end these controls. Economic controls are habit-forming. Nixon earnestly and manfully says that "when (controls) are no longer needed, we will get rid of them."

For as far ahead as the economists and the politicians can now see, most of the pressures will be on the side of keeping them.

IN THE WAGE-PRICE controls are only moderately successful, the pressure will be to keep them in place until inflation has been brought down.

If the controls are significantly successful and are helping to bring inflation to a manageable rate, the pressure will be against giving them up for fear that removing them would open the dikes again.

Thus, while it is welcome to hear the President affirm that "we will not make controls a permanent feature of American life," that is the greatest danger from the game plan on which the administration is now embarked.

SINCE WAGE-PRICE controls are needed to free the economy from the virus of acute inflation, it is well that they should be administered by officials who don't like controls for their own sake and want to throw them off as soon as possible.

But we had better enter the managed-economy era with our eyes open. We should be aware that controls will be with us longer than most expect and that it will take great political courage to resist the temptation to keep them after they have done their work.

It is worth noting that the members of the President's Cost of Living Council who favored stern controls of indefinite duration were its economic and fiscal experts, while more politically sensitive members of the cabinet favored a softer approach. They could see the administration become intensely unpopular because the government would have to be saqing "no" so often to so many.

But what the more politically-minded presidential advisers were overlooking is that "the old rules," which sought to control inflation by allowing unemployment to rise, were no longer working. The nation was getting both rising unemployment and rising inflation.

Something different had to be tried and Nixon is doing it boldly.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — Before the jet age, incumbent presidents had the inclination but not the technology to arrange historical events as a triumphant procession leading up to their re-election. But since then, the technology has never been fully exercised. Kennedy was killed before he ran again, then Johnson concentrated on domestic affairs in 1964 and pulled out in 1968.

There is little question that each of those acutely political men would have sandwiched together summit conferences abroad and whistle stopping at home to the height of his considerable ability, had he run for another term under normal circumstances. But as it turns out, Mr. Nixon is the first President to approach a second campaign with jet planes and satellite communication at his instant command.

No President in history has had more alacrity to use them, and none could surpass him in his skill at it. Not that he has been without help — the common belief that Mr. Nixon despises the press might be well-founded, but if so it is comparable to Earl Scruggs' despising his banjo: He plays it so well.

THE PRESIDENT'S announcement that he will go to Moscow after Peking produced a splash of favorable publicity that will be repeated at least twice, perhaps half a dozen times, as that mission is carried out. He squeezes the last inch of mileage out of every event. This has been demonstrated as each increment of troops is withdrawn from Vietnam, as each step is taken toward the Communist capitals, as each effort is made toward controlling the economy.

The addition of Moscow to his 1972 itinerary fills the last gap in his re-election scenario. Of course, there will be more surprises as the campaign approaches and is joined, as the public-opinion polls shimmy in response to events. But he now has in hand the raw material to knock the contending Democrats off the top of Page 1 and the lead spot on the evening television news at every turn between today and presidential election day.

IT MAY NOT OCCUR to the watching public how fully the President utilizes each news development of substance to produce not one but a series of impacts on the voters. In the case of a troop withdrawal, for example, the minimum steps are: 1 — announcement; 2 — confirmation; 3 — departure of troops; 4 — their arrival home. For a summit conference in Peking, it may be expanded thus: 1 — strong hint; 2 — announcement (tied to Kissinger's first trip); 3 — arrangement (Kissinger's second trip); 4 — disclosure of exact date; 5 — departure; 6 — consummation; 7 — triumphal return; 8 — report to the people.

At a snap of his fingers, Mr. Nixon can summon the television cameras to cover these carefully spaced events. When he deems them to be sufficiently dramatic, he can preempt prime time to make those appearances direct to viewers, without intermediary newsmen.

And the fact that he said he was going to Moscow in expectation of substantive agreements makes it likely that the news-making steps concerning Peking cannot only be duplicated in Russia but extended by still another announcement or two after his return.

THUS MR. NIXON, is equipped to watch political developments from the start of the primary season through the conventions and the fall campaign, with a whole deck of trumps to slap one by one atop the headlines made by his Democratic challengers.

At his sole discretion, he will choose which to play when. When the Democrats are at their most active, in the early primaries in New Hampshire and Florida, he can opt to lay down a new date for a new withdrawal phase from Indochina. When they convene in Miami Beach, he can disclose that one of a half-dozen bilateral agreements he has discussed in the Soviet Union is now ready for signing. When they head for their campaign climax in October, he can make the crowning announcement about Vietnam.

The possible variations are infinite. And all the while he can be praying that the economy will come around, for not even the most frantic schedule of trips and treaties and broadcasts will be able to obscure the fact if it does not.

THE GROUP OF CITIZENS most aware already of all the tactical options open to an incumbent President is the diminishing band of Democrats seeking to replace Mr. Nixon. They realize it with painful envy.

For the wider public, framing his forthcoming moves in a political context is not to deny their legitimacy, or to belittle whatever solid diplomacy grows out of them. It is a blessing of our system that the pressures of quadrennial elections often pushes Presidents to their greatest accomplishment in the months immediately preceding November of each leap year.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Oct. 18, 1961

Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev offered to postpone his year-end deadline on signing a German peace treaty if the western allies "showed willingness to negotiate" on Berlin.

Property for expansion of the College of Marin campus in Kentfield was paid for before the purchase was authorized in a public meeting of the college district board, it was learned as the Marin County Grand Jury looked into the affair.

20 YEARS AGO

Oct. 18, 1951

Elwood Ennis of Kroeger Associates told Marin County employees that a job classification plan his firm had prepared for the county called for annual cost-of-living raises if costs continued to rise.

Waterfront strife developed in San Francisco in a dispute among the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, the AFL International Longshoremen's Association, the CIO Marine Engineers Union, and the AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Well, If It Isn't Auditorium, Just What Would You Call It?

Leon Kalimos, executive director of the Marin Veterans Memorial Building, is still campaigning to keep the beautiful edifice from being called "auditorium."

But he may be waging a losing battle, as the officially banned word keeps popping up with increasing frequency.

His persistent campaign suffered what may be a crushing blow the other day when he wrote a letter to the I-J, thanking the paper for publicity on opening night. His letter was written under the letterhead: "Marin Veterans Memorial Auditorium."

Auditorium may not sound too elegant, but it certainly pinpoints the structure in one simple word, whereas it would take a half dozen or more substitute words to describe the building. For example:

"That circular structure at the Civic Center fairgrounds," or "that round building with a bunch of silos in front," or "the theater and exhibit hall where they held the county fair."

BY THE WAY, it's official now. The auditorium (oops!) opening night crowd of 1,476 paying customers plus 181 courtesy guests (total 1,657 persons) downed a total of 960 bottles of champagne at $2 per bottle ($1,920 total cost of champagne). That's more than half a bottle per person.

The caterers also reported that they furnished 21,000 pieces of food including 5,400 pastries and 6,000 shaslik and beef dore and other goodies.

This has been a great year for Marin. Successful opening of the auditorium, and the record attendance at the county fair in its new fairgrounds site.

The biggest advantage of the new location is easy accessibility and vast parking areas.

Once the open dirt areas are packed down, turfed or otherwise treated to keep dust down, and trees begin providing shade, the new grounds will compare favorably with the old site in Ross.

HOMEOWNERS IN the unincorporated areas that are under the Marin County Fire Department's jurisdiction have received or will receive whopping raises in fire insurance costs.

What happened was this: Last January, the fire rating board decided to raise the rating in unincorporated areas of Marin from class 7 to class 10, the worst possible rating. This meant a doubling of fire insurance premiums.

Marin County Independent Insurance Agents Association, through Dan C. Dufficy, went into action. With the help of County Administrator John F. Barrows, Dufficy induced the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau to take another look at Marin. As a result, the rating went down from class 10 to class 9. It's a slight improvement, but still a big blow to most homeowners in areas such as Santa Venetia and West Marin.

LOUIS CASSELS

Moving back to a small town after living in big cities for 30 years is an ambivalent experience.

An ambivalent experience, according to my dictionary, is one that affects you two ways at once. It has both good and bad points. Somethings you like, some you don't.

My wife and I recently embarked on this ambivalent experience because the doctors thought it would be better if, after a serious heart attack, I lived at a slower pace under less stress.

The place we chose for our new home is a true small town, not a big city suburb trying to pass itself off as a small town. The nearest big city is more than 200 miles away. Like every place on earth, my new home town has unique characteristics. But on the whole its way of life is, I think, fairly typical of thousands of other small towns and medium-sized cities all over America.

LIVING HERE certainly is far less stressful than the life we endured (and on the whole enjoyed) during our 30 years in New York and Washington. The difference is so striking I find it easy to believe the doctors' assurance that this move can add years to my life.

The most striking difference we've noticed so far is in the way people treat each other.

Because their nerves aren't frayed by traffic congestion, overcrowding and the myriad other pressures of everyday urban life, people who live in small towns find it easier to make the extra effort required to be kind, helpful and friendly.

Nearly every day, my wife comes home from a shopping expedition or some other errand in a virtual state of shock to report some new instance of courtesy or thoughtfulness of the kind that city-dwellers long ago learned not to expect from clerks, repairmen, bank tellers, or public servants. Instead of snarling at you, people go out of their way to serve you promptly and cheerfully.

WE'VE ALSO BEEN pleasantly surprised to discover that it's much easier to get things repaired, built, remodelled or removed in a small town than in a big city. You'd think it would be just the other way around. But almost any household job that requires skilled labor—from getting a TV set fixed to putting on a new roof—seems to turn into a hassle when you live in the city.

First, you have a hard time getting the big city guy to commit himself about what day (let alone what time) he's likely to show up. When he does get there, he's likely to be in a hurry and/or a bad humor. And when he leaves, he hands you an outrageous bill.

In a small town, you look in the yellow pages and call the likeliest-sounding number. In no time at all, out comes a friendly and competent young man. He fixes whatever's broken, quickly and efficiently, for an entirely reasonable charge. It's hard to believe, I know, but it keeps happening all the time so it can't be just a run of good luck.

THERE ARE, to be sure, disadvantages to our new life. Giving up my cherished season tickets to the Washington Redskins when they seem at long last to have a good chance of a winning season was a trauma comparable to amputation of an arm. My wife, who labored for years as an unpaid volunteer to bring the Kennedy Center into being, was disappointed to miss its opening season of concerts and ballets. We both find ourselves longing occasionally for the fine stores, restaurants, libraries and museums we frequented in Washington.

But if this is the price of peace—the kind of peace we already find seeping deep into our bones in this pleasant little town—we're willing to pay it.

It seems ironic. Thirty years ago I "escaped" from a small town seeking the good life in the big city. Now I find it was right here all the time.

The Census Bureau's figures indicate about 100 million Americans have made the same mistake since 1940. Well, I'm not going to try to talk all of them into coming home to the hinterlands. They'd overcrowd the place and ruin everything.

But with those of you who've had all of the urban crisis you can stand, I feel duty bound to share my secret:

Editor's note: The small town with which Cassels is enraptured is Aiken, S.C., population 13,033 in the 1970 census. He grew up in that area.

Hearing Slated On Water Needs

A public hearing on formation of a special district to study Olema area water needs will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Bear Valley administration headquarters at Point Reyes National Seashore.

The North Marin County Water District board has called the hearing at the request of area residents. Estimated cost of the study is $2,000, according to Dist. Mgr. Eugene Churchill. If the special district is formed, the board could levy a tax not to exceed 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation, Churchill said.

The area now is served by the Olema Water Co., which has about 30 customers, Churchill said.

10 Drivers Sentenced For Drinking

Ten persons have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Sentenced Tuesday by Judge Robert A. Smallman were:

Charles Joseph Welch, 45, of Los Angeles, arrested Sept. 21 on Higheay 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Arthur Cornelius Hoene, 58, of Redwood City, arrested Oct. 1 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $200.

Bruce Eric Peel, 36, of 20 Marsh Drive, Mill Valley, arrested Sept. 28 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $200.

Loretta Isobel Baker, 31, of 72 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, arrested July 5 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $200.

Walter Raymond Reynolds, 43, of Daly City, arrested July 23 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $302.

John Richard Doherty, 34, of 25 Ancho Vista Avenue, Apt. 18, San Anselmo, arrested Aug. 23 in San Rafael, placed on probation for one year, fined $302 and ordered to jail for two weekends.

Robert George Bogel, 44, of 1151 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, arrested July 5 in Fairfax, placed on probation for one year and ordered to work 10 days for Marin County Parks and Recreation Department.

Dennis Raymond Crisp, 21, of 248 Devon Drive, San Rafael, arrested Aug. 25 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Lizabeth Walker, 30, of 1414 Third Street, San Rafael, arrested July 14 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and ordered to work 120 days for the Alameda County Volunteer Bureau.

Robert Hamilton, 40, of Windsor, Sonoma County, arrested Oct. 2 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $240.

The cost to the U.S. of maintaining 200,000 troops in West Germany is estimated at $1.2 billion in foreign currency.

THE SPOUSE GAP

Marriage Enters A Crisis Period

By ROBERT LEE and MARJORIE CASEBIER

The second act of our marriage drama now gathers momentum and propels us into a major crisis period. Here the middlescent malaise exacts its toll from the marital relationship itself. Instead of giving mutual aid and comfort in time of desperate need, marriage mates sometimes bug each other in ugly discontent, or ignore each other in utter disregard. In a Detroit study of marriage, researchers Blood and Wolfe discovered that 52 per cent of the wives were very satisfied with their marriages during the first two years, but only 6 per cent were still satisfied 20 years later and 21 per cent "were very dissatisfied."

MIDDLE-AGE crisis time is a time of buck passing, of blaming the other person, of finding fault, of jockeying for the best position in the marriage-go- round. One peculiarly interesting observation about this game is that the husband can call his wife a bitch or a shrew, the wife can call her husband a clod or a bully, and yet neither one remembers that this is the same dear person he or she chose to marry.

Crisis time in middlescence is also the time for a general loss of intimacy. Couples don't keep up with each other and thus grow apart as the individual partners change.

Intimacy is lost also as spouses begin to see each other's faults more glaringly. Over the years faults may come to loom larger as virtues turn into vices and then, in the throes of the middlescent malaise, become blatantly intolerable. Here again, spouses usually show a reluctance to discuss the unpleasant aspects of each other's personalities — except, perhaps, in the heat of anger when they couch them in derogatory terms that question the partner's sanity or intelligence. Such an approach usually ruffles feathers and speeds up the spouse-gap escalation.

BUT THERE are important areas within middle age where marriage mates must "face it like it is" side by side in mutual interaction — critical places which affect both partners deeply. Unless a couple meets these together the spouse gap cannot help escalate into an ugly ditch across their marriage landscape.

We all remember the romantic fable which ends with a wedding and the line, "and they lived happily ever after." Well, happily or not, ever after is a much longer period today than it used to be. Even 50 years ago, perhaps one parent was deceased by the time the last child married. And the parent still living anticipated going to live with one of the children when no longer able to live alone.

TODAY, however, with earlier marriages, fewer children, better health, and increased longevity, a couple may have almost as many years together without children in the home as they had with themm Whether these prove to be bonus years for the couple or simply an extended prison sentence depends on how the partners face the middle age crisis called nest-emptying, a major transition point marking middlescence.

Studies show that when the last child grows up and leaves home there is an increased likelihood of marital maladjustment. This event acts as a kind of marital catalyst, demanding that husband and wife face themselves, each other, and their marriage in a way they have never had to before. And the longer they avoid this task, the faster the gap between them widens.

BY FAR the worst consequence of the empty-next crisis is the shock some couples get when they confront each other alone and realize they don't know each other at all. This may happen especially in a marriage where the couple have used the children as their primary way of relating to each other or as a buffer between them on points of conflict. When the children leave home the spouses, in their psychological nakedness, confront each other across the gap which has always been between them and which was temporarily filled by their children.

Both spouses must adjust to new roles as their children leave home, but the trauma is usually greatest for the woman. In the next middlescent crisis area to be looked at, however, we find the greatest impact is on the man.

A VISIT TO TIBURON

Oft-Published Lecturer Wants Writing To Amuse

By PAT BALMES

Evelyn Hawes, college lecturer on creative writing, writes in order to interest and amuse.

Her articles and stories have appeared in Saturday Evening Post, Ladies' Home Journal, Redbook and other magazines, and her third novel, "Six Nights a Week," was published in September.

"Don't make me sound too holy. I have had suspicions that I was not good enough and thought of shooting myself in the foot. My daughter suggested the calf of the leg would be better because there are not so many bones there."

THE ADVICE was given in jest by her daughter, Dr. Linda Clever, an internist who is director of St. Mayr's Hospital Diagnostic and Treatment Center in San Francisco. Also on the clinical faculty at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, Linda serves on its medical school admissions committee.

Linda is the wife of San Francisco internist Dr. James Clever and mother of 20-month-old Sarah Lou.

"An editor asked me to write a story about a married couple who are both doctors, but I'll never do it," said the writer in mock terror. "Oh, no. Oh, no."

EVELYN HAWES
Visit in Tiburon

Mrs. Hawes, daughter of the former state senator, superior court judge and lieutenant governor of Washington, the late W. Lon Johnson, says that there has always been a lot of fun and laughter in her family. Her first novel, "The Happy Land," is the story of her family.

"Did you know Linda was president of Stanford Medical School's student body? I told her not to do that; I told her those men would never elect her!" she said with delight and served Linda's coffee cake with more cheerful banter about everyday things, the stuff her novels are made of.

During her Bay Area visit, Ev, wife of a J.C. Penney's executive, appeared on television to introduce her third novel, "Six Nights a Week," about newlyweds trying to make ends meet financially.

THE PLOT concerns a wife forced to take a job at Sears to pay for splurging on a set of pots and pans. She keeps her job a secret. Her husband is employed by Sears' competitor, J.C. Penney. Complications demonstrate the soundness of normal young Americans.

A magazine editor once told Ev that most of the stuff which comes across his desk is dull, depressing, obscene and unbearably unreadable.

"I have not seen 'Hair' or 'O Calcutta.' I know I would leave," says Ev.

"I do not see how anyone can live without hope. What's the point? Don't go around thinking people are terrible when they are really trying and gallant, brave and wonderful," she says, mentioning a young mother "terribly tired, but terribly patient" with her small children at the San Francisco airport.

Seizing another chance to amuse, she reported,

"Once I ate a dime. I really did, while I was reading; I thought it was the jelly bean I had in my other hand." Such incidents Ev puts into her books.

"My University of Cincinatti creative writing professor, William Wabnitz, insisted I send things in. When Saturday Evening Post returned my manuscript, I sadly threw it on the desk, where it lay unopened for days. When I opened it, I found it had been accepted."

"But once you get started, nice things happen," says the writer, who has traveled around the world on assignments from magazine editors. Her freelance short stories are drawn from her own experiences such as volunteer work behind the locked doors of a mental institution.

When she did a research job concerning Lord Chesterfield for a Readers Digest story, it was returned to her with a demand for more footnoting.

"Then I was in trouble," says Ev, "I couldn't remember exactly where I had found the information. The second research job was harder than the first."

A MEMBER of Buffalo and Erie County Medical Historical Society, she wrote a layman's history of Buffalo General Hospital called "Proud Vision."

"I tried to inject a little humor into it. There is a kind of grim humor in hospitals," she said, adding that she developd tremendous respect for doctors during the two years she wrote in a Buffalo General Hospital office, sometimes arriving for work at 3 a.m.

"But I do not have my M.D. I don't even want to know what I know. Whenever I read about a disease, I have it."

Her second novel, "A Madras-Type Jacket," is about a college freshman girl who is "playing it straight" according to Ev, who drew upon her experience as a sorority adviser. She has interviewed countless college students and in her travels has talked with innumerable other young people.

THE WRITER was born in Colville, Wash. A graduate of University of Washington, she did graduate work there and later at University of Cincinnati, Purdue and the State University of New York at Buffalo during several transfers across the country.

As a young wife without much money, Ev found the "cheapest and most entertaining" thing to do was graduate work.

"Just lucky" — she says modestly — to accumulate enough credits to teach in college, Ev has taught creative writing, speech, debate and journalism. Once she taught Greek literature to engineering students. She has been on the faculty of University of Washington, University of Cincinnati, Amherst Central Adult School, Canisius Jesuit University at Buffalo and State University of New York at Buffalo, where she taught last semester.

But her editors and agents complain that teaching takes too much time away from her writing.

Ev's next book will be a novel about her father.

Fashion's Newest Rage

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Chinamania is shaping up as the biggest single new influence on American fashion for spring.

IN THE BLASS collection the first group of dresses, suits and costumes were fashioned from "ivory colored silk from the People's Republic of China," as Blass described them.

"My favorite color for spring," he said.

In that group were Mandarin silhouettes, frog closings and something also purely American, blazers. A further bow to the Chinese influence came in a trio of costumes, all with matching parasol, made of geometric printed flowers in paint box colors. One was a Chinese tunic lengthened to above the knee; onewas a wide-legged pajama outfit; and one featured a Mandarin scut.

Blass also was struck by what one observer called "the severity of the seventies." Or else it could be called the look of the meter maid or the lady cop or even a throwback to the old school uniform.

"The importance of navy in every possible way cannot be overstressed," he said.

The severe look for evening was softened by halter backs, some deep ruffling around neck and sleeve and hem lines.

The navy outfits included trench coats with matching skirts and white blouses, navy short jackets and navy pea coats. A look Blass likes for day is the three-piecer: coat, skirt, blouse. Always worn with a hat, fedora type with part of the brim turned down—fore, aft or side.

Clothes bearing the Blass label for spring will range in price from $225 to $1500 retail and include a lot of gabardine, organdy, crepe, georgette and other classic fabrics.

A FAVORITE evening silhouette is the pretty girl look, prettiest in a pure pink long gown of organza, its hem a foot-deep deck of wide ruffles. The same ruffling was repeated at the bodice, falling to the waist, front and back, like the petals of a huge pink flower.

ON THE AGENDA

'Alternative Schools' To Be Topic Of Program In Santa Rosa

"Alternative Schools" will be the subject of a seminar to be held by the 14th District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers (Marin and Sonoma counties) Thursday at San Marin Club in Novato.

A business meeting is set for 10 a.m., with the program to follow at 10:30 a.m. Speakers will be Dr. Quentin R. Bryan, assistant superintendent of Santa Rosa City Schools; Dr. James Collins, superintendent of Mill Valley Schools; and Wayne Boone, assistant superintendent of San Rafael City Schools. Dr. Edith Pewitt of the administrative staff of the Novato Unified School District and president of the Novato Branch of the American Association of University Women, will serve as moderator.

The North Marin Council of P-TA is hosting the seminar, with Mrs. Warren F. Smith of Novato as reservations chairman.

ROBIN MILER
Dramatic soprano

DRAMATIC SOPRANO Robin Miler will open the new season for the Thursday Musical Club at the home of Mrs. John Lesoine of Ross on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. Robin, a junior at Dominican College, recently received the top study award in the Western Regional Auditions of the San Francisco Opera Company. Robin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miler of Novato.

Accompanying her on the piano will be Eva Kirschner of Kent Woodlands.

A tea will be held after the program. Mrs. Roger Erickson is chairman, assisted by Mmes. Harris Kluksdahl, Dan Doughtery, Ragnar Thaning, Hal Moore and Miss Elizabeth Klink.

STEPHANIE VON Buchau, music and dance editor and critic of San Francisco magazine, will present a preview of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera" for the Sausalito Women's Club on Thursday at 2 p.m. at the clubhouse.

The opera starring Metropolitan Opera soprano Martina Arroyo opens Oct. 27 at the San Francisco Opera House.

Chairman Mrs. John C. Alexander said the club program is a "sort of extra of the Marin Opera Action's evening preview series and a trial to test the possibility of afternoon previews next year, perhaps in conjunction with other women's clubs."

Miss Von Buchau, a Marin resident who is also a feature writer for "Performing Arts" magazine, the program guide presented to those attending the opera and other performances in the Bay Area, has recently launched a new activity as lecturer.

DR. WOLFGANG Lederer, psychiatrist and author, will speak on his recent book, "The Fear of Women," for the Marin County fall forum of the Women's Division of the Jewish Welfare Federation Thursday.

The public program will be held at Temple Rodef Sholom in San Rafael from 10 a.m. to noon. A continental breakfast will be served.

AN ORIENTATION will be held for men and women interested in the movement for women's equality at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Redwood High School faculty room in Larkspur by the Marin County Chapter of the National Organization for Women. Members will give a brief presentation on NOW and the women's equality movement, followed by informal small group discussions on phases of the movement as they affect women and men. Coffee will be served.

Nominations for officers will be made at the general meeting which will follow the orientation at 9 a.m.

A MORNING coffee will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Dovilio Lombardi, 94 Jessie Lane, Petaluma as the first meeting of the fall season of the Petaluma Catholic Community Service.

Mrs. Ronald Walters, president, will announce chairmen for the group's annual tea in November for new members. She will also outline plans for a fund-raising event to benefit local children.

ASSISTANCE LEAGUE of Sonoma County members attending the national league's annual convention today through Thursday in Palm Springs are Mmes. James W. Paine, Ralph Bower, Raymond Blatt, C. Archie Brown, Frank Stashak and Robert W. Kerr. The meeting is held at El Mirador Hotel.

Michael Mathews Weds Kathryn Bernice Frakes

Kathryn Bernice Frakes of San Anselmo and Michael Goodman Mathews were married Saturday evening at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

For the ceremony Marilyn I. Rota of Napa was the maid of honor and Baron Risling of Carmichael served as best man. The usher was the bride's brother, Richard F. Frakes Jr. of San Anselmo.

A reception and dinner followed at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax. After a wedding trip to Donner Lake they will live in Hawaii at Volcanoes National Park.

Kathryn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Franklin Frakes of San Anselmo and the granddaughter of Mrs. Kathryn Spharler of San Anselmo and Mrs. Bernice Bush of San Francisco.

She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, attended College of Marin and is a graduate of Heald College of Business. She has been secretary to the director of Heald Engineering College in San Francisco.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Redding's Enterprise High School and attended Shasta Junior College. He is stationed with the Navy in Hawaii. He is the brother of Thomas M. Mathews of Redding and Mrs. Philip Roustellini of Yreka.

Milk Can Be Robbed Of Flavor

Too much light can create an off-flavor in milk, according to food and dairy scientists.

When milk is exposed to ultraviolet or flourescent light oxidation occurs, robbing the milk of vitamins and nutrition and creating a tallowy flavor.

Studies at Pennsylvania State University show that paperboard milk cartons provide the most protection against light-induced flavor and nutrition loss. The same studies show that milk is most susceptible to light-induced off flavor when it is packaged in clear or slightly opaque containers.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

LIVING TOGETHER IS THE HARD PART OF MARRIAGE DEAR HELEN:

T. J. R. said men and women were never meant to live together, and suggested that, to remain in love after marriage, mates should have separate homes and meet only when in good moods.

This proposal for "long-distance marriages" could easily have been written by my ex-wife, though I realize there are thousands like her.

These are the people who want a partner only for the good times. They can never understand the moods and thoughts of others because they are involved only with what they want.

Since my wife left, I have been seeing an analyst to get my life back in shape. He feels that in almost every case, a person with a non-involvement problem had a childhood without a real family. He or she never experienced the things that make a loving family endure through troubles as well as happiness.

To my former wife, "husband" means someone who cheats and lies. To me, the word means someone who makes special effort because he wants only his wife. "Sex" to her was what a woman uses to get things or a man. To me, it is the physical sharing of a very deep love. I could list hundreds of examples, but I think you get the pattern. We were saying the same words but not communicating the true feelings behind them.

It's ironic that in school we learn all about English usage, but we sometimes never learn the most important language of all — the communication that comes with love and caring for other people as well as ourselves. — A TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER:

It's ironic that the great white heat of physical attraction can cause temporary blindness.

You learned, through a miserable marriage and an analyst, what friends probably knew from the start — that people programmed so differently could never make it together. What I suspect you haven't learned is that when an idealist marries a somewhat bitter realist, it can bring out the worst in both of them because they read all the signals wrong: idealism becomes "weakness," realism, "selfishness."

Don't blame your "ex" overmuch — outgrowing a bad childhood isn't easy. Besides, she may be a different person — as you will be — with the right mate. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm being so frank that less honest people may hate me for it. All I ask is that they look inward before they condemn.

If we who have been married 20 years or more were truthful, I'll bet 95 per cent would say marriage has become a brother-sister thing (or considerably less!) Twenty years is too long to remain actively in love with one person. We don't grow together — we grow apart.

However, many women (myself and friends included) will never sign an amiable divorce agreement because we are 10 times better off financially and socially with the same old guy. Let him chase another woman. It gets him out of our schedules.

I know my husband has another "love." I don't blame him — or her. She is five years older than he and I, about 50, but she has always worked around men and can talk their language. She may even care for my husband, though really I can't see why. He isn't much, other than a good provider.

He has asked me for a divorce. I'll never agree. Why should I? I've got it made. So long as he doesn't bother me, and I can keep the facade of a happy home, he can have six women and I wouldn't care.

Come on, you middle-aged wives, for once in your lives be honest. Don't you often feel this way, even though you never say it? — GOT IT MADE

DEAR GIM:

Here's a prediction:

Six out of 10 reader-replies to your letter will either imply "GIM" is short for "gimme," or call you selfish, insensitive or just plain foolish.

Three out of 10 female correspondents will be after your husband's hide.

And only one in 10 will be honest enough to agree that a goodly number (by no means 95 per cent, however) of affluent wives feel as you do. And what miserable lives they must lead! — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Seminar On Maternity Care Is Set

A day-long seminar on family-centered maternity care will be held Saturday at El Rancho Tropicana, 2200 Santa Rosa Avenue, Santa Rosa, sponsored by the Sonoma County Nurses Association and Educational Childbirth organizations of Sonoma County.

The public seminar will open at 9 a.m. with a talk by Dr. Robert Bradley, author of "Husband Coached Childbirth", speaking on "Childbirth: a Family Experience." Then obstetrician Dr. Tom Brewer will discuss "Scientific Nutrition and Human Prenatal Care."

A panel will follow on hospital stay and home births, by doctors and nurses from Point Reyes Station and San Francisco.

Topics at the luncheon will be "Home Delivery—A Physician's Viewpoint," "Why Prenatal Care?" "Medical Care of the Newborn," and "What Is a Family?" Other subjects are breast-feeding, nutrition, abortion and family planning, and midwifery.

A panel discussion on "Baby's First Days" will be held at 3 p.m.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m.

Mrs. Neuman Marries In Novato

Mrs. Betty J. Neuman and Lt. Col. (Ret.) Frank J. McMenamin of San Rafael were married at Grace Lutheran Church in Novato on Saturday.

Mrs. Neuman chose as her attendant her daughter, Connie Neuman of Novato. Mike Mahacke of Sacramento served as best man.

Following a wedding trip to Southern California the couple will live in Novato.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Grace Schudeiske of Lebanan, Ore., and Adlore Marcott of Dallas, Ore. She is the sister of Goldie Marcott and Mrs. Glenn Peterson, both of Sublimity, Ore.

Colonel McMenamin is the brother of James and Eguene McMenamin and Mrs. Patrick Scheenan, all of Philadelphia, Pa.

Complaints Over Airlines Are Few

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — Like the people in the ads, airline passengers are rather contented consumers, judging from the number of complaints filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.

Only a few thousand of the approximately 170 million passengers carried each year take the trouble to contact the CAB, the federal agency concerned with non-safety matters related to flying. (The Federal Aviation Administration concentrates on safety factors.)

But the rate of complaints is rising. The latest CAB "consumer report" showed a total of 793 complaints for the month of August, an increase of 48 per cent over the 535 received in July and an increase of 12 per cent over August of the previous year.

From January through August of this year, the number of complaints totaled 5,544, compared to 4,851 for the same time last year. This was an increase of 14 per cent.

THESE FIGURES represent the number of complaints received by the CAB by letter or other means. They do not mean that the airlines were at fault in all cases, but they are indicative of trends. Many people with complaints do not bother to register them with a government agency.

Few people are even aware that their letter would be read and counted on a monthly report which is made public. For years, the CAB kept these reports to itself.

The CAB also has done little about the complaints it has received. Few complainants have been fortunate enough to receive any response; many have waited more than six months without a reply.

Meanwhile, a branch of Ralph Nader's organization has entered the void to prod the CAB into action in behalf of the flying public. The group, known as Aviation Consumer Action Project, solicits complaints from the public and then files petitions or law suits when deemed suitable.

IT IS CURRENTLY fighting a proposed CAB rule that would limit competition with the commerical airlines by charter flight organizations. It recently gained publicity by picketing a secret meeting of the International Air Transport Association in an effort to force air fares down.

The Nader group also helps consumers with such problems as lost baggage, cancelled flights and unfilled reservations. According to the latest CAB monthly report, the most frequent complaints have been delayed and cancelled flights. They totaled 1,078 from January through August.

Next most frequent complaints involve fare rates and refunds (731) and baggage problems (662). The airlines with the highest rate of complaints against them were, in order, Caribair, Alaskan Airline, Air West, Braniff, Trans World, Northeast and Ozark.

Ones with the fewest complaints per 100,000 passengers (emplanements), in order, were Aloha, Hawaiian, Southern, Delta, Frontier, American, Allegheny and Western. Others fell in between.

IF YOU WANT something done about a serious complaint against an airline, the best bet is to write to both the CAB and the Nader group, sending the original copy to one and the carbon to the other.

Bare Look In For Next Spring

Whether it's the shrink, a long, slinky dress or a sweater and long skirt, bare skin will show.

With haltertops the back gets all the show; legs get the show under the newest short dress, the smock and midriff and shoulders will be bare with long tanks or slip top dresses.

Plaza Plan Revisions To Council

A favorable report from the city engineer on a proposal by the Sausalito Recreation Commission to modify the recently-adopted park plaza plan will be presented to the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

The commission's recommendations, presented to the council in August, calls for creation of an urban plaza, with underground parking, in the area now occupied by municipal parking lot No. 1 in downtown Sausalito.

The William E. Spangle Park Plaza plan would replace most of the 180-space municipal lot with open-space park and would eliminate most parking in the area, a plan which has drawn criticism from many downtown businessmen.

City engineer Norman Wohlschlaeger, who studied the commission's suggested changes, has said underground parking in the area east of Vina Del Mar Park is both possible and desirable.

Alcohol-Sales Flap Will Get A Hearing

Operators of the cafeteria at the Marin Hall of Justice, who are fighting for a permit to sell beer and wine, will get a public hearing in December of January at Marin Civic Center.

Stanley J. Pierce of Santa Rosa, district administrator for the department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, said the date for the hearing has not been scheduled, but it will be late this year or early next year.

Those who formally protested the application last summer will be notified to appear at the appeal hearing. Others who want to testify must write to Pierce at the department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, 1739 Fourth Street, Santa Rosa, 95404, and inform him that they want to be witnesses.

Last June, the Marin County Board of Supervisors voted 4 to 1 to support the Civic Center Caterers' request for a beer and wine license. Chairman Louis H. Baar was the lone dissenter.

Last month, the ABC rejected the request on grounds that liquor should not be sold in a public building, close to courts, the county jail and the county library.

Civic Center Caterers decided to appeal, and got the same 4 to 1 support from the county supervisors on Oct. 5.

Minibuses Start Los Angeles Loop

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Minbuses fueled by natural gas begin threading through the traffic congestion of downtown today in a bid to lure carminded citizens to public transit and cut down on smog.

For a dime, patrons can ride a route looping through the civic center complex of government offices and around the new high rise buildings that have brought more commuters into the core area.

Consultant For Airport Plan Sought

The Marin County Public Works Department is looking for a consulting firm to draw up a master plan for Gnoss Field, the county airport north of Novato.

Public Works Director Ray W. Foreaker Jr. announced said interested firms should submit their qualifications to his office at the Civic Center by Oct. 27.

A selection committee will review the qualifications, conduct interviews, and make recommendations to the board of supervisors, which will make the final selection.

The study, estimated to cost $15,000, will provide information on the adequacy of the present runway system, the need for a cross runway, and what the ultimate development should be. Federal funds will pay for two-thirds of the $15,000 cost.

Love and war live side by side in the history of man. A world of sad and often cruel contrasts. We ask "Why?" Why poverty in a land of plenty? Why alienation when we are all born to the same family of man? The aching chasm between the real and the ideal everywhere provokes the question...

WHY?

In a world looking for answers
maybe God is the place to start.
God is hope. God is now.

'Cycle Accident Injures Youth

A 17-year-old Corte Madera youth has been treated at Marin General Hospital for injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident in Larkspur.

A hospital spokesman said Randy Mehl of 23 Echo Avenue was treated Saturday for multiple cuts and bruises and a gash on his right leg following the 12:15 p.m. accident.

Larkspur police said young Mehl was riding his motorcycle in the Larkspur-Corte Madera School parking lot when he apparently lost control.

Officers said the bike skidded on its side for a short distance with Mehl beneath it.

Murtaugh Ponders Future While Pirates Celebrate

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, world champions because they refused to quit, celebrated their stunning comeback victory in the World Series today with their chief concern whether Manager Danny Murtaugh will decide to retire.

"I'll make up my mind in three or four weeks," promised the 54-year-old Irishman who also piloted the Pirates to their last world championship in 1960 and at one time in between retired briefly because of a heart condition.

Murtaugh, "Most Valuable Player" Roberto Clemente, and pitcher Steve Blass were the chief Pirate heroes in the wake of their 2-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles in Sunday's seventh game of the World Series.

And a happy debate was underway among Pirate fans, probably to last all winter, as to whether or not Clemente should have been voted —as he was — the MVP award and the car that goes with it over the fireballing Blass.

"Clemente did it all," said Blass.

"Without Blass, they wouldn't have won it and we'd be the ones popping champagne," said beaten Orioles Manager Earl Weaver.

There's no denying these two were the stars of the final game —Clemente for his fourth-inning home run that broke the scoring ice and put Blass in the driver's seat, and Blass for his four-hit pitching that was just a shade less effective than his three-hit shutout pitching that won the third game last Tuesday just when the Orioles were threatening to sweep the Series.

Clemente's homer off losing pitcher Mike Cuellar was the only score in the game until the eighth inning when Willie Stargell singled and Jose Pagan

SAN MARIN FALLS

Terra Linda Victory

By RON LENT

"I was deeply disappointed; I didn't think we'd be this flat," Terra Linda High School football coach Don Lucas said after his Trojans whitewashed San Marin, 14-0, at San Rafael High Saturday night.

An enthusiastic, albeit half-frozen throng, braved the elements to witness a sterling Trojan defensive performance. "We contained well," Lucas admitted, "but we had a poor pass rush."

Such could be the case, but the Blue and Gold, 4-1, dominated the crisp hitting fray throughout. Mentors Lucas and Bob Martin of San Marin vowed beforehand that this would be a hard hitting contest; it was.

When the dust and defenses had cleared, Terra Linda secured the victory honors, thanks to a pair of Kevin Donohoe touchdown passes. The first one, coming in the opening period was a seven-yarder to split end, nee halfback, Mike Sabel. His reception with the game only a minute and 25 seconds old indicated that it was going to be a high scoring affair. However, such was not the case as the young Mustangs staved off each Terra Linda offense until surrendering a 31-yard touchdown pass to Sean Casey with 9:54 remaining in the game.

49ERS 13, BEARS 0

Defense Wins The Game

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Have the pro football defenses caught up with the offenses?

That question was put to Coach Dick Nolan Sunday after his San Francisco 49ers shut out the Chicago Bears, 13-0.

"They may have," said Nolan, a student of defensive football. "Looking at the scores this season it sure seems that way. These things run in cycles and for a lot of years now it's (pro football) been a pretty offensive game."

Nolan, however, didn't mean that the opposing defenses necessarily have caught up to the 49ers' offense.

"We have a lot better offense than we've shown in the last two games," Nolan said. "Our problem has been turnovers and penalties. We've stopped ourselves more in the last two games than the other guys have."

The 49ers gave up the ball three times on fumbles Sunday and twice more on interceptions. In addition, they were flagged for 69 yards in penalties, most of the time, when they had the ball.

"We can't continue to give up the ball that many times and not pay the price," Nolan said. "Last week we paid for our sins dearly."

Nolan was referring to a 20-13 loss to the Los Angeles Rams, a game in which San Francisco handed the opposition two scores on turnovers.

The 49er defensive unit was near perfect against Chicago, holding the Bears to 62 yards rushing and 158 passing. The Bears had only three legitimate chances to score and failed all three times.

Mac Percival missed on field goal tries of 37 and 32 yards and Bruce Taylor picked off a Kent Nix pass on the San Francisco to stop the three drives.

The San Francisco defense also recovered two Chicago fumbles and intercepted four passes—three of Nix and one off Bobby Douglas.

"I'm not really sure but I think that was our best defensive game since I've been coach," said Nolan.

It was the first shutout for the 49ers since they whitewashed the Los Angeles Rams, 35-0, way back in 1961.

Gene Washington, double-teamed throughout, made a circus catch of a 12-yard pass from John Brodie between two Chicago defenders for the game's only touchdown and Bruce Gossett booted field goals of nine and 15 yards to account for all the scoring. Brodie didn't have a very good day even though he hit on 20 of 35 passes for 213 yards. He missed receivers in the clear at least a half dozen times, twice with over throws into the end zone.

BIG DAY FOR WILKINSON

Drake Triumphs Over Tamalpais

"It shouldn't have been that tough," Drake High School football coach Bob Franceschini mused after his Pirates rallied to defeat Tamalpais High, 25-13 Saturday at College of Marin field in Kentfield.

A 19-point Pirate fourth quarter, which featured two of halfback Phil Wilkinson's scoring runs, proved to be the difference.

"We're making progress," he added. "If we just cut down on our fumbles and mistakes, we'll be tough," the Drake mentor warned.

"We have the defense," he continued, "we've just got to learn to hang onto the ball."

Though he was a bit disappointed by the Pirate bobbles, Franceschini had many accolades for the defensive play of linebackers Rick Bozzio and Tom Perry, plus tackle Don Seward. "Perry always plays well," Franceschini smailed.

The white clad Tam men now 0-5 led the contest for 36 minutes and 59 seconds before Pirate quarterback Mike Symonds climaxed a 70-yard drive with a plunge from the one.

The speedy runner promptly ripped off scoring runs of 35 and 82 yards in the final eight minutes to ice the game.

Despite the classy dashing of the ever-improving Pirates, 2-3, the big play of the game involved an apparent Indian interception. With the Green and White driving methodically down field in the waning moments of the third perior, trailing 7-6 Symonds attempted to cross up the young Tam defense with a pass; but he threw a strike into linebacker

It's Lamonica To The Rescue In Raiders' Win Over Eagles

OAKLAND (UPI) —Like the legendary gridiron hero, sorelegged Daryle Lamonica came off the bench to start the second half and ignite the Oakland Raiders to another comeback victory.

Nursing a hamstring pull suffered last week against Denver, the veteran quarterback took over for ineffective Ken Stabler and flipped two touchdown passes. The Raiders needed only 4-and-a-half-minutes to score four touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters to turn back the pesky Philadelphia Eagles 34-10.

A record Oakland Coliseum crowd of 54,615 sat in glum silence as second-year quarterback Rick Arrington flipped a seven-yard touchdown pass to Tom Woodeschick, and Happy Feller booted a 31-yard field goal to give the Eagles a 10-0 halftime lead.

But Lamonica, with the aid of record-busting Fred Biletnikoff and safety George Atkinson, quickly turned the game around to bring Oakland its fourth American Football Conference victory in five starts. Philadelphia tumbled to its fifth straight defeat.

"Going out the ramp to start the second half, I asked Lamonica if he was ready," said Raiders coach John Madden. "He said 'sure,' so I told him to get in there and he really turned this thing around.

"It was another slow start. We really don't plan it this way. All week I kept saying Philadelphia is a tough team. Maybe now people will believe me."

It took Lamonica only 3:18

Seals Win Off The Ice; Lose On It

OAKLAND (UPI) — The California Seals won some and lost some over the weekend.

They lost 4-2 to the Pittsburgh Penguins Sunday night but gained some Chicago Black Hawk players and got to keep Gerry Pinder and Kerry Bond.

Seals general manager Garry Young said the deal with the Hawks Sunday was "very good."

"We are satisfied with the outcome of the trade," he said.

The deal settled a protested trade made earlier which brought goalie Gary Smith to the Black Hawks for Gerry Desjardins.

California protested the trade to National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell who put the matter to arbitration.

Arbitration hearings were held but the decision wiped out the need for an official ruling.

In the trade, the Hawks kept Smith but got Desjardins back and sent defenseman Paul Shmyr and rookie Jilles Meloche to the Seals.

Pinder and Bond came to the Seals along with Desjardins in the deal for Smith. They get to stay.

Although the decision may have satisfied Young, Sunday night's game certainly didn't.

DESPITE A BLACK FLAG

Revson Wins Grand Prix

MONTEREY, Calif. (UPI)— Peter Revson ignored a black flag signal telling him to move his smoking McLaren car to the pits Sunday and drove on to victory in the 171-mile Monterey-Castrol Grand Prix at Laguna Seca.

Since the New Yorker failed to heed the flag on the final two laps, there was a long meeting of race stewards before he was declared the winner. He was fined $250, however.

The black flag was an order to take to the pits the next time around for an examination of his smoky engine which officials feared might burst into flames. It didn't.

Officials had greeted Jackie Stewart in his Lola at the finish with the traditional checkered flag of the winner, but after the conference the long-haired Scot had to settle for second place.

Revson, who started in the pole position, averaged 109.154 miles an hour over the 91 laps and became the first American to win an individual championship in the 10-race Canadian-American Challenge Cup Series. It was his fifth victory in nine Can-Am races this year and there is just one more to go.

He and his partner, Denis Hulme, already had wrapped up the team championship for McLaren by taking six of the earlier Can-Am races.

A crowd of 43,850 watched on the picturesque course as Revson's time bettered the average of 106.071 set last year by Hulme, who finished third this time.

There was one accident on the 1.9-mile, nine-turn course. A Lola driven by Dave Causey of Carmel, Ind., went out of control, left the ground and crashed into the spectator area. Causey jumped clear of the wreckage and was not hurt although two women were cut slightly by flying debris. The Lola came to rest near a parked car.

The race was organized by the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula, a non-profit organization benefiting 43 charities and civic projects in the area.

Race officials awarded the Datson the 2.5 liter challenge manufacturers series which was run Saturday by upholding a protest lodged against winner Horst Kwech who was driving an Alfa.

John Morton, who finished second, asserted Kwech had a fuel tank larger than the allowable 15 gallons.

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It has been said that if the San Francisco 49ers had one weakness this year it was a lack of depth in the defensive secondary. The 49ers disproved that yesterday.

With free safety Roosevelt Taylor out of the entire game against the Chicago Bears with a pinched nerve in his right shoulder, and strong side safety Mel Phillips knocked out of action in the first quarter with a hurt ankle, it was up to the defensive reserves.

They came through in the persons of four-year man Johnny Fuller and second-year man Mike Simpson who did their share in shutting out the Bears in that 13-0 defensive show yesterday at Candlestick Park.

Like all defensive professional football games, it was a ho-hummer, a game of boredom. There were more turnovers in the game than in a French bakery. If you're one of those kind that count such things, there was a total of 11, six by the inept Bears and five by the 49ers. The Bears gave up four intercepted passes and two fumbles. It seemed nobody wanted the ball at times. You started getting the feeling the teams were playing with greasy kid stuff all over their hands.

To show no favoritism, the four 49er defensive backs — Fuller, Simpson and cornerbacks Bruce Taylor and Jimmy Johnson — each had one interception.

A couple of times Bruce Taylor got up slowly and one time he was even limping. Gads, I thought. Who to go in? There was still rookie Tonny Harris, but Taylor gutted it out. But he did look mighty tired when the game was finally over.

What a great start for football yesterday in chilly, windy Candlestick. Tennessee Ernie Ford did a great job with the national anthem, and then hundreds of red, white and blue balloons came bubbling out of the visiting side baseball dugout.

The opening kickoff was back to the end zone for a touchback and the 49ers had the ball, first and 10. Great. First play of the game and there's John Brodie back to pass. He lets go and speedy Vic Washington has the ball on the Bears' 41 but he's hit hard and the ball rolls loose for a fumble, the Bears recover. It can't be, I say to myself, another one of THOSE games. But the 49ers kept their cool, thank goodness.

Although the 44,133 fans in the park gave the Niners' defensive team loud cheers time and again, it didn't take them too long before they were booing the National Football League's most valuable player. Those familiar boos of the lean Kezar days were loud and clear after Brodie's second pass interception.

But in all fairness, Brodie's 20 completions in 35 tries and 213 yards was much better than Bear Kent Nix's 13 for 38 and 148 yards. The Bears can have their Nix, I'll take Brodie, thank you.

Things really looked bad for Brodie when he had fullback Larry Schreiber all alone in the end zone and missed the target by a good 15 yards in the fourth quarter 11 yards from the goal line. The very next play he made up for it by hitting Gene Washington in the end zone for the game's only touchdown. There were two earlier field goals by Bruce Gossett, nine and 15 yarders, but for football fans, a field goal is a boring weapon unless it wins a game in the last seconds. So to say the fans were starving for some offensive excitement when Washington made that leaping catch for the score almost 50 minutes into the game would be understating the case.

But a shutout! The fans who go to watch the defense had a treat. After all, the last time a 49er team had a shutout was back in 1961 when guys like Cedric Hardman were 13 years old.

Martin also extended kudos to quarterback Hoza Wright, a fast-developing sophomore, for "playing well under strong pressure. Our offense didn't generate as much as expected but. . ."

The former Terra Linda assistant coach's charges repeatedly invaded Trojan terrain, but they were unable to capitalize. In the first quarter, the visitors marched 50 yards to the Trojan 15 before surrendering the ball on downs. Three Wright aerials fell incomplete on sequences from the 15.

San Marin journeyed to the Trojan 39 in the second period before the host defense stiffened. The Mustangs ventured inside the Trojan 40 once in each of the final two quarters.

However, the Lucas defenders, aroused after last Saturday's 16-13 loss to host Novato High, kept the San Marin team at bay.

"It was a helluva game," Lucas told Martin as the two shook hands following the final gun.

Pirates Celebrate World Series Win

doubled to score Stargell and make it 2-0.

In the last of the eighth, the Orioles staged their only rally when Elrod Hendricks and Mark Belanger singled and Tom Shopay moved them along with a sacrifice. Hendricks scored as Don Buford grounded out, but Blass retired Dave Johnson on a grounder as Belanger raced home in vain.

Then Blass blew the Orioles down 1-2-3 in the ninth inning on just eight pitches —and the Pirates had completed one of the most amazing comebacks in Series history.

If ever a team seemed headed for defeat, it was the Pirates after they lost the first two games of the Series here, 5-1 and a humiliating 11-3.

"We still can win four games," declared Murtaugh then. "In fact, we're capable of winning four in a row."

The Pirates came close to doing that, sweeping three games at home and then losing Saturday's game here, 3-2, before winning Sunday. They

The Pirates came close to doing that, sweeping three games at home and then losing Saturday's game here, 3-2, before winning Sunday. They were the fifth team in Series history to win the championship after losing the first two games.

The Pirates were supposed to have little pitching —they didn't have a single 20-game winner, while the Orioles were the first team in 51 years to have four of 'em. But in the end, it was Pirate pitching that did the Orioles in —holding them to eight runs and 21 hits in the last five games.

"First of all," he said in the delirious Pirate dressing room, "I want to say I'm proud to be a member of this no-20-game winner pitching staff."

Marin head coach Bruno Banducci mourned the loss of his "big gun," saying that Parnow has scored 10 of the team's touchdowns this year, and was "as good as any back in the county. I wouldn't trade him for anyone," and Banducci.

A bad center snap in a punting situation with 27 seconds to go in the half set up the Wildcat score, which came on an 11-yard option pass four plays later. The Marin mentor explained the pass was "always in the list of plays for a game," but has been used infrequently up until now. He said it forces the defensive back to make a decision about covering for a run or a pass, leaving an option open for the halfback, in this case Cozza.

Banducci, a former San Francisco 49er great, was enthusiastic over his defensive unit's play. "They deserve the credit for the win. After all, you can't lose when holding your opponent scoreless!"

He cited seniors Steve Vanni, Jim Filippi, and John Iavarone as really outstanding in rushing Healdsburg Hound quarterback Dave Borowicz. The opposing signal caller completed only one pass out of 15 tries.

Banducci also lauded reserve lineman Tom Collins for coming off the bench and "sacking their quarterback several times."

Strong-armed Steve Sherry connected on eight of 19 for the Wildcats, and missed on a possible fourth quarter touchdown when his wide open receiver couldn't handle a 50-yard bomb.

and six plays to bring the Raiders their first TD at the start of the second half when he connected with Biletnikoff on a 35-yard end zone pass. George Blanda's point-after kick was blocked by Ernie Calloway to end Blanda's consecutive PAT boots at 201, second best in pro football.

With time running out in the third period, Lamonica again hit Biletnikoff on a 46-yard sideline pattern to the Eagles 10 and Pete Banaszak lugged the ball into the end zone from the two.

On the first play from scrimmage after the ensuing kickoff, Atkinson picked off a Pete Liske pass at the Eagles 22. Lamonica then lofted a pass to Eldridge Dickey and the wide receiver zigged and zagged around three tacklers while winding his way 27 yards into the end zone.

Fifteen seconds later on the ensuing kickoff, Atkinson picked up a fumble and sprinted 26 yards to up the Raiders lead to 27-10. It took the Raiders only 1:19 to score the Banaszak, Dickey and Atkinson TDs.

Cal State Dumps Sonoma Staters

Sonoma State College's footballers were trounced, 42-21 Saturday in Santa Rosa by Cal State of Hayward.

Mike Jacinto paced the winners with two touchdown passes, while his Sonoma quarterbacking counterpart Ernie Simon fired three. Simon's productions went to Greg Akula, 36 yards, Charles Porter, 7 yards, and Jack Trujillo, 29 yards. The latter has now snagged five touchdown tosses, four less than he scored all last year.

The visitors broke the game open in the first quarter when Earl Glaude returned an errant Cossack field goal attempt 95 yards for the points which put Hayward ahead to stay.

Tim Nowell's surprised hands. The quick reacting defender returned the errant aerial some 30 yards, however, Nowell was called for pass interference.

With this reprieve, the Pirates picked up the remaining 23 yards for the go-ahead points.

The hosts quickly regained possession when Tom MacAusland pilfered a Pat Locey pass, lugging it nine yards to the Tam 26; a play later, Wilkinson motored the final 35 yards, 19-7 Drake.

The visitors paraded some 63 yards after the ensuing kickoff, but a fourth down Locey to Greg Biber toss fell short. In the second quarter, they collaborated on a 32-yard scoring pass. The Pirates then punched the ball out to the 18, setting the stage for Wilkinson's 82-yarder.

The speedy back boomed into the line. After the expected crash failed to materialize, Wilkinson sprinted the remaining 80 yards untouched.

After the battle, Indian coach Mike Davlin praised Locey for his passing and Biber played well too. Middle guard (Bob) Brewster also stood out.

"Our tackling just broke down," Davlin explained later.

Four Victories In Jr. Hockey

The Northern California Junior Hockey Association completed a full slate of weekend contests Sunday.

Marin downed visiting Belmont 2-1 in Squirts play; the Marin Pee Wees trimmed the host San Francisco team 6-4; and the Marin Bantams whitewashed the visiting Sun Valley team 6-0. John Rotar registered his first shutout in the latter tilt.

In Saturday play: the Marin bantams beat the host Hayward delegation 5-1 and the Marin mites lost 7-1 to Eastridge on the winner's San Jose ice.

Warriors Lose To The Bullets

Wes Unseld held the Warriors' high scoring Nate Thurmond to just nine points Saturday as his Baltimore Bullets dumped the West Coast club, 109-93.

NFL ROUNDUP

Manning Leads Saints In Stunner Over Dallas

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Archie Manning is slowly replacing jazz as New Orleans' most exciting entertainment.

The rookie quarterback from Mississippi engineered his second major upset of the National Football League season Sunday when he ran for two touchdowns and passed for another to pace the Saints to a 24-14 victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

Manning, whose touchdown with one second left gave the Saints an upset victory over the Los Angeles Rams in the season opener, scored on runs of 15 and three yards and passed 29 yards to Tony Baker for another score before a crowd of 83,088 which watched in near Pandemonium.

The Saints, who led 17-0 at the half, almost let the game get away from them as the Cowboys rallied behind the passing of Roger Staubach to draw within three points early in the final period.

But the cowboys' offense stalled midway through the final quarter and manning wrapped up the game for New Orleans by scoring on a three-yard run with only 47 seconds left after Dave Kopay recovered a Dallas fumble on the Cowboys' three-yard line.

In other action, Washington ran its record to 5-0 by blanking St. Louis, 20-0; Cleveland squeezed by Cincinnati, 27-24; Detroit walloped Houston, 31-7; Minnesota defeated Green Bay, 24-13; Oakland Beat Philadelphia, 34-10; Baltimore routed the Giants, 31-7; and the Jets whipped Buffalo, 28-17.

Also, Los Angeles defeated Atlanta, 24-16; San Francisco blanked Chicago, 13-0; Miami crushed New England, 41-3; and Denver nipped San Diego, 20-16. Pittsburgh is at Kansas City in tonight's nationally televised contest.

Jack Pardee intercepted three passes and Larry Brown rushed for 150 yards as Washington remained the lone undefeated-untied team in pro football. The Redskins intercepted four passes and recovered three fumbles in defeating the cardinals for the second time this season.

Bo Scott scored three touchdowns, including the decisive one with 39 seconds remaining on a four-yard run, to spark Cleveland's victory over ex-coach Paul Brown's Bengals. The Browns marched 48 yards on their final to drive with Scott bursting off tackle for the final four.

Steve Owens scored two touchdowns and Lem Barney scored on a 28-yard run with a pass interception as Detroit blitzed Houston. The Lions also got a 35-yard scoring pass from Greg Landry in handing the Oilers their fourth loss.

Alan Page blocked an attempted extra point and set up a touchdown with a fumble recovery in sparking Minnesota to its victory over Green Bay. Gary Cuozzo paced the Vikings' offense with three touchdown passes.

Norm Bulaich scored on a 34-yard run and a 27-yard pass from Earl Morrall in pacing the Colts to victory over the Giants. Bob David passed for two touchdowns as the Jets handed the Bills their fifth successive loss and Roman Gabriel scored the decisive touchdown with 4:50 to play in Los Angeles' come-from-behind victory over Atlanta.

Bob Griese passed for four touchdowns in Miami's rout of New England and Floyd Little shook off an injury to score the decisive touchdown in Denver's upset of San Diego.

Tomales '11' Crushes Foes, 33-6

Tomales High School downed St. Vincent's of Petaluma, 33-6 Saturday on the winner's field.

Quarterback Jim Joyce ran for one touchdown and threw for two more in sparking the Braves' homecoming triumph. His pair of six point strikes to end Bruce Pickering covered eight and 42 yards.

Halfback Spirto Ballatore contributed the other two tallies on runs of 10 and 11 yards, while the Braves evened the log at 2-2-1.

Three Shutouts In Youth Soccer

Dynamos downed the Rangers, 2-0; Kickers whitewashed Rovers, 3-0; Internationals whipped Hotspurs, 1-0; and United decisioned the Celtics, 2-1 in Marin Youth Soccer Association play Saturday at Ross Common.

In another game, the Vikings of Ross topped the Mill Valley All Stars, 4-1 Friday in the first reported inter-city youth soccer game in Marin County. Mark Dayton scored all four Ross goals.

Stanford Powers To Easy Victory

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Stanford's new power-I formation spelled Insult to USC football coach John McKay.

"Stanford used the power-I formation and ran it down our throats and made us like it," said McKay after the Indians handily disposed of the Trojans 33-18 Satuday night to solidify their hold on first place in the Pacific-8 Conference.

Coach John Ralston of Stanford admitted the power-I was the new wrinkle the Indians worked on behind closed gates during last week's practice sessions.

"That power-I offense is new to us," said Ralston. "IT was something I had learned from McKay who used to use it."

Despite wins over top challengers USC, Oregon and Washington, Ralston figures the Indians might have some prickly moments heading into the second half of the season before nailing down the conference title and a second straight trip to the Rose Bowl.

"It's far too early for us to start thinking of the Rose Bowl," said Ralston. "We've only gone halfway. We have to take advantage of playing four of our last five games at home."

Things didn't look too difficult for the Indians Saturday night as they piled up 393 yards to 254 for the Trojans. That dropped USC to 0-2 in the Pac-8 and 2-4 overall.

In other Pacific-8 games, Oregon turned back Washington 23-21 and California edged Washington State 24-23. Against non-conference foes, Oregon State ended Arizona State's 21game victory streak with a 2418 victory and UCLA overpowered Arizona 28-12.

In the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, Long Beach State drubbed Los Angeles State 36-7, San Diego State edged UC Santa Barbara 27-23 and Fresno State defeated Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo 13-10. In nonconference action, San Jose State blew a 21-7 lead and was tied 21-21 by New Mexico, and Idaho handed University of Pacific its sixth straight loss this season 13-12.

Bob Lutz Wins Pro Tennis Tour Round

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

COLOGNE, Germany — Bob Lutz of Tiburon today won the 17th round of the world professional tennis tour on a 6-3, 6-7, 6-3, 6-2 victory over fellow-American Jeff Borowiak of Lafayette in the final.

Lutz scored heavily with his booming serves which frequently threw 22, out of his rhythm.

The victory earned Lutz $10,000 dollars while Borowiak received $5,000 dollars as the beaten finalist.

Auto Racing

DELAWARE — What could have been a disaster for Richard Petty turned into his 18th victory of the NASCAR season.

Petty had his 1971 Plymouth spin into the pit wall with 29 miles to go in Sunday's Delaware 500 at Dover Downs. He was well behind leader Bobby Allison but Allison was forced to make a four-minute pit stop to change a broken hubstub and Petty charged into the lead.

Petty averaged better than 123 miles per hour, a 500 record, to beat Charlie Glotzbach by 11 seconds. Allison came back to finish third.

Golf

PINEHURST, N.D. — Sam Snead ran away from the pack with a tree-under-par 69 Sunday to take home $15,000 and the National Club Professional Championship.

Snead, the winningest pro in American golf history, birdied six holes on his way to a five-stroke win over Jerry Steelsmith of Syracuse, N.Y., and Ron Letellier of Manhasset, N.Y., who tied for second.

The 59-year-old Snead from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., had a 72-hole total of 275, eleven-under par, to 280 totals for Steelsmith and Letellier.

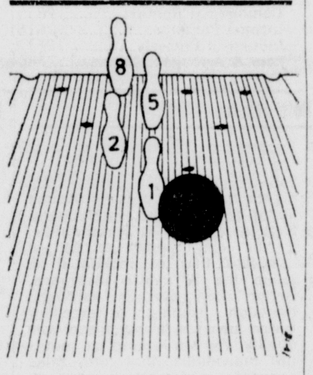
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Fortunately the 1-2-5-8 spare shot isn't one we have to make frequently, but it does come up once in a while. Your best shot is your strike ball, which means you must resist the urge to let the ball go to the left and cover the 1-2 pins. A ball in the "1-3" pocket (even though the 3-pin isn't there) should clear the deck.

- Replace linings and shoes on all 4 wheels with new Firestone linings.
- Adjust brakes for full drum contact.
- Inspect drums, hydraulic system, return springs and grease seals.

GUARANTEED 30,000 MILES OR 3 YEARS
We guarantee our brake lining for the specified number of miles or years from date of installation, whichever comes first. Adjustments prorated on mileage and based on prices current at time of adjustment.

HOW TO WATCH YOUR PROPERTY GO DOWN THE DRAIN

Just be a do-it-yourselfer.

If you don't have the know-how, profits could drain away without your knowing it.

A better idea is to put your property in the hands of one of our experts who specializes in property management.

We're Realtors; professionals who'll see that your property is operated in an efficient manner. And all the time you'll know we're working in your best interests, because we're pledged to a strict code of ethics.

Keep us in mind when you have property to manage.

WHAT A REALTOR CAN DO FOR YOU

Many, many things — whether you are a buyer or seller. For instance, a realtor will advise you about locations and give you expert advice on complex matters of maintenance, taxes, quality of construction, adequacy of public services.

Fund Help To Be Sought For Flooding

The advisory board of the Ross Valley Flood Control Zone will ask Marin County supervisors tomorrow for help in getting federal aid to solve flooding problems at Ross Commons.

Edward W. Colthurst, board chairman, said the Army Corps of Engineers has rejected all pleas for help on grounds that flooding in Ross Commons is a local problem and not connected with the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project.

Colthurst will ask the supervisors to write Congress for help.

This item is expected to go before the supervisors between 11 a.m. and 12 noon.

The supervisors' all-day meeting will begin at 9 a.m. tomorrow with a joint session with the Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission in Room 332.

At 10:30 a.m. the supervisors will reconvene in chambers for the rest of the agenda.

Other topics to be discussed include:

GRIEVANCES — The county personnel commission will recommend that four county employees who suffered salary losses because of reclassifications be restored to their previous positions.

FAIRGROUNDS — The county administrator will recommend that a policy be set on future use of the Civic Center fairgrounds by such groups as the Marin Civic Ballet.

FIREHOUSE — Revised plans will be presented for the proposed Marin City firehouse in an effort to cut costs.

SEPTIC TANK — A revised draft of the county's new septic tank ordinance will get a public hearing.

AGRICULTURAL PRESERVE — Assessor Bert W. Broemmel will recommend that agricultural preserve contracts be rescinded for 38 parcels of property, each with less than 100 acres.

SEASHORE — The county parks and recreation commission will present a resolution asking for protection of Point Reyes National Seashore natural assets while the National Park Service completes its master plan.

Only 80 Trees Are Involved

Donald Rolph, Marin County park planner, says that a Novato Civic Foundation grove at Stafford Lake Park contained 80 trees and not 250 when the county moved onto the site and that the county did not bulldoze any of the trees.

In a picture caption Friday, the Independent-Journal reported that 250 trees were in the grove when the county began developing the park.

Overseas Toll Dialing Step Closer

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. has taken the first step toward direct overseas dialing by setting up a toll center in which operators place customer calls directly to six select countries.

More than 2,000 operators in the 14 telephone long distance offices in the Bay Area, including San Rafael, have been trained for the new service. Customer calls are place directly to Australia, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Japan and Great Britain, according to Jack Eddy, district manager.

Wilma Dudley, traffic staff assistant, said an operator handling the overseas calls may have to dial as many as 17 digits, including a six-digit access code for each country, a ring-forward code which automatically brings in a language assistance operator when necessary, a three-digit prefix number and a four-digit line number.

Overseas calling, according to Eddy, will eventually be carried a step further by a system called International Direct Distance Dialing.

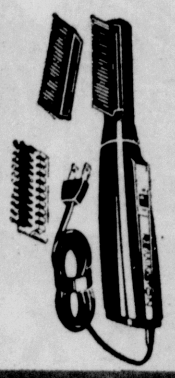
ELECTRIC REMINGTON®
HOTCOMB


Now you can CONTROL your hair . . . not just comb it. Put down cowlicks . . . jutout hair . . . unwanted waves in seconds. Electrically heated air from combblower "trains" your hair to stay where you want it. Lightweight power wand with two snap-in combs and brush is easy to use. You'll depend on your HOTCOMB dryer/styler from REMINGTON for the "always well groomed" look.
